REVENUE DEPARTMENT,—(FORESTS).

NOTIFICATION—No. 1737For.

The 3rd May, 1892.—In continuation of the notification, dated the 9th April, 1891, published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 15th idem, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to notify that the following rules made under section 75(d) of the Indian Forest Act, VII of 1878, for the prevention of fires, are in force in the district of Palámau in the Chota Nagpur Division. The season during which these rules will hold good will be from the 1st January to the 1st July in each year:—

1. Any person living in the vicinity of a Government Forest Reserve, or occupying or using land in such vicinity, and desirous of clearing by fire any standing forest or grass land near that Reserve, in a locality from which such fire would be likely to endanger the Reserve, shall observe the following rules:—

(1)—He shall give notice of at least one week to the nearest Forest Officer, ranger, or forester of his intention.

(2)—He shall clear a belt of land at least 20 feet broad on the side of the land which he proposes to burn nearest to the Forest Reserve.

(3)—He shall choose for such burning a day or time when a high wind is not blowing.

(4)—He shall light the fire in a direction contrary to the prevailing wind.

2. Any such person desirous of burning, on land adjoining a Forest Reserve, wood, grass, weeds, or other cut material, shall collect that material into heaps, and burn it separately in such a way that the fire may not endanger the Forest Reserve.

3. Any person collecting inflammable forest produce, such as grass and bamboos, on land adjoining a Forest Reserve, and any holder of a permit to collect such materials from the Forest Reserve, shall stack the materials so collected in an open space as far removed as possible from the forest.

4. All persons travelling on roads passing through or along the boundary of a Forest Reserve shall camp only at such places as may be cleared and set apart for the purpose of camping-grounds by the Forest Officer, who shall yearly publish a list of such grounds in the vicinity of the Reserve. Camping at other localities than those so sent apart is forbidden; and all persons so camping shall light any fires they may make for cooking or other purposes in such a way as not to endanger the Forest Reserve, or the buildings or property on the camping-ground, and they shall extinguish all such fires before leaving the camping ground.

5. The carriage of burning wood, fire-brands, or torches, through or along the boundary of any reserved forest, is prohibited.

C. E. BUCKLAND,
Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

H. H. RISLEY,
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

NOTIFICATION No. 1315.

The 30th April, 1892.—In exercise of the power conferred by clause (1) of section 18 of the Indian Factories Act, 1881, as amended by section 16 of Act XI of 1891, and after due publication, and consideration as required by clause (4) of the same section, the Lieutenant-Governor has been pleased to make the following rules :—

1. The terms factory, child employed, and certifying Surgeon, when used in these rules or in any supplementary rules that may hereafter be made under the Act, shall have the meaning given to them in the Act. Inspector means the Magistrate of the district or an Inspector, hereinafter termed the Special Inspector, appointed within certain local limits by the Lieutenant-Governor under section 3 of Act XV of 1881. Occupier means the Manager, and includes the person for the time being actually in charge of a factory.

2. Every Inspector who is not himself the Magistrate of the district shall, in respect of the factories in any district, be officially subordinate to the Magistrate of the district, and in Calcutta to the Commissioner of Police.

3. Every Magistrate of a district and in Calcutta the Commissioner of Police shall keep a register of all the factories within his jurisdiction in the form A attached to these rules, and shall furnish a copy thereof to the Special Inspector.

4. Any Inspector may at any time send through the post, under registered cover, a notice to the occupier of any factory within his jurisdiction, not already entered on his register of factories, intimating his intention of placing such factory upon his register.

5. Any person served with a notice under rule 4, whose premises do not fall within the definition of a factory given in the Act, may, within 30 days of the receipt of such notice, forward to the Inspector from whom he has received such notice a statement setting forth his objections to the registration of his premises as a factory. The Inspector shall consider and dispose of such objection after making such enquiry as he may deem necessary, and shall make up his register of factories in accordance with the provisions of the Act.

6. When any premises cease to be occupied as a factory, the occupier may give notice of the fact to the Magistrate of the District and in Calcutta to the Commissioner of Police, who shall, if satisfied that the Act is no longer applicable to such premises, remove them from his register of factories. The Magistrate of the District or in Calcutta the Commissioner of Police may, without such notice, of his own motion, at any time, remove any factory from his register if satisfied that it is no longer used as such.

7. Before the fence or guard of any part of the machinery is removed, the machinery protected by it shall be stopped, and the fence or guard shall be replaced before the machinery is again set in motion.

8. The occupier of a factory shall cause a sufficient supply of good water to be kept at a suitable place or places on the factory premises for the use of the operatives. A tap or taps connected with any public water-works, from which a sufficient quantity of water can at all times be drawn as required, shall be deemed a sufficient supply for the purpose of this rule. When the operatives cannot leave their places, the occupier shall cause the water to be carried to them as required or at reasonable intervals.

9. Every factory shall be provided with sufficient accommodation in respect of latrines and urinals, which shall be kept in a cleanly state. The accommodation for male and female operatives shall be separate.

10. Every factory shall be kept in a clean state and free from effluvia arising from any drain, privy, or other nuisance. All refuse likely to be injurious to health shall be removed with as little delay as possible.

11. Every factory shall be ventilated in such manner as to render harmless, as far as is practicable, the gases, vapours, dust, or other impurities generated in the course of the processes carried on therein that may be injurious to health.

12. All the inside walls of the rooms of a factory, and all the ceilings or tops of such rooms, and all the passages and staircases shall be lime-washed at least once in two years, dating from the time of last lime-washing.

13. All the beams, rafters, doors and other wood-work shall be painted or varnished once in six years, and shall be kept in a cleanly state.

14. A factory shall not be so overcrowded while work is carried on therein as to be injurious to the health of the persons employed therein.

15. An Inspector shall be competent to pass in respect of any factory such orders as he may consider necessary to give effect to rules 8 to 14 above.

16. Each factory shall be inspected by an Inspector at least twice in each calendar year.

17. Every District Magistrate shall keep a register of inspections of factories in form B attached to these rules, in which he shall record all orders and remarks made by him on each occasion of his inspection. Inspections made by Inspectors other than the Magistrate of the District shall be recorded in this register. In Calcutta the Special Inspector shall keep this register.

18. The Inspector or Special Inspector shall without delay furnish a copy of such orders or remarks to the Commissioner of the Division (through the Magistrate of the district, if the Inspector be not himself such Magistrate), and also to the occupier of the factory concerned. In Calcutta the copy shall be forwarded to the Commissioner of Police and the occupier. This procedure shall also be observed in respect of orders passed under rule 15 and under section 12, (c) of the Act. The Commissioner of the Division and the Commissioner of Police shall keep a copy of this register with the remarks and orders copied in.

19. The despatch through the post, under registered cover, of the copy of such orders and remarks shall be deemed to be sufficient service on the occupier of the factory of any orders or directions therein contained.

20. A register of accidents shall be maintained by every District Magistrate and the Special Inspector in form C.

21. The occupier of a factory shall, if required by an Inspector, bring before him on the occasion of any inspection all children employed in the factory, and any operatives in service of such occupier whom the Inspector may wish to see.

22. Each certifying Surgeon shall give the certificate described in section 5 of the Act in the form D attached to these rules. Forms of certificate in counterfoil will be supplied to the certifying Surgeons by the Magistrate of the district, and in Calcutta by the Commissioner of Police.

23. Every occupier of a factory shall keep a file of all certificates of certifying Surgeons relating to children in his employ, and shall produce it when required by an Inspector. Every such certificate shall be returned by such occupier to the parent or guardian of the child to whom it relates on his leaving the factory for other employ and on demand of such parent or guardian. If there be no such parent or guardian, the certificate may be made over to the child on his own demand.

24. Every occupier of a factory shall keep accurate up to date the registers in forms E and F attached to these rules, and no such register shall be destroyed or removed from the factory without the written permission of an Inspector.

25. Every occupier of a factory shall set up and maintain in a conspicuous place in the factory a printed or written notice in English and the vernacular in form G of the daily working hours of the factory. An alternative form is provided to meet the case of factories working on the shift system. In factories where the shift system is adopted for a part of the year only, the register will be maintained in either of the alternative forms as may be necessary.

26. At the end of the year every District Magistrate shall forward to Government through the Commissioner a full report of the results of each inspection made by him and the other Inspectors (if any) in his district during the year. The Special Inspector shall make a similar report through the Commissioner of Police.

27. An appeal shall lie to the Commissioner of the Division, and in Calcutta to the Commissioner of Police, from every order of an Inspector under section 12, clause C of the Act, or under rules 5, 6, 15 and 17 of these rules. Every such appeal shall be submitted in writing to the Inspector within 15 days of receipt of the order appealed against, and the Inspector shall forward such appeal within 7 days of its presentation with any remarks he may see fit to make. The Commissioner shall on receipt fix a day for disposing of the appeal, and give due notice thereof to the appellant.

28. The appeal shall be in the form of a memorandum of appeal similar to that contained in the 4th schedule of the Civil Procedure Code, No. 173, and shall bear a stamp the value of which should be regulated by article 11, Schedule II of the Court-fees Act. In every appeal against an order passed under section 12, clause (c) of the Act by an Inspector, the Commissioner shall, on the written application of the appellant, and may without such application, appoint some person having competent practical experience of the management of machinery to sit as assessor at the hearing of the appeal, and shall have regard to the opinion of such assessor in deciding any technical question that may arise therein. An assessor appointed under this rule shall receive a fee of Rs. 16 for each appeal payable by Government. In the event of the appeal being decided against the appellant, the fee to the assessor is to be paid by the appellant and not by Government, in cases where the assessor was appointed on the application of the appellant.

29. Notice of accidents resulting in death or from which the injury is evidently so severe that there is no reasonable hope that the injured person will be able to return to his work within 48 hours should be given on the same day on which the accident occurs. Notice of accident of a less severe character, but which nevertheless prevents the person injured from returning to his work within 48 hours of the occurrence, shall be given immediately on the expiry of the 48 hours' interval allowed by section 13. Such notice shall be sent to the Magistrate or the Commissioner of Police within whose jurisdiction the factory is situated. Notice of fatal injuries shall at the same time be given at the nearest police-station, as required by section 45, Criminal Procedure Code. All such notices shall contain full particulars of the accident in form H, and shall be sent by special messenger.

30. With reference to the Notification No. 428, dated 25th March 1892, of the Government of India, in the Home Department, republished below, every District Magistrate, and in Calcutta, the Commissioner of Police, shall forward a return compiled from the returns I, II, III prescribed by the Government of India, to the Secretary to Government in the General Department by the 1st February and 1st August each year.

31. A copy of these rules and of the forms, with a translation thereof in the vernacular of the district in which the factory is situated, shall be kept hanging up in a conspicuous place in each factory.

NOTIFICATION.

The 3rd May 1892.

No. 33*Marine.*—UNDER the powers conferred upon him by section 29 of the Inland Steam-Vessels Act, 1884, as amended by subsequent enactments, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased, with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, to make the following rules, in supersession of those published in the Appendix to the Calcutta Gazette of the 5th February 1890, to regulate the granting of certificates of competency to Masters of Inland Steam-Vessels :—

REGULATIONS RELATING TO THE EXAMINATION OF MASTERS OF INLAND STEAM-VESSELS.

Certificates granted to persons who pass examinations.

1. Certificates of Competency will be granted to those persons who pass the requisite examinations, and otherwise comply with the requisite conditions. For this purpose arrangements have been made for holding examinations periodically at the Port of Calcutta.

Examinations continued till all the candidates are examined.

2. The examinations will be held by the Port Officer and one or more other examiners to be appointed by the Government from time to time. They will commence early in the forenoon, and will be continued from day to day until all the candidates whose names appear upon the Port Officer's list on the day of examination are examined.

3. Candidates for examination must make their application upon the appropriate form (Exn. 2*b*), which must be filled up at the Port Office. The Exn. 2*b* properly filled in, together with the candidates' testimonials and discharges, must be lodged with the Port Officer not later than the day before the day of examination.

Testimonials of character, conduct, and ability required.

4. Testimonials of character, and of sobriety, experience, ability, and good conduct on board ship for at least the twelve months of service immediately preceding the date of application to be examined, will be required of all applicants, and without producing them no person will be examined. As such testimonials and discharges may have to be verified before the candidate can be examined, it is desirable that they should be handed in, together with the Form Exn. 2*b*, as early as possible.

Testimonials of Foreigners.

5. The testimonials of servitude of Foreigners and of British seamen serving in foreign vessels, which cannot be verified by the Port Officer, must be confirmed either by the Consul of the country to which the ship in which the candidate served belonged, or by some other recognized official authority of that country; or by the testimony of some credible person on the spot having personal knowledge of the facts required to be established. The production, however, of such proofs will not of necessity be deemed sufficient. Each case must be decided on its own merits; and if the sufficiency of the proofs given appears to be at all doubtful, the point must be referred to the Government.

Certificates as to age.

6. Should any doubt exist as to the age of a candidate, he will be required to produce a certificate of birth or baptism.

Foreigners to know English.

7. Foreigners must prove to the satisfaction of the Examiners that they can speak and write the English language sufficiently well to perform the duties required of them on board a British vessel. In the case of natives of India who may not be able to speak English, their certificates shall be endorsed to the effect that they are valid only for vessels manned and officered entirely by Asiatics.

Colour Tests.

8. The Government have made the following arrangements for the examination of persons as to their ability to distinguish colours :—

9. Examinations in colour are open to any person serving or about to serve in the Mercantile Marine.

10. Any persons including the holders of Certificates of Competency, or persons about to apply for Certificates of Competency, if desirous of being examined in Colours only, must make application to the Port Officer on Form Exn. 2*a*, and pay a fee of one rupee.

11. He must on the appointed day attend for examination at the Examiner's Office; and if he passes he will receive a certificate to that effect.

12. If he fails, it will be open to him to be examined again in Colours as often as he pleases on payment of the fee of one rupee at each fresh attempt.

13. The application of a candidate who is presenting himself for examination for a Master's Certificate must be made on Form Exn. 2*b*. Such examination will commence with the colour test; and if the candidate does not, at the time of making application, hold a Certificate of Competency of any grade, and should fail to distinguish correctly any one of the colours used in the test, he will not be allowed to proceed with the examination.

14. The fee he has paid for examination for a Certificate of Competency will include the fee for the Colour test, and, with the exception of one rupee, will in such event be returned to him.

15. A candidate for examination for a Certificate of Competency who, at the time of making application, does not possess a certificate, and who fails to pass the Colour test, may not be re-examined until after the lapse of three months from the date of his first failure. If he fails a second time, he will be allowed a third trial at the expiration of another three months from the date of his second failure. A fresh fee must be paid at each succeeding examination.

16. It is therefore obviously to the advantage of Candidates for Certificates of Competency to apply in the first instance to be examined in Colours only on Form Exn. 2a.

17. A candidate who holds a Certificate of Competency, and who, on presenting himself for examination for a certificate of a higher grade, is unable to pass the Colour test, will notwithstanding be permitted to proceed with the examination for the certificate of the higher grade.

18. Should he pass this examination, the following statement will be written on the face of the higher certificate which may be granted to him, viz.—"This Officer has failed to pass the examination in Colours."

19. Should he ultimately fail to pass the examination, a like statement, relating to his being colour blind, will be made by the Port Officer on his existing certificate before it is returned to him.

20. Holders of certificates which bear the statement of their having failed to pass in Colours, and who may desire to have the statement removed from their certificates, must obtain the special permission of the Government.

Qualifications for Certificates of Competency as First Class Masters.

21. Examination in Colours.—All candidates for certificates of competency must first be examined in Colours.

22. A candidate for a certificate as first class master of inland steam-vessels must be not less than twenty-four years of age, and must have served as second class master in charge of a steam-vessel for not less than three years, or he must be not less than twenty-two years of age, hold a certificate of competency as second mate granted under Act I of 1859 (for the amendment of the law relating to Merchant Seamen), or the Merchant Shipping Acts, 1854 to 1883, or a certificate to which the provisions of any such Act have been made applicable under the Merchant Shipping (Colonial) Act, 1869, and have served as mate of an inland steam-vessel or master of a river flat for not less than one year; or he must be not less than twenty-four years of age, and must have served either not less than three years at sea and three years as mate of a river-steamer or master of a river flat, or not less than six years as mate of a river steamer or master of a river flat.

23. Each candidate will be examined apart, and vivâ voce, in each and all of the following subjects:—

(1)—The rules of the road.
(2)—The management of river steamers under all contingencies.
(3)—The tide table.
(4)—Storm signals.
(5)—The provisions of Act VI of 1884, and the rules framed under sections 21, 29, 50 and 51 of the Act.

Qualifications for Certificates of Competency as Second Class Masters.

24. Examination in Colours.—All candidates for Certificates of Competency must first be examined in Colours.

25. A candidate for a certificate as second class master of an inland steam-vessel must not be less than twenty-one years of age and must produce satisfactory certificates of sobriety and intelligence, and that he has served three years as Mate of a small steam-vessel or as chief helmsman of a steam-vessel of over 80 horse-power, and shall be examined vivâ voce as to his knowledge in the following subjects:—

(1)—The rules of the road.
(2)—The management of small river steamers.
(3)—Storm signals.

Failure.

26. If a candidate fails, he will not be re-examined until after a lapse of three months from the date of such failure.

Re-examination in case of failure.

Certificate of lower grade.

27. If a candidate has failed in his examination, but the subjects in which he has failed are not included in the subjects required for a certificate of a lower grade, he may, if he desires it, receive a certificate of such lower grade.

28. No part, however, of the fee he has paid will be returned to him, and on presenting himself, when entitled so to do, for re-examination for the higher grade of certificate, he will be required to pay again the full fee.

Fees.

29. Candidates for examination, in making their application on Form Exn. 2b, will be required to pay the examination fee before any step is taken, whether by enquiring into their services or testing their qualifications, &c. Should it be found that their service is not sufficient to entitle them to be examined, or should their testimonials be unsatisfactory, or should they from any other cause not be examined, no part of the fee will be returned to them, but when they have filfilled the requisite service, or are able to produce satisfactory testimonials, as the case may be, they will be allowed to again present themselves for examination for a certificate of the same grade without paying any further fee.

Fees to be paid by applicants for examination.

30. The fee for examination must be paid to the Port Officer. In any case in which a candidate offers money to any other officer, and in any place but in the Port Office, the candidate so offering money will be regarded as having committed an act of misconduct, and will be rejected and not allowed to be again examined for twelve months.

31. If a candidate fails in his examination, no part of the fee will be returned to him.

32. If the candidate satisfy the examiners as to his knowledge of the prescribed subjects, and generally as to his competency to command an inland river steamer, they shall certify the same to the Government, which will then grant a certificate to the candidate.

33. The fees are as follows:—

	Rs.
First Class Master	16
Second Class Master	6

General.

34. Certificates of competency of first and second class masters shall be made and issued in the forms hereunto annexed.

35. Every certificate of competency shall be made in duplicate, and one copy shall be delivered to the person entitled to the certificate, and the other shall be kept and recorded by the Port Officer of Calcutta.

NOTIFICATION.

The 3rd May 1892.

No. 34*Marine.*—Under the powers conferred upon him by section 29 of the Inland Steam-Vessels Act, 1884, as amended by subsequent enactments, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased, with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, to make the following rules, in supersession of those published in the Appendix to the Calcutta Gazette of the 5th February 1890, to regulate the granting of certificates of competency to Engineers and First class Engine-drivers of Inland Steam-Vessels :—

REGULATIONS RELATING TO THE EXAMINATION OF ENGINEERS AND FIRST CLASS ENGINE-DRIVERS OF INLAND STEAM-VESSELS.

1. Certificates of competency will be granted to those persons who pass the requisite examinations and otherwise comply with the requisite conditions. For this purpose examiners have been appointed and arrangements have been made for holding the examinations periodically at the port of Calcutta.

Certificates of competency granted to persons who pass requisite examinations.

2. The examinations will commence early in the forenoon, and will be continued from day to day until all the candidates whose names appear upon the Port Officer's list on the day of examination are examined.

Examinations continued till all the candidates are examined.

3. Candidates for examination must make their application upon Form Exn. 3*b*, which must be filled up at the Port Office. The Exn. 3*b*, properly filled in, together with the candidate's testimonials, must be lodged with the Port Officer not later than the day before the day of examination.

Application how to be made.

4. Testimonials of character and of sobriety, experience, ability, and good conduct, for at least the 12 months immediately preceding the date of application to be examined, will be required of all applicants, and without producing them no person will be examined. If the service has been on shore, the testimonial must be signed by an employer; if at sea, by either the master, managing owner, chief or superintending engineer.

Testimonials required.

5. As such testimonials and discharges may have to be verified before the candidates can be examined, it is desirable that they should be handed in, together with the Form Exn. 3*b*, as early as possible.

6. The testimonials of servitude of Foreigners and of British seamen serving in foreign vessels, which cannot be verified by the Port Officer, must be confirmed either by the Consul of the country to which the ship in which the candidate served belonged, or by some other recognised official authority of that country, or by the testimony of some credible person on the spot, having personal knowledge of the facts required to be established. The production, however, of such proofs will not of necessity be deemed sufficient. Each case must be decided on its own merits; and if the sufficiency of the proofs given appears to be at all doubtful, the point must be referred to the Government.

Testimonials of Foreigners.

7. Should any doubt exist as to the age of a candidate, he will be required to produce a certificate of birth or baptism.

Certificate as to age.

8. Foreigners must prove to the satisfaction of the Examiners that they can speak and write the English language sufficiently well to perform the duties required of them on board a British vessel.

Foreigners to know English.

9. Services which cannot be verified by proper entries in the articles of the ships in which the candidates have served cannot be counted.

Verification of services, &c., by Articles.

Qualifications for certificates of competency as Engineers.

10. A candidate must be not less than twenty-two years of age :—

Qualification of candidate for Inland Engineer's Certificate.

(a) He must have served an apprenticeship to an engineer of three years in England or five years in India, and must prove that during the period of his apprenticeship he has been employed on the making and repairing of engines. Or, if he has not served an apprenticeship, he must prove that for not less than three years in England or five years in India he has been employed as a journeyman or masterhand in some factory or workshop on the making or repairing of engines. In either case he must also have served two years thereafter in the engine-room of a steamer of over 80 horse-power, or as a certificated engine-driver in a steamer of less than 80 horse-power.

Or, failing the above service, he must have served as a certificated engine-driver in charge of a steamer for not less than four years.

(b) He must be able to give a description of boilers and the methods of staying them, together with the use and management of the different valves, cocks, pipes, and connections.

(c) He must understand how to correct defects from accident, decay or other causes, and the means of repairing such defects.

(d) He must understand the use of the barometer, thermometer, and salinometer, and the principles on which they are constructed.

(e) He must state the causes, effects, and usual remedies for incrustation and corrosion.

(f) He must be able to state how a temporary or permanent repair could be effected in case of derangement of a part of the machinery, or total breakdown.

(g) He must write a legible hand, and understand the first five rules of arithmetic and decimals, and their application to questions about consumption of stores, and full capacities of tanks and bunkers, the duty of pumps, and the direct strains in engines and boilers.

(h) He must be able to pass a creditable examination as to the various constructions of paddle and screw engines in general use; as to the details of the different working parts, external and internal, and the use of each part.

Qualifications for certificates of competency as first class Engine-drivers.

11. Candidates for examination must make their application upon the appropriate Form (Exn. 3*b*.), which must be filled up at the Port Office.

12. A candidate for a certificate of competency as first class engine-driver must have attained the age of twenty-two years.

13. He must have served an apprenticeship of at least four years if in India, or three years in the United Kingdom, and have served as assistant engineer for one year on a steamer of not less than 80 horse-power.

Or he must have been three years principal serang or tindal in the engine-room of a steamer, or have been for three years in charge of the engine of a factory or mill under a European manager or engineer, as well as one year principal serang or tindal or assistant engineer in the engine-room of a steamer under a certificated engineer.

14. He must have the testimonial shown in Appendix B filled up by the engineer with whom he has last served, or his other testimonials must contain all the particulars therein required.

15. He must pass a vivâ voce examination before the Board of Examiners as to the working of an engine and the use of its different parts.

16. He must be able, if required, to show his practical qualifications by one week's trial in a steamer after fulfilling the other tests to which he will be subjected.

General Rules as to Examinations.

Candidates not to take books, &c., into examination room.

17. All books necessary for the use of candidates under examination will be provided by the Government, and applicants will not be permitted to take into the examination room any book, paper, document, or memoranda of any description whatever; and, subject to the provisions referred to hereafter, they will also not be allowed to work out their problems on a slate or on waste paper.

18. Candidates will be allowed in the time allotted to cancel any part of their work, and, when required, additional papers will be supplied by the Examiners. These additional sheets must be attached to, and form part of, the examination papers.

Punishment for breaking rules.

19. In the event of any candidate being discovered copying from another, or affording any assistance or giving any information to another, or communicating in any way with another during the time of examination, he will be regarded as having failed in his examination, and will be turned back for three months, in the same manner as if he had failed in the practical part of the examination; and no part of the fees he may have paid for examination will be returned to him.

Leaving examination room.

20. If a candidate leaves the room before answering any question which has been given to him, he cannot afterwards be permitted to answer it, but the examiners may substitute other data or another question.

Questions from Form Exn. 15*a*.

21. All applicants presenting themselves for examination for certificates of competency as engineers will be required to give written answers to eight out of a list of ten questions selected from Form Exn. 15*a*, "Elementary Questions for the first examinations of Engineers for certificates of competency." These questions are intended to furnish a record to some extent of the candidate's knowledge at the time of his examination, and also to induce the candidates to pay more attention to their handwriting and spelling.

22. The Form Exn. 15*b*., on which these answers will be written, contains also some questions as to the experience of the applicant, to be answered by him in writing.

23. Examiners may add to their vivâ voce questions on the practical management of steam-engines and boilers any of those contained in Exn. 15*a*.

24. If at the expiration of the time allowed the candidate has worked out correctly the whole of the questions set to him, and given satisfactory answers in the vivâ voce examination, he will be declared to have passed.

25. If at the expiration of the time allowed he has not worked out the whole of the questions set to him, but if the result of the vivâ voce examination, taken in connection with the answers to such of the questions as he has worked out, is sufficient to satisfy the Examiner that the applicant is competent to take charge of engines, he will be declared to have passed.

26. In other cases he will be declared to have failed.

(Exn. 15.)

27. A report of the examination, and the examination papers, will be forwarded to the Government on the Form Exn. 15.

Notification of having passed will be given to successful candidates (Exn. 16).

28. If the candidate passes, he will receive the Form Exn. 16 upon which the Government will issue the certificate to the candidate, whose testimonials, &c., will be returned at the same time. It is therefore important that the port of destination of the certificate should be the same on both the Form Exn. 16 and the Form Exn. 2. If circumstances should make any alteration necessary, the examiners should see that it is made in both forms, otherwise delay in the issue of the certificate may be caused.

Fees.

Fees to be paid by applicants for examination.

29. Candidates for examination, in making their application on Form Exn. 3*b*, will be required to pay the examination fees before any step is taken, whether by inquiring into their services or testing their qualifications, &c. No part of the fee will under any circumstances be returned to them; but should it be found that their service is not sufficient to entitle them to be examined, or that their testimonials are unsatisfactory, they will be allowed to present themselves for examination without paying any further fee, when they have fulfilled the requisite service, or are able to produce satisfactory testimonials, as the case may be.

30. The fee for examination must be paid to the Port Officer. In any case in which a candidate offers money to any other officer, and in any place but in the Port Office, the candidate so offering money will be regarded as having committed an act of misconduct, and will be rejected and not allowed to be examined for twelve months.

31. If a candidate fails in his examinations, no part of the fee he has paid will be returned to him.

32. The fees are as follow:—

	Rs.
Engineers	12
First class engine-drivers	10

Failure.

33. If the applicant fails in the vivâ voce or practical part of the examination, he may not present himself for re-examination until he can produce proofs of three months' further service afloat. If he fails in arithmetic or drawing only, he may come up again at any time. Engine-drivers may be examined de novo after six months, if the past examination showed that they might reasonably be expected to qualify.

General.

34. Certificates of competency of engineers and first class engine-drivers shall be made out and issued in the forms hereunto annexed.

35. Every certificate of competency shall be made in duplicate, and one copy shall be delivered to the person entitled to the certificate, and the other shall be kept and recorded by the Port Officer of Calcutta.

APPENDIX B.

TESTIMONIAL.

I hereby certify that has served with me in the engine-room of as principal serang or tindal for a period of , during which time he has discharged his duties to my entire satisfaction.

I consider that he fully understands the working of an engine, and has sufficient tact, presence of mind, and energy to look after and manage the working of the engines of a river steamer having engines of thirty nominal horse-power or upwards, but of less than 80 nominal horse-power.

The Commissioners for the Port of Calcutta.

NOTICE.

THE following revised scale of charges for the use of the Commissioners' new Graving Dock at Kidderpore having been approved by Local Government, is now published for general information, in accordance with the provisions of section 107, Act III of 1890.

By order of the Commissioners,

R. A. DONNITHORNE, Secretary.

The 2nd May 1892.

The Commissioners for the Port of Calcutta.

SCHEDULE II.

KIDDERPORE GRAVING DOCK.

Revised Scale of Charges.

Dimensions-

Length on blocks ...	...	520 feet.
Width at entrance ...	...	67 ,,
Least depth on blocks	...	23 ,,

The Dock is intended principally for the painting and cleaning of vessels and the execution of very slight repairs. Its use for heavy repairs will only be given in special circumstances.

The terms are as follows, and will include removal of vessels from Tidal Basin into Graving Dock and back, docking, pumping, shoring and undocking ; also the use of stages and stage-ropes for cleaning and painting :—

	Rs.	A.	P.
For the first 24 hours with a minimum of Rs. 400 ...	0	6	6	per gross ton.
For every subsequent 24 hours up to a total of 8 days from entering ...	200	0	0	per day.
From 9th to 20th day ...	300	0	0	,,

After 20 days the Commissioners reserve to themselves the right to increase the daily charge up to any sum not exceeding Rs. 500.

A vessel engaging the Dock, and not using it, will be charged Rs. 300.

The Commissioners will not undertake the work of cleaning, painting or repairing vessels. Owners, Agents or Masters will have to make their own arrangements for the execution of the work.

No commission or other fees will be levied on stores brought either by land or water into the Dock for cleaning, painting or repairing.

No dock dues will be charged on vessels passing through the Tidal Basin to or from the Graving Dock.

No. 976½ Marine.

The Local Government hereby signifies its approval of the above scale.

K. H. STEPHEN, Under-Secretary.

Government of Bengal, Marine Department, the 14th April 1892. (114—3)

Abstract of the Proceedings of the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, assembled for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations under the provisions of the Act of Parliament 24 and 25 Vic., Cap. 67.

THE Council met at the Council Chamber on Saturday, the 23rd April, 1892.

Present:

The HON'BLE SIR CHARLES ALFRED ELLIOTT, K.C.S.I., Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, presiding.

The HON'BLE J. T. WOODROFFE, Offg. Advocate-General.

The HON'BLE SIR HENRY HARRISON, KT.

The HON'BLE T. T. ALLEN.

The HON'BLE H. J. S. COTTON.

The HON'BLE H. H. RISLEY, C.I.E.

The HON'BLE DR. MAHENDRA LAL SIRCAR, C.I.E.

The HON'BLE SHAHZADA MAHOMMED FURROKH SHAH.

The HON'BLE A. H. WALLIS.

The HON'BLE MAHARAJAH SIR HARENDRA KISHORE SING BAHADUR, K.C.I.E.

The HON'BLE GONESH CHUNDER CHUNDER.

NEW MEMBERS.

THE HON'BLE MESSRS. WOODROFFE and RISLEY and BABU GONESH CHUNDER CHUNDER took their seats in Council.

STATEMENT OF THE COURSE OF BUSINESS.

THE HON'BLE THE PRESIDENT said:—"Before we begin the proceedings of the day, I ask your permission to make a brief statement of the course of legislation which I propose to lay before the Council, and which I trust will be carried through in the Session which we have to-day begun. You are aware, no doubt, that we had two Bengal Bills which would, in the ordinary course, have been laid before this Council. One was a Bill to amend the Court of Wards' Act, and the other was a Bill to create and define the terms of service for a new body—the Bengal Military Police—in which the existing Military Reserves and the force known as the Chittagong Hills Frontier Police, now serving in the South Lushai district, are merged. Both of these Bills were, however, taken over by the Government of India, and have been passed into law by the Supreme Legislative Council, and consequently there was no legislative work ready to be laid before this Council during the cold weather.

"We, however, are not confined, like the Supreme Council, to the short period of the cold weather for carrying on our legislation, but we are able to conduct it all through the year. I trust in the present Session we shall be able to pass three Bills. Two of these are to be introduced and laid before the Council and, I believe, forwarded one stage to-day. These are the Bill to amend the Village Chaukidari Act of 1870 and the Bill to make better arrangements for the distribution of the charges for keeping up a Fire-brigade in Calcutta. The objects and reasons and the nature and provisions of these Bills will be laid before the Council by the hon'ble members in charge, and it is unnecessary for me to make any remarks upon them.

"There is a third Bill which I should have been glad, if it had been possible, to present to you to-day. I mean the Bill to amend the Bengal Municipal Act. We are not, however, sufficiently forward with our preparations to enable me to ask the Council to permit its introduction to-day. The Bill has been drafted in a tentative form, and has been circulated to all District Officers in Bengal with instructions to procure the opinions of the different Municipal Corporations in their districts upon the provisions of the Bill; and though that was done some months ago, and I hoped that by this time we should have had all the replies ready and tabulated and a précis made of them, so that, after making any necessary alterations in the first tentative draft, the Bill might have been brought forward and published to-day, the replies have not been received from a good many districts, and the case did not appear to be sufficiently forward to justify me in troubling the Council with it upon this occasion. I trust, however, that we shall meet again in July, and I may then be able to lay this Bill before you, and that we shall possibly either complete it during the Session of July and August, or possibly it may be necessary, in order to fully consult public opinion and to give the amplest consideration to all the changes which may be proposed and to all objections which may be taken, to postpone it till the cold weather. However, with regard to the other two Bills, which, I believe, contain much less contentious matter, I trust we shall be able in the Session of July and August to give them final consideration and to pass them into law.

"The programme of our legislation is therefore this, that these two Bills shall be introduced to-day and referred to Select Committees, and that the further consideration of them shall be taken up in July, so that they may in all probability be passed into law in July and August; and that the Municipal Act Amendment Bill shall be introduced in July, and such progress as may be found possible made with it so as to complete it in that Session, or else, if necessary, to postpone it for a month or two later, but at any rate to carry it through before the end of the calendar year."

VILLAGE CHAUKIDARI ACT, 1870, AMENDMENT BILL.

THE HON'BLE MR. COTTON moved for leave to introduce a Bill to further amend the Village Chaukidari Act, 1870.

He said:—"Mr. President, as I shall ask you to be good enough to suspend the Rules for the Conduct of Business to enable me to introduce this Bill in Council, I do not propose to address the Council on the subject of the Bill at the present stage. I now merely ask permission to introduce the Bill."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The HON'BLE MR. COTTON said:—"I now apply to your Honour to suspend the Rules of Business to enable me at this meeting to introduce the Bill to further amend the Village Chaukidari Act, 1870, and to move that it be read in Council. The object of my asking for this suspension of the Rules of Business is merely to be able to advance the Bill a definite stage to-day, in order that it may be published, and that public opinion may be obtained upon it before measures are taken for passing it into law."

The HON'BLE THE PRESIDENT having declared the Rules of Business to be suspended—

The HON'BLE MR. COTTON said:—"The Bill which I have now in my hands is a comparatively small measure. It effects further amendments in the Village Chaukidari Act of 1870, which hon'ble members will doubtless recollect has been on two or three occasions before this Council for amendment. An amendment of that Act was passed in 1871, and again after considerable discussion, in 1886.

"Although this Bill is in its way a very small measure, I shall, I fear, be obliged to occupy the time of the Council for a few minutes in explaining its principle, which is opposed in some important particulars to the principle of the existing law. The village watch of Bengal, as of all India, is one of the oldest institutions of the country connected with the village system itself, and the village watchman of ancient Hindu times is substantially the counterpart of the village watchman as he is recognised by existing legislation; that is to say, the village watchman is ordinarily a member of an hereditary thieving caste, and responsible for his behaviour to no one except to the village community by whom he is maintained. That was the constitution of the village watch in ancient Hindu times, and it is practically the constitution of the village watch at the present day. Under the Mogul administration there was some change effected. The character of the Mogul Government was eminently fiscal, and the village watchman, instead of being the village servant, became to a very large extent the servant of the zamindar, and that dual position remained for a very long time under British rule, and still remains in all parts of the country where Act VI of 1870 has not been enforced. The object of Act VI of 1870 was to place the village watch everywhere under the control of the village organization. The principle of the Bill, as stated by the hon'ble member who introduced it, was this:—'The village watchman is purely a village servant employed for the protection of the lives and the property of the villagers, and looking to the village community for the regular payment of the remuneration to which he is entitled.' It was laid down at that time in this way. It was said municipalise more, trust the people, trust the villagers with the control of their own village watch, and great improvement in Police administration will ensue. That doctrine was of course hotly discussed and disputed in this Council; but ultimately it prevailed, and the effect of the present chaukidari law is to place the village watch entirely under the control and under the influence of the village community. The Bill, I have now the honour to place before you, introduces a modification of this principle. It is my own view strongly, and it is the view of the present Government, that the Police is a branch of the administration which ought to be brought into closer relations with the Government; and I for one—and I trust the Council will join me in this—look forward to the time when the village watch will be so largely modified as to become the real efficient Police of the country, and when the existing constabulary will have virtually no other functions to discharge than those of escort and guard, and to some extent that of process-serving. The present Bill is a slight step in this direction—not a very decisive step perhaps—for it does not pretend to be more than a very gradual and small measure, but it is a step in the direction of centralizing Police administration, and of bringing the village watch much more than it now is under the immediate [illegible] the municipalities [illegible] introduced considerable section of public opinion in Bengal. The meaning of the Bill does not, however, seem to have been understood as yet by the general public, for I have before me the report of the Indian Association, who so far misconceive the object of the Bill as to say that they welcome it as a further expansion of the principle of Local Self-Government in these Provinces. The prayer of the Association is, that further powers may be given to the punchayet of the village. Now I must say, once for all, that this Government does not look on the administration of the Police as in any way connected with the development or extension of the principle of Local Self-Government; on the contrary, we believe that if there is any duty of the Government which it is inexpedient to municipalise, it is the control of the Police. The inhabitants of a village have no claim to a municipal administration in any respect, still less have they any claim to control the Police. For the discharge of such duties the highest possible qualifications must be secured, and when the low calibre of the men who constitute a village punchayet is considered, the advantage appears to be wholly on the side of a Police administration by the Central Government. I am not only expressing my own decided opinion in this matter, but I may remind the Council that the subject is amply discussed by no less an eminent authority than the late Mr. John Stuart Mill, whose book on representative Government might well be more widely read in this country amongst the friends and advocates of Local Self-Government. He lays down in that volume with great force and clearness that the Police is a department of the Government which cannot be entrusted to the representatives of a rural tract; and so in England, we have withdrawn the control of the village police from the villagers, and the old village watch has disappeared. In Bengal we do not go so far as to desire that the village watch of this country shall altogether disappear, and we wish to adhere to the only sound element of the chaukidari system, viz., that of retaining the local knowledge of men resident in the village in which they are to be employed; but we do desire to modify it materially, and the direction this modification takes is, by placing the village watch more under executive authority than it now is.

"At present the punchayet, which is in other words the representative of the village community, not only appoints the chaukidars, but has authority under the law to decide within specified limits how many chaukidars shall be employed and to fix their salaries. On these three main points the power and authority of the punchayet is curtailed by the present Bill. It is proposed to allow the punchayet to nominate, but the appointment of the village watch will rest in future with the District Magistrate. It is laid down also that the Magistrate and not the punchayet shall determine the number of chaukidars within specified limits. This is a proviso which experience has shown to be very necessary. The law authorises the punchayet now to fix the number of chaukidars, and in practice it has been found that they reduce the number, and the Magistrate has been obliged to interfere to maintain the minimum number of chaukidars prescribed by law. They have done so without any specific legal authority, but it is only in this way that the full number of chaukidars has been maintained. Under the present Bill, the Magistrate is vested with the power he has hitherto informally exercised. Similarly, it is proposed—and this is a point of at least equal importance—that the Magistrate shall fix the salary of the chaukidar. The salary is now fixed by the punchayet, and the tendency is to fix it at a rate so low as to be below the standard of efficiency. Per contra there is a provision in the present Bill which may be said to be of a more radical character than anything the present law contemplates. Under the present Act, the punchayet is appointed by the District Magistrate. The Bill, I have in my hand, proposes that under certain conditions the punchayet may be elected by the villagers, introducing thereby the elective principle into villages. Now, Mr. President, this is not a section of the Bill with which I personally have much sympathy. My own view is not in favour of introducing democratic institutions into India, and I do not think that the introduction of the elective principle into villages will be calculated to benefit the villagers in any way. However, it has been thought advisable to leave this section in the Bill for the present, and it is hoped that there may be a discussion in Council, and that public opinion may be elicited, so that the Government may know what the views of others are on the subject. The idea is one which was put forward by the late Police Commission, and the Government are not pledged to it in any way; but if it is found that public opinion, as expressed through this Council, is in favour of the provision, then the Government will have no objection to allow it to remain.

"For the rest, the changes proposed in the law are more or less of detail. Powers of arrest are given to chaukidars, thus assimilating their powers to those now exercised by the regular Police. An important section is introduced authorising the Magistrate, if the collections by the punchayet are very bad, or if he finds that the chaukidar is imperfectly paid, to appoint a Government Collector of the chaukidari tax by whom the chaukidari rate will be levied and paid to the chaukidar. This is a provision which exists in the present law only, so far that it is within the competency of the punchayet to apply to the Magistrate to appoint a tahsildar. But the Bill authorises the Magistrate under specified conditions to appoint a tahsildar of his own accord.

"And then, lastly, there is a section introduced under which fines imposed on chaukidars are credited to a District Chaukidari Reward Fund, the control of which rests with the Magistrate. At present fines, when realised, are credited to the Village Chaukidari Fund; that is to say, they pass to the punchayet. The Magistrate has no control over them, and the effect is that if the punchayet and the chaukidar work together and are friendly one with the other, no fine whatever can be inflicted on the chaukidar. It is thought desirable that the Magistrate of the district should have the power of inflicting some punishment on chaukidars other than dismissal. The fine will then be credited to a Reward Fund for distribution among deserving chaukidars, a provision which has always been much needed, and is calculated to improve the administration of the Village Police Force.

"The present legislation will not in any way touch Part II of the existing Act, which relates to chakran or service land. That is a very complicated and elaborate matter, which is reserved for further consideration and legislation. The present Bill is introduced simply with the objects, I have described, of strengthening the control of the executive authorities over the village police.

"I have now the honour to introduce the Bill and to move that it be read in Council."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Bill was read accordingly.

The Hon'ble Mr. Cotton said:—"I now move that the Bill be referred to a Select Committee. I may say that it is the intention of the Government to circulate the Bill widely, and to invite non-official as well as official opinion upon it. I propose to add the name of the Hon'ble Mr. Risley to those on the paper. He was a member of the Police Commission, and is in a position to afford valuable assistance in considering the measure. The Committee to whom I propose to refer the Bill will, therefore, consist of the Hon'ble Sir Henry Harrison, the Hon'ble Mr. Allen, the Hon'ble Mr. Risley, the Hon'ble Babu Gonesh Chunder Chunder and the Mover."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

LICENSED WAREHOUSE AND FIRE-BRIGADE BILL.

The Hon'ble Sir Henry Harrison moved for leave to introduce a Bill for the regulation of Warehouses and the maintenance of a Fire-brigade.

He said:—"As I am going to ask your Honour afterwards to suspend the Rules of Business, I need not make any remarks on the Bill at this stage."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble Sir Henry Harrison applied to the President to suspend the Rules of Business to enable him to introduce the Bill, and to move that it be read in Council and referred to a Select Committee.

The Hon'ble the President having declared the Rules suspended—

The Hon'ble Sir Henry Harrison said:—"I now beg to introduce the Bill, and to move that it be read in Council. The main object of this Bill is, in on word, to relieve the jute industry from bearing the entire cost of the Fire-brigade in Calcutta as it now does. The jute industry has reached this position rather by a process of drift than by any intention on the part of the Legislature, to saddle it with the whole of this charge. As a matter of fact, the Fire-brigade in Calcutta and the establishment of jute warehouses in Calcutta, were almost synchronous. Prior to 1872, there was no Fire-brigade worthy of the name; the Municipality maintained a few hand engines, and whatever they maintained, they paid for. In 1866, when the Municipal Act was amended, the danger arising from jute warehouses, especially from unpressed jute, was so great that certain sections were introduced to provide for the right of inspecting them. Soon after, in 1871, severe fires broke out in Calcutta, which were distinctly traceable and due to jute warehouses, and upon that the Chamber of Commerce, the Trades Association, the British Indian Association, and several other bodies petitioned the Government to take the matter into their serious consideration and protect the public, and the outcome of that was the first Act of 1872, which imposed fees on jute warehouses varying from Rs. 250 to Rs. 1,000, and at the same time provided for the maintenance of an efficient Fire-brigade, and steam fire-engines were ordered out in that year for the first time. Apparently it was not the intention of the Act that the fees should cover the entire cost of the Fire-brigade, because a tax was imposed on insurance offices at the rate of eight annas on every Rs. 10,000 insured, and it was also provided that the Municipalities of the town and the suburbs should make good any deficiency in the income. But, as a matter of fact, partly, I suppose, owing to the great multiplicity of jute warehouses, and partly owing to the fees having been fixed so high, the income very far exceeded the expenditure, as would be seen by the fact that between 1872 and 1881, the Government made grants from the Fire-brigade Fund of Rs. 40,000 to widen the street opposite the Municipal Office; of Rs. 16,552 as a contribution towards the Lock Hospital; of Rs. 10,000 for improvements in the suburbs, and, lastly, of Rs. 60,000 to help towards the widening of a portion of the Chitpur Road. Thus it came about that, although a small portion may have been due to the tax upon insurances which was not abandoned till 1879, practically the jute industry paid for the whole of the Fire-brigade, and so much more that large funds accrued at the disposal of the Government which were appropriated for beneficial purposes for the town and suburbs. Accordingly in 1879 another Act was passed—one amending Act had already been passed in 1875 which does not bear much upon the present question—in order to reduce the fees. The tax on insurances being no longer required was abandoned, and it was arranged that the Government should fix the rates in accordance with the recommendation of the Commissioners, and as a matter of fact, the rate was fixed at a sum not exceeding ten per cent. upon the annual valuation of jute warehouses; and a rule was also passed that the town should bear 7-10ths and the suburbs (not Howrah) 3-10ths of the entire cost of the Brigade. However, as the number of jute warehouses went on increasing, and as land was cheaper and sites more available in the suburbs, it very soon appeared that the town warehouses had to be taxed very much more than those in the suburbs to keep up these proportions. The suburbs met its 3-10ths share with the greatest possible ease, whereas the town had to keep up the rate at its maximum to meet its share. Accordingly in 1883 the Act No. IV, which it is now proposed to repeal by this Bill, was passed—first, to abandon the proportion of 7-10ths and 3-10ths, and to place jute warehouses in the town and the suburbs on the same footing, and instead of having separate Fire-brigades for Howrah and the town and suburbs, as had been done before, to have one Fire-brigade for the whole urban area, for the town and all its environs on both sides of the river, and to introduce the same rule in Howrah as regards fees upon jute warehouses. It was arranged that the inspection of jute warehouses should be vested in the Municipality, as also the collection of the fees, and for this purpose they were allowed to take 20 per cent. of the entire proceeds, and the remaining 80 per cent. were paid to the Commissioner of Police for the maintenance of the Fire-brigade; and as a matter of fact these fees, with the receipts from the petroleum fees and from other sources, had as nearly as possible just maintained the Fire-brigade. So that since 1883 it had come to this, that the jute industry no longer paid more than was necessary, but it still paid practically the whole cost of the Fire-brigade of the town and its environs. The Fire-brigade, which is useful, if not often for pucka houses, very much for bustees and huts, has been entirely supported from this one industry alone; for although 'cotton' is included, almost the whole of the receipts come from jute. The Chamber of Commerce represented that this was not fair; that though there was a provision that any deficit should be made good by the Municipality, yet, as a matter of fact, the rate of fees which was levied was sufficient to meet the entire cost of the Fire-brigade, and upon this representation of the Chamber, the Government were evidently satisfied as to the general justice of the protest, and they accordingly appointed a Committee upon which the Chamber, the Police, the Corporation of Calcutta, the Port Commissioners and some others were represented.

"I was one of the members of that Committee, and therefore I am able to speak from personal knowledge of its proceedings. It was found that all were unanimous that it was not just to expect that the whole cost of the Fire-brigade should be paid by one industry. But then two separate principles claimed recognition. One principle was, that though the jute industry ought not to bear the whole cost, it was sound principle that warehouses for hazardous goods, which, combined with huts and bustees, were the chief sources of fires, should pay more than the ordinary sum payable for substantial pucka houses where the risk of fires was very small. The other principle put before us was, as a matter of fact, that all such distinctions, however justifiable in principle, were difficult to carry out in equity and practice, and therefore should be abandoned. Both in Bombay and in England it has been recognised as the simplest and best course to have a uniform taxation on all classes of property. In Bombay, there is a tax of $\frac{3}{4}$ per cent. on the valuation for the Fire-brigade. In England, Fire-brigades were generally supported in the same way. But the Committee thought that, in the first place, such a principle was not nearly so applicable to India as to England, because in Calcutta there was scarcely any risk of fire at all from pucka houses in which fires were so seldom lighted in the main building; whereas, on the other hand, we have much more risk from warehouses in Calcutta. In the second place, the Committee thought that, although they might not have been willing to introduce it for the first time, a distinction between hazardous and non-hazardous goods which had been recognised for 20 years ought not to be needlessly abandoned. They thought that there was no reason to pass suddenly from one extreme to another, and consequently they adopted the middle course of continuing to place considerable extra taxation on hazardous goods, and at the same time to make the whole community contribute towards the cost of the Fire-brigade.

"On looking about also they saw there was another source of revenue which clearly ought to be utilised. In the town of Calcutta dangerous and offensive trades pay, as is reasonable, extra taxation in consequence of their character, such as depôts of wood, hay, straw, coal and rags which, barring the latter, cannot be said to be offensive but dangerous, and it seemed to them reasonable that their inflammability should be recognised as a source of income towards meeting the cost of the Fire-brigade. Consequently, the Committee thought that the proceeds of these licenses, which in the Municipality were taken over and above the ordinary trade license, ought to be added to the Fire-brigade Fund, and ought to form one source of its revenue.

"Then came the question of apportionment—a very difficult matter to deal with; because it is obvious that so many indirect considerations enter into what is a fair apportionment, that it is hardly possible to do more than adopt a general approximate apportionment. As regards this, the Committee were at first inclined to think that jute and cotton ought to pay 50 per cent., and depôts of wood, hay, straw, &c., 20 per cent. On further consideration and further correspondence with the Chamber, the proposals made were of this kind. In the first place, that the law was defective at stopping at unpressed and unscrewed jute. In the law, as it now stands, which the Bill which is now introduced will repeal, jute and cotton meant respectively jute and cotton not pressed or screwed for shipment. Now it so happened that one of the largest and worst fires recently occurred in a warehouse which had no unscrewed or unpressed jute; and it was asked why should these, which were obviously hazardous goods, though not in the same degree, be exempted altogether. In the same way it was pointed out that all gunnies were extremely dangerous, and so were rope manufactories; and, therefore, the Chamber contended that the area of hazardous goods ought to be increased. Eventually it was agreed that 20 per cent. was too much to take from depôts of wood, hay, straw, coal and rags, and it was reduced to 10 per cent., and, on the other hand, the percentage to be paid by hazardous goods of the nature of warehouses was extended to 60 per cent. That left 30 per cent. to be met, and the question was considered whether the tax should not be re-imposed upon insurance offices. But looking at the fact that the tax would be paid by the insurers who may be taxed over again, and on various other grounds, the Committee did not recommend that this should be adopted. The Bill, therefore, proceeds on these lines; 60 per cent. of the cost to be imposed on hazardous warehouses, but what is to be exactly included in this has been left somewhat undetermined in the Bill, because the representatives of the Chamber proposed to include a very large number of goods. The Council are probably aware that there is a separate Act for the regulation of petroleum, and that fees are already paid by it for the support of the Fire-brigade. Of course it is not pretended that godowns used for retail trade should be touched. There is a section of the Bill which relates to hazardous goods, but whether all these ought to be included in it or not is a matter upon which the Committee did not make any definite recommendation, because further discussion of them appeared to be infructuous except by the authority which would have the power to decide the point. They thought it best, therefore, to leave it to the Council to determine precisely what should be included. The Bill goes so far as to include, as liable to pay under the hazardous schedule, all kinds of jute, pressed and unpressed, and warehoused for storage, and all store-houses for oil other than petroleum or ropes or rope material or any other substance or thing for the time being subject to the operation of this Act. The system on which it is proposed to work the Act is this: the Commissioner of Police will prepare a budget to show the whole expenditure on the Fire-brigade, on the receipt side of which he shall show all the various receipts for licenses for fireworks, petroleum and other sources. This, of course, will show a deficit which will be met to the extent of 60 per cent. by a tax on warehouses under the Act, and of 40 per cent. on the Municipalities. The reason why 40 per cent. is to be taken from the Municipalities is this, that, under the present law, the Municipalities have the entire control of the license fees from dangerous goods, such as wood, hay, straw, coal and rags, and it was not thought desirable to fetter their discretion more than at present; it was therefore left to them to decide what fee to impose. At present they do get nearly ten per cent. of the cost of the Fire-brigade, but it is open to them, as far as the law allows, to increase or decrease these fees, and then make good the remainder. If they keep the fees as they are now actually collected, the amount which they will have to contribute from other funds will be about 30 per cent. These fees are left in their possession and control, and all the Government will expect from them will be a contribution of 40 per cent. The other 60 per cent. will be raised in a somewhat tentative manner by licenses on hazardous warehouses. Estimates will have to be framed of the assessed value of the properties, and a percentage fixed. If in the first year it proves too much, in the next year the Government will reduce it. Anyhow, it will be the duty of the Government to work this percentage so that it practically provides for the share which falls on these industries. One more change the law introduces, mainly in the interests of economy. It is to transfer the inspection of these warehouses from the Municipality to the Police. The Police have now the inspection of all petroleum godowns; they have facilities in their present establishment far greater than the Municipalities have, who have to maintain a special establishment for the purpose.

"The Police have an organization which already enables them to carry out inspections, and no doubt they will carry it out at a much cheaper cost than the 15 per cent. which is estimated to be the cost to the Municipality. The Municipality will continue to grant licenses at the rate at which the Government may lay down, and they will collect the fees, and after appropriating 5 per cent., will make over the rest to the Government. As regards the charge of the Fire-brigade, the question was raised whether any alteration should be made in its management; but the Committee, and the Government in accordance with their views, considered that the management of the Fire-brigade has been highly satisfactory. I speak with some personal knowledge, and I think it is very well managed. Though it was originally under the Corporation, it was found convenient as early as 1872 to make over the management to the Commissioner of Police. The Act of 1879 sanctioned this change, and that arrangement has remained in force ever since. But as regards economy and efficiency, it is much better managed than in Bombay, where a $\frac{3}{4}$th per cent. rate is levied. There the Fire-brigade is in the hands of the Corporation, and the expenses are out of all proportion to the collection of the rates. The Police furnishes a very efficient body of firemen, who are only paid on the occurrence of fires, which is a far more economical arrangement; and it is a great advantage that the same men who have the management of the brigade should, in case of necessity, have Police powers also. Therefore the Act leaves the management and control of the Fire-brigade untouched. These are the general outlines of the Bill under consideration. I now beg leave to introduce it, and to move that it be read in Council."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Bill was read accordingly.

The Hon'ble Sir Henry Harrison also moved that the Bill be referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Hon'ble the Officiating Advocate-General, the Hon'ble Mr. Wallis, the Hon'ble Shahzada Mahommed Furrokh Shah and the Mover.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Council adjourned sine die.

RESOLUTION REVIEWING THE CHANGES MADE IN THE FACTORY LAW.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—MISCELLANEOUS.

RESOLUTION No. 1312.

READ again—

"The Indian Factories Act XV of 1881."

Read also—

Act XI of 1891, amending Act XV of 1881, and the following papers:—

(1) Letter No. 860, dated the 18th June 1891, from the Government of India regarding the arrangements necessary for the efficient working of the Factory law in Bengal.

(2) Letter No. 287T.—G., dated the 1st October 1891, from this Government to the Government of India, Home Department, regarding the appointment of a special Inspector of Factories for the Lower Provinces and the North-Western Provinces and Oudh.

(3) Letter, dated the 28th October 1891, from A. Smith, Esq., President of the Committee appointed to revise the Bengal Rules under the Indian Factories Act.

(4) Letter No. 1635, dated the 10th December 1891, from this Government to the Government of India, Home Department, submitting the revised draft rules framed by the Committee under section 18 of Act XV of 1891, as amended by Act XI of 1891.

(5) Letter No. 1731, dated the 30th December 1891, from the Government of India, Home Department, suggesting amendments in the draft rules.

(6) Letter No. $\frac{3\text{-Judicial}}{125}$, dated the 27th January 1892, and enclosure, from the Government of India, Home Department, regarding the remuneration to be given to gentlemen of the medical profession who may be appointed Certifying Surgeons and Inspectors of Factories.

(7) Letter No. 133, dated the 28th January 1892, from the Government of India, Home Department, communicating the Secretary of State's sanction to the appointment of a special Inspector of Factories for the Lower Provinces and the North-Western Provinces and Oudh.

(8) Letter No. 278B., dated the 30th January 1892, from the Quartermaster-General in India, recommending, on sanitary grounds, the appointment of Civil Surgeons to be Inspectors of Factories within cantonment limits.

(9) Letter No. 209, dated the 15th February 1892, and enclosure, and endorsement No. 294, dated the 27th January 1892, and enclosure, from the Government of India, Home Department, regarding the jurisdiction and emoluments of the special Inspector of Factories for the Lower Provinces and the North-Western Provinces and Oudh.

(10) Letter No. 151M.G., dated the 14th March 1892, and enclosure, from the Commissioner of the Presidency Division, suggesting amendments in the rules which were published in draft for public criticism.

(11) Memorandum No. 567R., dated the 29th March 1892, and enclosures, from the Public Works Department of this Government, placing the services of Mr. C. A. Walsh, of the Superior Revenue Establishment of State Railways, at the disposal of the General Department for employment as special Inspector of Factories in Bengal and the North-Western Provinces and Oudh.

It appears to the Lieutenant-Governor to be desirable, when publishing the revised rules under the Indian Factories Act, to take the opportunity to place on record the principal amendments made in the original Act XV of 1881 by Act XI of 1891, which came into force on the 1st January 1892.

2. The principal changes made by the new Act XI of 1891 are as follows:—

Section 3 of Act XI of 1891.

(1) The meaning of the term "factory" has been changed, so that it now includes premises (of certain descriptions) where 50 workmen, not 100 as formerly, are employed.

Section 18 of Act XI of 1891.

(2) The term "factory" may be extended to include other premises, for all or sundry purposes, if less than 50, but not less than 20 workmen are employed.

Sections 5 and 9.

(3) The term "child" now includes any person under the age of 14 years, and not 12, as formerly. Now, no child under the age of 9 may be employed; formerly, no child under 7 could be employed.

(4) Inspectors of factories can now be appointed either by name or by office, and, besides any other persons who may be so appointed, the District Magistrate remains Inspector of all factories in his district.

Section 6.

(5) The payment of prescribed fees to certifying surgeons for examining children and granting certificates of age to them, has now been provided for by the law, instead of being left to executive order.

Section 8.

(6) The fraudulent use of certificates of age has been made punishable with fine.

Section 15(2).

(7) An interval during the day for food and rest is to be allowed to all operatives, and not to children only as before. Sunday holidays are, with some small exceptions, to be obligatory for all operatives.

Section 10.

(a) There must be a stoppage of work for a full half hour between noon and 2 P.M., except in factories in which a system of employment in shifts or sets approved by the local Inspector is in force.

(b) Employés may work on Sundays to examine and repair machinery, but otherwise no person may be employed in a factory on a Sunday, unless he has had or will have a holiday on one of the three days preceding or succeeding the Sunday.

(c) The Governor-General in Council may exclude any class of factories from the operation of the rules as to holidays and stoppage of work, and the Local Government may allow Sunday labour in factories where certain kinds of necessary work are performed.

(8) Special provision has been made for the protection of women and children. No woman may be employed before 5 A.M. or after 8 P.M. No woman may be employed for more than 11 hours in any one day, and every woman is to be allowed rest in the proportion of 1½ hours to 11 hours' actual work. Factories of any class employing women in particular processes may be exempted from these provisions. No child may be employed before 5 A.M. or after 8 P.M.

Section 10.

The maximum employment for a child has been reduced from 9 to 7 hours, and for every 6 hours' actual work a child must be allowed an interval of half an hour.

Notices are to be put up in English and the vernacular, showing the intervals of rest allowed for women and children.

(9) Rules can be made for the water-supply, proper ventilation, and sanitation of factories; also for the prevention of overcrowding in them.

Section 16.

(10) Occupiers of factories can be required to furnish such returns, occasional or periodical, as may be necessary for the effectual carrying out of the Act.

Section 16.

3. It has been announced that it is not the intention of the Governor-General in Council to exercise the powers enabling him to exempt persons and factories from the rules which require stoppage of work for food and rest and cessation from Sunday labour, and regulate the employment of women, except in cases in which the parties interested make, through the Local Government, a formal application for exemption and bring forward convincing reasons in justification of their proposals. The Local Government will then determine upon the representations of those interested in the industries concerned, and upon a review of the circumstances of each case, what industries are entitled to exemption under the powers which the Act enables it to exercise. It is the intention of the Government of India to allow Sunday labour only in rare and exceptional cases, in addition to the cases in which the Local Government can allow it in factories where certain kinds of necessary work are performed. The Local Government will decide whether the work performed satisfies the conditions of any one of the three heads specified, i.e., where the work performed (i) necessitates continuous production for technical reasons, or (ii) supplies the public with articles of prime necessity which must be made every day, or (iii) by its nature cannot be carried on, except at stated seasons, or at times dependent on the irregular action of natural forces, but, if it does, the exemption will be granted as a matter of course.

4. With a view to securing a strict observance of all the provisions of the Factory Act, it has been decided to appoint a special Inspector under section 3 of Act XV of 1881 for Bengal, and his services will also be utilized in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh. Should it be found feasible and expedient hereafter to extend his jurisdiction, this will be done; but for the present it will be limited to the provinces mentioned. Mr. C. A. Walsh of the Locomotive Department of the Superior Revenue Establishment of State Railways has been selected for the post, and his appointment will be duly notified.

5. Besides the special Inspector, the Civil Surgeons of districts, or private medical practitioners, if suitable persons can be found, will also be appointed Inspectors conjointly with District Officers. The medical men so appointed will also be the Certifying Surgeons under section 5 of the Act, as the Lieutenant-Governor believes that the amalgamation of the duties of Inspector and Certifying Surgeon will help to secure the more effective performance of the duties of inspection. In the case of children employed in a factory, when an Inspector, seeing them at work, has reason to believe them to be under the age limit prescribed by the Act, he can take evidence on the spot or otherwise. He would also be entitled to take exception to the certificate which a child holds as not applying to him, and to prohibit his employment until he procured another certificate; and, if he had been himself the certifying officer, he could probably say whether a particular child was of such an age or physique that the certificate produced would have been signed by him. A medical officer would be the best authority on all questions of sanitation in connection with factory labour, and his visits of inspection should be made at irregular hours. The duties of the medical officer will be limited generally to seeing that the provisions of the law as regards children are not infringed, and to suggesting sanitary improvements to the Magistrate, who, by virtue of his office, will be an Inspector. In the 24-Parganas, where the time of the District Magistrate is already fully occupied, the senior Covenanted Assistant or Joint-Magistrate will be the ex-officio Inspector.

6. Under section 5 of Act XV of 1881 as amended, a fee of 4 annas will be paid to the Civil Surgeons of districts, or such other persons practising medicine or surgery as the Local Government may from time to time declare to be Certifying Surgeons for any local areas, for each certificate granted by them. The same medical officers, who will be appointed under section 3 of the Act by name or by office to be Inspectors, will also be required to give the necessary certificates of age under section 5. These officers will be as follows:—

I. In the district of the 24-Parganas—
  (1) The Resident Medical Officer of the Campbell Medical Hospital, for so much of the town of Calcutta as lies to the south of Canning Street, and for Sealdah.
  (2) The Resident Medical Officer of the Mayo Hospital, Calcutta, for so much of the town of Calcutta as lies to the north of Canning Street.
  (3) The Civil Surgeon of Hooghly for thána Naihati, in the 24-Parganas.
  (4) The Station Staff Surgeon of Dum-Dum for that sub-division.
  (5) The Medical Officer in charge of the Northern Suburban Hospital for Baranagore in the 24-Parganas.
  (6) Mr. J. M. Comley, M.R.C.S., for the factories at Budge-Budge.
  (7) The Civil Surgeon of the 24-Parganas, for the rest of the district.

II. For all other districts, the Civil Surgeon of the district.

The officers indicated in this paragraph will notify to the managers of the factories with which they are respectively concerned the place where and the time when they will be prepared to examine candidates for employment and grant certificates of age.

7. A Committee composed of the officers and gentlemen named in the margin was appointed to assist Government in framing the rules and forms of registers under the Acts. The rules, &c., as framed by them were published in draft as required by the law, and criticisms were invited for a period of two months. A few criticisms have been received, and the rules finally approved by the Lieutenant-Governor, after consideration of the suggestions made, are now published for general information. No rules regarding the fencing of machinery and mill-gearing, and for regulating the superficial, cubic and ventilating space per operative, have been at present laid down. But the Lieutenant-Governor will be prepared to prescribe any rules which experience and the reports of the several Inspectors may hereafter show to be required.

8. The notification of the Government of India, No. 428, dated 25th March 1892, under section 18, clause (2) of the Indian Factories Act XV of 1881, as amended by Act XI of 1891, has been attached to the Rules under the Act for convenience of reference.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of the Resolution and of the Rules be forwarded for information to the—

(1) Commissioners of Divisions and for favour of communication to District Officers for their information and guidance ;
(2) Commissioner of Police, Calcutta ;
(3) Quartermaster-General in India, with reference to his letter No. 278, dated the 30th January 1892 ;
(4) Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals ;
(5) Appointment Department of this Office ;
(6) Financial Department of this Office ;
(7) Accountant-General, Bengal ;
(8) Mr. C. A. Walsh.

Ordered also that copy be submitted to the Government of India in the Home Department, for information.

METALWARE EXHIBITION TO BE HELD IN LONDON IN JUNE, 1892.

The following is published for general information.

C. E. BUCKLAND,

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

REVENUE DEPT.—Miscellaneous,
The 3rd May, 1892.

Circular No. $\frac{15}{8}$, dated Simla, the 21st April 1892.

From—SIR E. C. BUCK, KT, Secretary to the Government of India, Revenue and Agricultural Department,

To—

IN continuation of the telegram from this Department dated 2nd instant, I am directed to state that intimation has been received that the official opening of the Imperial Institute will not take place this year. It has been decided, however, by the Executive Council of the Imperial Institute to organize an Exhibition of Indian metal-work during the summer, and to invite loans of art-ware specimens from manufacturers, dealers, and owners for the purpose. This Exhibition will be opened in June, 1892.

2. The accompanying form and instructions have been received from Sir Frederick Abel, Secretary to the Council of the Imperial Institute, and I am to request that, with the permission of

, they may be circulated to large merchants and dealers, and, if necessary, published in the local Gazette for the information and guidance of persons desirous of exhibiting. Arrangements should be made for the despatch of exhibits direct to the Secretary to the Imperial Institute, London, S. W., to whom the applications received may also be posted direct by the Local Government.

3. No charge will be made to merchants for space in the building. Large manufacturers and dealers will have to defray the cost incurred for the casing, &c., of their specimens, but in the case of artizans who contribute specimens for exhibition, the Institute will defray the necessary outlay. All other expenses will have to be borne by exhibitors.

4. Any exhibits which may have already been collected under the terms of the circular instructions noted in the margin may be forwarded to the Imperial Institute.

No. $\frac{4}{23}$, dated 27th June, 1891.

No. $\frac{21}{23}$, dated 26th September, 1891.

5. I am to request that the Government of India may be informed by telegraph before the 15th proximo of the total amount of case-room that will probably be required for exhibits from

IMPERIAL INSTITUTE.

Exhibition of Indian Metal-work, 1892.

THE Executive Council invite applications for space from Merchants and Manufacturers in India, and from bonâ fide Importers, for the exhibition of Indian metal-work, including applications of metals in textile fabrics.

Allotments will be made by the Executive Council in accordance with the space available. No charge will be made for space allotted.

Applications to be made through the Local Government or such officers as it may appoint for the purpose on this form not later than ——— ——— 1892.

TO THE SECRETARY TO THE IMPERIAL INSTITUTE, LONDON, S. W., THROUGH THE GOVERNMENT OF ———.

Please allot to me (us) the following amount of space for the exhibition of articles described overleaf :—

Floor Space ——— feet × ——— feet.

Wall Space ——— feet × ——— feet.

DESCRIPTION OF ARTICLES.

See Regulation No. 17, page 3.

In case of my application being granted (wholly or in part), I declare that I will strictly adhere to the regulations of the Executive Council, as printed on the next page which I will consider as binding.

REGULATIONS.

1. The Exhibition will be opened in or about the month of June 1892, and will remain open for a period of about five months.

2. Signs or descriptive labels, &c., must be submitted to, and approved by, the Executive Council before use.

3. All cases, tables, stands or other fittings must be provided at the cost of the Exhibitor.

4. The rooms in which the Exhibition will be held are 20 feet in height; designs to scale of all trophies, show cases, &c., must, previous to their erection, be approved by the Executive Council.

5. No means of securing or fixing cases or trophies can be permitted which will deface or in any way injure the walls of the rooms.

6. Exhibitors will be required to provide attendants for keeping their stands and exhibits properly cleaned and in good order, or must arrange to have this work done, at their expense, by the Executive Council. All stands should remain uncovered during the hours the exhibition is open to the public.

7. It is probable that the hours during which the Exhibition will remain open to the public will be from 11 A.M. to 10 P.M. on all days except Wednesdays and Fridays, when the hour of closing will be 5 P.M. These arrangements are, however, subject to alteration. The Exhibition will not be open on Sundays.

8. No sales will be allowed to take place in the building, but authorised attendants or agents of Exhibitors may take orders for the delivery of duplicates.

9. No exhibit may be removed until the close of the Exhibition without permission of the Executive Council.

10. No article exhibited may be photographed, drawn, copied, or reproduced in any manner whatsoever, without the special sanction of the Executive Council.

11. All packages containing goods intended for exhibition must be addressed to the Secretary, and bear the name of the exhibitor by whom they are sent.

12. All goods intended for exhibition should reach the Institute buildings on or before the 1st of June 1892. Exhibits must be ready for inspection at least two days previous to the opening.

13. All arrangements for the unpacking, arranging and removal of exhibits must be made, and expenses borne, by the Exhibitors, or by arrangements in accordance with 6.

14. The Executive Council reserves to itself the right of refusing to admit any exhibit.

15. The Executive Council reserves to itself the sole right of publishing and selling a Catalogue, and for this purpose requests that a descriptive list, duly classified, of the goods intended for exhibition may be forwarded to the Secretary by the respective Exhibitors not later than the 1st of June 1892.

16. The Executive Council, while taking every precaution for the protection of articles in the buildings, cannot hold itself responsible for their loss or damage from whatsoever cause arising.

17. Only objects of British East Indian manufacture will be admitted. This rule can only be relaxed by special permission of the Executive Council.

18. All communications to be addressed to the Secretary of the Imperial Institute London, S. W., and to have marked on the cover the words "Indian Metal-work Exhibition."

DACCA DIVN.
16	Dacca April 30, '92	2·72	Weather—cool and cloudy. Sowing of jute and paddy continues. Prospects of standing crops improved by the recent rain. Fodder available. No cattle-disease. Common rice selling at from 12 to 15 seers per rupee.
17	Faridpur ,, 30, '92	1·08	Weather—Thursday's (28th) storm cooled the air for a short time, but it is as hot as ever again now. The rain has done good, and the young crops are coming on, and many fields have been sown during the week. Rice sells at 14 seers per rupee at Sadar and 13 seers at Madaripur. No report from Goalundo. Condition of cattle good.
18	Backergunge ,, 30, '92	1·72	Weather—hot and cloudy. Rainfall general throughout the district. State and prospects of crops fair. Sowing of aus in progress. Ordinary rice sells at from 9 to 13 seers per rupee. Fodder sufficient; good drinking water scarce.
19	Mymensingh ,, 30, '92	3·46	Weather—fairly cool; cloudy with showers of rain. Prospects of standing crops good, but the heavy showers have done some injury to aus and jute sowings in the Netrokona subdivision. Common rice selling at from 13 to 15 seers per rupee. Condition of cattle good. Supply of fodder and water sufficient.
RAJSHAHI DIVN.
20	Dinajpur ,, 30, '92	Nil	Weather—hot. Cool in the morning. Sowing of bhadoi, jute, and sugarcane still continues. Price of rice at Sadar 12 seers per rupee, and at Thakurgaon stationary. Condition of cattle good. Supply of fodder and drinking water now sufficient.
	Thakurgaon ...	0·09
21	Rajshahi ,, 30, '92	0·27	Weather—very hot and seasonable. If showers fall now and then, as they have been doing lately, there will be good crops of aus, áman, jute and sugarcane; at the same time several inches of rain would not come amiss. For the present, at any rate, the crops are in a flourishing condition. Water and fodder generally sufficient, save in the Barind; condition of cattle is generally good except for a few cases of small-pox in Nator subdivision. Prices of rice range from 10½ seers to 15 seers per rupee.

	Nilphamari ...	0·22
23	Bogra ,, 30, '92	0·90	Weather—hot and fine in the early part of the week. Rainy and very cool from the 26th. Fine weather is wanted now that a sufficiency of rain has fallen. There is plenty of fodder and water, and the prospects of the crops are good. Common rice sells on an average at 13½ seers per rupee.
	Sherpur ...	0·44
	Naukhála ...	0·54
24	Pabna ,, 30, 92	0·21	Weather—hot and cool. There is a gathering of clouds almost every evening, but no fall of rain. Ploughing and sowing in full progress, but unless there is more rain, the seedlings are likely to be injured. Rice is selling at 13 seers per rupee. Fodder and water-supply sufficient except at Dulai.
25	Darjeeling ,, 30, 92	2·04	Weather—fair with occasional breaks. Rainfall in the Terai 0·60. Sowing of jute and bhadoi progressing. Wheat and barley are still being harvested. Aghani paddy is being sown. Fodder and water-supply improved by rain. Cattle-disease in some parts of the hills.
26	Jalpaiguri ,, 30, '92	0·50	Weather—slightly cooler. Rain has improved agricultural prospects. Sowing of bhadoi and jute progressing rapidly. Common rice sells at from 10 to 11 seers per rupee. No cattle-disease reported. Fodder and water-supply sufficient.
BIHÁR.
BHÁGALPUR DIVN.
27	Monghyr ,, 30, '92	Nil	Weather—hot, with west wind during the first part of the week; cooler with east wind during the latter part. Ploughing for bhadoi crop in progress. Sama, kheri, cheena, sugarcane, and indigo doing well. Cheena is being reaped. Water continues to get scarcer. Fodder sufficient.
	Begusarai ...	1·43
	Jamui ...	Nil
28	Bhágalpur ,, 30, '92	Nil	Weather—hot with easterly wind. Cheena is being harvested. Rice and mung sown broadcast in low lands doing well. A little makai has been sown on the diáras. Ploughing active, but more rain wanted, especially in the south. Mahua has given a 12-anna outturn. Water low; but fodder is sufficient, and cattle are healthy.
29	Purnea ,, 30, '92	0·05	A few local showers. Weather cloudy and hot. Ploughing and sowing continue. A good deal of early paddy is up and doing well. Cheena crop to the west is excellent. No cattle-disease or want of fodder or water. Prices of common rice :— Sadar ... ... 11 to 12 Srs. Kishanganj ... ... 11 Srs. Araria ... ... 12 to 13 Srs. per rupee.

		Aurangabad ...	Nil
	34	Shahabad .. 30, '92	Nil	The winds during the week have been variable, but latterly they have shifted to the west, causing a considerable increase in temperature. Millet, Indian-corn and sugarcane are now nearly the only crops on the ground; all are doing well. An immense export of wheat to Calcutta is taking place, which is affecting prices. Opium weighment in full swing.
		Buxar ...	Nil
		Bhabhua ...	Nil
		Sasarám ...	Nil
	35	Darbhanga .. 30, '92	0·29	Beginning of week very hot, but owing to storm with hail, weather much cooler at end of the week. Rain has benefited sugarcane, but more wanted for bhadoi cultivation and for indigo which is now above ground. Fodder sufficient, but water scarce in places. Price of coarse rice varies from 10 to 13 seers per rupee.
	36	Muzaffarpur „ 30, '92	Nil	Weather—hot with variable winds, chiefly easterly, accompanied with dust-storms. The late rain (on 22nd) was of much benefit to the sowings of dhan, mung, cheena &c., in the northern half of the Sitamarhi subdivision; elsewhere rain is still much wanted. Water in tanks and wells throughout the greater part of the district is becoming low. Prices are rising as the rain holds off, and numbers on relief works steadily increasing. Condition of cattle continues good.
		Hajipur ..	Nil
		Sitamarhi ..	1·16

	38	Champaran „ 30, '92	Nil	Weather—hot. Paddy seedlings are growing where sown. Cheena and paddy are still being sown. Common rice selling at 11 to 12 seers per rupee in the Sadar subdivision. Fodder and water plentiful.
ORISSA.
Orissa Div.	39	Cuttack „ 30, '92	Nil	Weather—hot and dry. Rain very badly wanted. Insufficiency of fodder-supply reported in parts. Price of common rice stationary: 11 to 17 seers per rupee.
	40	Puri „ 28, '92	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Rain wanted. Dalua is being harvested. Miscellaneous crops good. Common rice sells at from 12 to 15 seers per rupee.
	41	Balasore „ 30, '92	Nil	Weather—hot and dry. Cultivation is much retarded by the long-continued drought, and drinking water becoming scarce in places. Rice sells at 14 to 16 seers per rupee.
CHOTA NAGPUR.
		South-West Frontier Agency.
Chota Nagpur Divn.	42	Hazáribágh April 30, '92	Nil	Weather—very hot. Mango expected to yield from 4 to 12 annas. Coarse rice selling at from 12 to 14 seers per rupee. Fodder and water getting scarce in some places.
		Giridi ...	Nil
	43	Lohardaga „ 30, '92	Nil	Weather continues very hot. No crop on the ground. Common rice selling at 13 seers per rupee. Price of fodder rising.
	44	Palámau „ 29, '92	Nil	Weather—very hot. Sugarcane doing well. Gathering of mahua finished. Price of common rice stationary. Supply of water and fodder scanty, especially in thána Hossanabad.
	45	Singhbhum „ 30, '92	Nil	Weather—intensely hot. Mango crop doing well excepting at Dumuria outpost jurisdiction, where the probable outturn is put down at 2 annas. Price of rice stationary. No complaints in regard to fodder and water-supply.
	46	Manbhum „ 30, '92	Nil	Weather—very hot. Rain urgently wanted. Fodder and water-supply greatly diminished. Rice sells at 12 to 17 seers per rupee.

me the report of the Indian Association, who so far misconceive the object of the Bill as to say that they welcome it as a further expansion of the principle of Local Self-Government in these Provinces. The prayer of the Association is, that further powers may be given to the punchayet of the village. Now I must say, once for all, that this Government does not look on the administration of the Police as in any way connected with the development or extension of the principle of Local Self-Government; on the contrary, we believe that if there is any duty of the Government which it is inexpedient to municipalise, it is the control of the Police. The inhabitants of a village have no claim to a municipal administration in any respect, still less have they any claim to control the Police. For the discharge of such duties the highest possible qualifications must be secured, and when the low calibre of the men who constitute a village punchayet is considered, the advantage appears to be wholly on the side of a Police administration by the Central Government. I am not only expressing my own decided opinion in this matter, but I may remind the Council that the subject is amply discussed by no less an eminent authority than the late Mr. John Stuart Mill, whose book on representative Government might well be more widely read in this country amongst the friends and advocates of Local Self-Government. He lays down in that volume with great force and clearness that the Police is a department of the Government which cannot be entrusted to the representatives of a rural tract; and so in England, we have withdrawn the control of the village police from the villagers, and the old village watch has disappeared. In Bengal we do not go so far as to desire that the village watch of this country shall altogether disappear, and we wish to adhere to the only sound element of the chaukidari system, viz., that of retaining the local knowledge of men resident in the village in which they are to be employed; but we do desire to modify it materially, and the direction this modification takes is, by placing the village watch more under executive authority than it now is.

"At present the punchayet, which is in other words the representative of the village community, not only appoints the chaukidars, but has authority under the law to decide within specified limits how many chaukidars shall be employed and to fix their salaries. On these three main points the power and authority of the punchayet is curtailed by the present Bill. It is proposed to allow the punchayet to nominate, but the appointment of the village watch will rest in future with the District Magistrate. It is laid down also that the Magistrate and not the punchayet shall determine the number of chaukidars within specified limits. This is a proviso which experience has shown to be very necessary. The law authorises the punchayet now to fix the number of chaukidars, and in practice it has been found that they reduce the number, and the Magistrate has been obliged to interfere to maintain the minimum number of chaukidars prescribed by law. They have done so without any specific legal authority, but it is only in this way that the full number of chaukidars has been maintained. Under the present Bill, the Magistrate is vested with the power he has hitherto informally exercised. Similarly, it is proposed—and this is a point of at least equal importance—that the Magistrate shall fix the salary of the chaukidar. The salary is now fixed by the punchayet, and the tendency is to fix it at a rate so low as to be below the standard of efficiency. Per contra there is a provision in the present Bill which may be said to be of a more radical character than anything the present law contemplates. Under the present Act, the punchayet is appointed by the District Magistrate. The Bill, I have in my hand, proposes that under certain conditions the punchayet may be elected by the villagers, introducing thereby the elective principle into villages. Now, Mr. President, this is not a section of the Bill with which I personally have much sympathy. My own view is not in favour of introducing democratic institutions into India, and I do not think that the introduction of the elective principle into villages will be calculated to benefit the villagers in any way. However, it has been thought advisable to leave this section in the Bill for the present, and it is hoped that there may be a discussion in Council, and that public opinion may be elicited, so that the Government may know what the views of others are on the subject. The idea is one which was put forward by the late Police Commission, and the Government are not pledged to it in any way; but if it is found that public opinion, as expressed through this Council, is in favour of the provision, then the Government will have no objection to allow it to remain.

"For the rest, the changes proposed in the law are more or less of detail. Powers of arrest are given to chaukidars, thus assimilating their powers to those now exercised by the regular Police. An important section is introduced authorising the Magistrate, if the collections by the punchayet are very bad, or if he finds that the chaukidar is imperfectly paid, to appoint a Government Collector of the chaukidari tax by whom the chaukidari rate will be levied and paid to the chaukidar. This is a provision which exists in the present law only, so far that it is within the competency of the punchayet to apply to the Magistrate to appoint a tahsildar. But the Bill authorises the Magistrate under specified conditions to appoint a tahsildar of his own accord.

"And then, lastly, there is a section introduced under which fines imposed on chaukidars are credited to a District Chaukidari Reward Fund, the control of which rests with the Magistrate. At present fines, when realised, are credited to the Village Chaukidari Fund; that is to say, they pass to the punchayet. The Magistrate has no control over them, and the effect is that if the punchayet and the chaukidar work together and are friendly one with the other, no fine whatever can be inflicted on the chaukidar. It is thought desirable that the Magistrate of the district should have the power of inflicting some punishment on chaukidars other than dismissal. The fine will then be credited to a Reward Fund for distribution among deserving chaukidars, a provision which has always been much needed, and is calculated to improve the administration of the Village Police Force.

"The present legislation will not in any way touch Part II of the existing Act, which relates to chakran or service land. That is a very complicated and elaborate matter, which is reserved for further consideration and legislation. The present Bill is introduced simply with the objects, I have described, of strengthening the control of the executive authorities over the village police.

"I have now the honour to introduce the Bill and to move that it be read in Council."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Bill was read accordingly.

The HON'BLE MR. COTTON said:—"I now move that the Bill be referred to a Select Committee. I may say that it is the intention of the Government to circulate the Bill widely, and to invite non-official as well as official opinion upon it. I propose to add the name of the Hon'ble Mr. Risley to those on the paper. He was a member of the Police Commission, and is in a position to afford valuable assistance in considering the measure. The Committee to whom I propose to refer the Bill will, therefore, consist of the Hon'ble Sir Henry Harrison, the Hon'ble Mr. Allen, the Hon'ble Mr. Risley, the Hon'ble Babu Gonosh Chunder Chunder and the Mover."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

LICENSED WAREHOUSE AND FIRE-BRIGADE BILL.

The HON'BLE SIR HENRY HARRISON moved for leave to introduce a Bill for the regulation of Warehouses and the maintenance of a Fire-brigade.

He said:—"As I am going to ask your Honour afterwards to suspend the Rules of Business, I need not make any remarks on the Bill at this stage."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The HON'BLE SIR HENRY HARRISON applied to the President to suspend the Rules of Business to enable him to introduce the Bill, and to move that it be read in Council and referred to a Select Committee.

The HON'BLE THE PRESIDENT having declared the Rules suspended—

The HON'BLE SIR HENRY HARRISON said:—"I now beg to introduce the Bill, and to move that it be read in Council. The main object of this Bill is, in on word, to relieve the jute industry from bearing the entire cost of the Fire-brigade in Calcutta as it now does. The jute industry has reached this position rather by a process of drift than by any intention on the part of the Legislature, to saddle it with the whole of this charge. As a matter of fact, the Fire-brigade in Calcutta and the establishment of jute warehouses in Calcutta, were almost synchronous. Prior to 1872, there was no Fire-brigade worthy of the name; the Municipality maintained a few hand engines, and whatever they maintained, they paid for. In 1866, when the Municipal Act was amended, the danger arising from jute warehouses, especially from unpressed jute, was so great that certain sections were introduced to provide for the right of inspecting them. Soon after, in 1871, severe fires broke out in Calcutta, which were distinctly traceable and due to jute warehouses, and upon that the Chamber of Commerce, the Trades Association, the British Indian Association, and several other bodies petitioned the Government to take the matter into their serious consideration and protect the public, and the outcome of that was the first Act of 1872, which imposed fees on jute warehouses varying from Rs. 250 to Rs. 1,000, and at the same time provided for the maintenance of an efficient Fire-brigade, and steam fire-engines were ordered out in that year for the first time. Apparently it was not the intention of the Act that the fees should cover the entire cost of the Fire-brigade, because a tax was imposed on insurance offices at the rate of eight annas on every Rs. 10,000 insured, and it was also provided that the Municipalities of the town and the suburbs should make good any deficiency in the income. But, as a matter of fact, partly, I suppose, owing to the great multiplicity of jute warehouses, and partly owing to the fees having been fixed so high, the income very far exceeded the expenditure, as would be seen by the fact that between 1872 and 1881, the Government made grants from the Fire-brigade Fund of Rs. 40,000 to widen the street opposite the Municipal Office; of Rs. 16,552 as a contribution towards the Lock Hospital; of Rs. 10,000 for improvements in the suburbs, and, lastly, of Rs. 60,000 to help towards the widening of a portion of the Chitpur Road. Thus it came about that, althougl a small portion may have been due to the tax upon insurances which was not abandoned till 1879, practically the jute industry paid for the whole of the Fire-brigade, and so much more that large funds accrued at the disposal of the Government which were appropriated for beneficial purposes for the town and suburbs. Accordingly in 1879 another Act was passed—one amending Act had already been passed in 1875 which does not bear much upon the present question —in order to reduce the fees. The tax on insurances being no longer required was abandoned, and it was arranged that the Government should fix the rates in accordance with the recommendation of the Commissioners, and as a matter of fact, the rate was fixed at a sum not exceeding ten per cent. upon the annual valuation of jute warehouses; and a rule was also passed that the town should bear 7-10ths and the suburbs (not Howrah) 3-10ths of the entire cost of the Brigade. However, as the number of jute warehouses went on increasing, and as land was cheaper and sites more available in the suburbs, it very soon appeared that the town warehouses had to be taxed very much more than those in the suburbs to keep up these proportions. The suburbs met its 3-10ths share with the greatest possible ease, whereas the town had to keep up the rate at its maximum to meet its share. Accordingly in 1883 the Act No. IV, which it is now proposed to repeal by this Bill, was passed—first, to abandon the proportion of 7-10ths and 3-10ths, and to place jute warehouses in the town and the suburbs on the same footing, and instead of having separate Fire-brigades for Howrah and the town and suburbs, as had been done before, to have one Fire-brigade for the whole urban area, for the town and all its environs on both sides of the river, and to introduce the same rule in Howrah as regards fees upon jute warehouses. It was arranged that the inspection of jute warehouses should be vested in the Municipality, as also the collection of the fees, and for this purpose they were allowed to take 20 per cent. of the entire proceeds, and the remaining 80 per cent. were paid to the Commissioner of Police for the maintenance of the Fire-brigade; and as a matter of fact these fees, with the receipts from the petroleum fees and from other sources, had as nearly as possible just maintained the Fire-brigade. So that since 1883 it had come to this, that the jute industry no longer paid more than was necessary, but it still paid practically the whole cost of the Fire-brigade of the town and its environs. The Fire-brigade, which is useful, if not often for pucka houses, very much for bustees and huts, has been entirely supported from this one industry alone; for although 'cotton' is included, almost the whole of the receipts come from jute. The Chamber of Commerce represented that this was not fair; that though there was a provision that any deficit should be made good by the Municipality, yet, as a matter of fact, the rate of fees which was levied was sufficient to meet the entire cost of the Fire-brigade, and upon this representation of the Chamber, the Government were evidently satisfied as to the general justice of the protest, and they accordingly appointed a Committee upon which the Chamber, the Police, the Corporation of Calcutta, the Port Commissioners and some others were represented.

"I was one of the members of that Committee, and therefore I am able to speak from personal knowledge of its proceedings. It was found that all were unanimous that it was not just to expect that the whole cost of the Fire-brigade should be paid by one industry. But then two separate principles claimed recognition. One principle was, that though the jute industry ought not to bear the whole cost, it was sound principle that warehouses for hazardous goods, which, combined with huts and bustees, were the chief sources of fires, should pay more than the ordinary sum payable for substantial pucka houses where the risk of fires was very small. The other principle put before us was, as a matter of fact, that all such distinctions, however justifiable in principle, were difficult to carry out in equity and practice, and therefore should be abandoned. Both in Bombay and in England it has been recognised as the simplest and best course to have a uniform taxation on all classes of property. In Bombay, there is a tax of $\frac{3}{4}$ per cent. on the valuation for the Fire-brigade. In England, Fire-brigades were generally supported in the same way. But the Committee thought that, in the first place, such a principle was not nearly so applicable to India as to England, because in Calcutta there was scarcely any risk of fire at all from pucka houses in which fires were so seldom lighted in the main building; whereas, on the other hand, we have much more risk from warehouses in Calcutta. In the second place, the Committee thought that, although they might not have been willing to introduce it for the first time, a distinction between hazardous and non-hazardous goods which had been recognised for 20 years ought not to be needlessly abandoned. They thought that there was no reason to pass suddenly from one extreme to another, and consequently they adopted the middle course of continuing to place considerable extra taxation on hazardous goods, and at the same time to make the whole community contribute towards the cost of the Fire-brigade.

"On looking about also they saw there was another source of revenue which clearly ought to be utilised. In the town of Calcutta dangerous and offensive trades pay, as is reasonable, extra taxation in consequence of their character, such as depôts of wood, hay, straw, coal and rags which, barring the latter, cannot be said to be offensive but dangerous, and it seemed to them reasonable that their inflammability should be recognised as a source of income towards meeting the cost of the Fire-brigade. Consequently, the Committee thought that the proceeds of these licenses, which in the Municipality were taken over and above the ordinary trade license, ought to be added to the Fire-brigade Fund, and ought to form one source of its revenue.

"Then came the question of apportionment—a very difficult matter to deal with; because it is obvious that so many indirect considerations enter into what is a fair apportionment, that it is hardly possible to do more than adopt a general approximate apportionment. As regards this, the Committee were at first inclined to think that jute and cotton ought to pay 50 per cent., and depôts of wood, hay, straw, &c., 20 per cent. On further consideration and further correspondence with the Chamber, the proposals made were of this kind. In the first place, that the law was defective at stopping at unpressed and unscrewed jute. In the law, as it now stands, which the Bill which is now introduced will repeal, jute and cotton meant respectively jute and cotton not pressed or screwed for shipment. Now it so happened that one of the largest and worst fires recently occurred in a warehouse which had no unscrewed or unpressed jute; and it was asked why should these, which were obviously hazardous goods, though not in the same degree, be exempted altogether. In the same way it was pointed out that all gunnies were extremely dangerous, and so were rope manufactories; and, therefore, the Chamber contended that the area of hazardous goods ought to be increased. Eventually it was agreed that 20 per cent. was too much to take from depôts of wood, hay, straw, coal and rags, and it was reduced to 10 per cent., and, on the other hand, the percentage to be paid by hazardous goods of the nature of warehouses was extended to 60 per cent. That left 30 per cent. to be met, and the question was considered whether the tax should not be re-imposed upon insurance offices. But looking at the fact that the tax would be paid by the insurers who may be taxed over again, and on various other grounds, the Committee did not recommend that this should be adopted. The Bill, therefore, proceeds on these lines; 60 per cent. of the cost to be imposed on hazardous warehouses, but what is to be exactly included in this has been left somewhat undetermined in the Bill, because the representatives of the Chamber proposed to include a very large number of goods. The Council are probably aware that there is a separate Act for the regulation of petroleum, and that fees are already paid by it for the support of the Fire-brigade. Of course it is not pretended that godowns used for retail trade should be touched. There is a section of the Bill which relates to hazardous goods, but whether all these ought to be included in it or not is a matter upon which the Committee did not make any definite recommendation, because further discussion of them appeared to be infructuous except by the authority which would have the power to decide the point. They thought it best, therefore, to leave it to the Council to determine precisely what should be included. The Bill goes so far as to include, as liable to pay under the hazardous schedule, all kinds of jute, pressed and unpressed, and warehoused for storage, and all store-houses for oil other than petroleum or ropes or rope material or any other substance or thing for the time being subject to the operation of this Act. The system on which it is proposed to work the Act is this: the Commissioner of Police will prepare a budget to show the whole expenditure on the Fire-brigade, on the receipt side of which he shall show all the various receipts for licenses for fireworks, petroleum and other sources. This, of course, will show a deficit which will be met to the extent of 60 per cent. by a tax on warehouses under the Act, and of 40 per cent. on the Municipalities. The reason why 40 per cent. is to be taken from the Municipalities is this, that, under the present law, the Municipalities have the entire control of the license fees from dangerous goods, such as wood, hay, straw, coal and rags, and it was not thought desirable to fetter their discretion more than at present; it was therefore left to them to decide what fee to impose. At present they do get nearly ten per cent. of the cost of the Fire-brigade, but it is open to them, as far as the law allows, to increase or decrease these fees, and then make good the remainder. If they keep the fees as they are now actually collected, the amount which they will have to contribute from other funds will be about 30 per cent. These fees are left in their possession and control, and all the Government will expect from them will be a contribution of 40 per cent. The other 60 per cent. will be raised in a somewhat tentative manner by licenses on hazardous warehouses. Estimates will have to be framed of the assessed value of the properties, and a percentage fixed. If in the first year it proves too much, in the next year the Government will reduce it. Anyhow, it will be the duty of the Government to work this percentage so that it practically provides for the share which falls on these industries. One more change the law introduces, mainly in the interests of economy. It is to transfer the inspection of these warehouses from the Municipality to the Police. The Police have now the inspection of all petroleum godowns; they have facilities in their present establishment far greater than the Municipalities have, who have to maintain a special establishment for the purpose.

"The Police have an organization which already enables them to carry out inspections, and no doubt they will carry it out at a much cheaper cost than the 15 per cent. which is estimated to be the cost to the Municipality. The Municipality will continue to grant licenses at the rate at which the Government may lay down, and they will collect the fees, and after appropriating 5 per cent., will make over the rest to the Government. As regards the charge of the Fire-brigade, the question was raised whether any alteration should be made in its management; but the Committee, and the Government in accordance with their views, considered that the management of the Fire-brigade has been highly satisfactory. I speak with some personal knowledge, and I think it is very well managed. Though it was originally under the Corporation, it was found convenient as early as 1872 to make over the management to the Commissioner of Police. The Act of 1879 sanctioned this change, and that arrangement has remained in force ever since. But as regards economy and efficiency, it is much better managed than in Bombay, where a $\frac{3}{4}$th per cent. rate is levied. There the Fire-brigade is in the hands of the Corporation, and the expenses are out of all proportion to the collection of the rates. The Police furnishes a very efficient body of firemen, who are only paid on the occurrence of fires, which is a far more economical arrangement; and it is a great advantage that the same men who have the management of the brigade should, in case of necessity, have Police powers also. Therefore the Act leaves the management and control of the Fire-brigade untouched. These are the general outlines of the Bill under consideration. I now beg leave to introduce it, and to move that it be read in Council."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Bill was read accordingly.

The Hon'ble Sir Henry Harrison also moved that the Bill be referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Hon'ble the Officiating Advocate-General, the Hon'ble Mr. Wallis, the Hon'ble Shahzada Mahommed Furrokh Shah and the Mover.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Council adjourned sine die.

(7) Letter No. 133, dated the 28th January 1892, from the Government of India, Home Department, communicating the Secretary of State's sanction to the appointment of a special Inspector of Factories for the Lower Provinces and the North-Western Provinces and Oudh.

(8) Letter No. 278B., dated the 30th January 1892, from the Quartermaster-General in India, recommending, on sanitary grounds, the appointment of Civil Surgeons to be Inspectors of Factories within cantonment limits.

(9) Letter No. 209, dated the 15th February 1892, and enclosure, and endorsement No. 294, dated the 27th January 1892, and enclosure, from the Government of India, Home Department, regarding the jurisdiction and emoluments of the special Inspector of Factories for the Lower Provinces and the North-Western Provinces and Oudh.

(10) Letter No. 151M.G., dated the 14th March 1892, and enclosure, from the Commissioner of the Presidency Division, suggesting amendments in the rules which were published in draft for public criticism.

(11) Memorandum No. 567R., dated the 29th March 1892, and enclosures, from the Public Works Department of this Government, placing the services of Mr. C. A. Walsh, of the Superior Revenue Establishment of State Railways, at the disposal of the General Department for employment as special Inspector of Factories in Bengal and the North-Western Provinces and Oudh.

It appears to the Lieutenant-Governor to be desirable, when publishing the revised rules under the Indian Factories Act, to take the opportunity to place on record the principal amendments made in the original Act XV of 1881 by Act XI of 1891, which came into force on the 1st January 1892.

2. The principal changes made by the new Act XI of 1891 are as follows:—

(1) The meaning of the term "factory" has been changed, so that it now includes premises (of certain descriptions) where 50 workmen, not 100 as formerly, are employed.

Section 3 of Act XI of 1891.

(2) The term "factory" may be extended to include other premises, for all or sundry purposes, if less than 50, but not less than 20 workmen are employed.

Section 18 of Act XI of 1891.

(3) The term "child" now includes any person under the age of 14 years, and not 12, as formerly. Now, no child under the age of 9 may be employed; formerly, no child under 7 could be employed.

Sections 5 and 9.

(4) Inspectors of factories can now be appointed either by name or by office, and, besides any other persons who may be so appointed, the District Magistrate remains Inspector of all factories in his district. Section 6.

(5) The payment of prescribed fees to certifying surgeons for examining children and granting certificates of age to them, has now been provided for by the law, instead of being left to executive order. Section 8.

(6) The fraudulent use of certificates of age has been made punishable with fine. Section 15(2).

(7) An interval during the day for food and rest is to be allowed to all operatives, and not to children only as before. Sunday holidays are, with some small exceptions, to be obligatory for all operatives. Section 10.

(a) There must be a stoppage of work for a full half hour between noon and 2 P.M., except in factories in which a system of employment in shifts or sets approved by the local Inspector is in force.

(b) Employés may work on Sundays to examine and repair machinery, but otherwise no person may be employed in a factory on a Sunday, unless he has had or will have a holiday on one of the three days preceding or succeeding the Sunday.

(c) The Governor-General in Council may exclude any class of factories from the operation of the rules as to holidays and stoppage of work, and the Local Government may allow Sunday labour in factories where certain kinds of necessary work are performed.

(8) Special provision has been made for the protection of women and children. No woman may be employed before 5 A.M. or after 8 P.M. No woman may be employed for more than 11 hours in any one day, and every woman is to be allowed rest in the proportion of 1½ hours to 11 hours' actual work. Factories of any class employing women in particular processes may be exempted from these provisions. No child may be employed before 5 A.M. or after 8 P.M. Section 10.

The maximum employment for a child has been reduced from 9 to 7 hours, and for every 6 hours' actual work a child must be allowed an interval of half an hour.

Notices are to be put up in English and the vernacular, showing the intervals of rest allowed for women and children.

(9) Rules can be made for the water-supply, proper ventilation, and sanitation of factories; also for the prevention of overcrowding in them. Section 16.

(10) Occupiers of factories can be required to furnish such returns, occasional or periodical, as may be necessary for the effectual carrying out of the Act. Section 16.

3. It has been announced that it is not the intention of the Governor-General in Council to exercise the powers enabling him to exempt persons and factories from the rules which require stoppage of work for food and rest and cessation from Sunday labour, and regulate the employment of women, except in cases in which the parties interested make, through the Local Government, a formal application for exemption and bring forward convincing reasons in justification of their proposals. The Local Government will then determine upon the representations of those interested in the industries concerned, and upon a review of the circumstances of each case, what industries are entitled to exemption under the powers which the Act enables it to exercise. It is the intention of the Government of India to allow Sunday labour only in rare and exceptional cases, in addition to the cases in which the Local Government can allow it in factories where certain kinds of necessary work are performed. The Local Government will decide whether the work performed satisfies the conditions of any one of the three heads specified, i.e., where the work performed (i) necessitates continuous production for technical reasons, or (ii) supplies the public with articles of prime necessity which must be made every day, or (iii) by its nature cannot be carried on, except at stated seasons, or at times dependent on the irregular action of natural forces, but, if it does, the exemption will be granted as a matter of course.

4. With a view to securing a strict observance of all the provisions of the Factory Act, it has been decided to appoint a special Inspector under section 3 of Act XV of 1881 for Bengal, and his services will also be utilized in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh. Should it be found feasible and expedient hereafter to extend his jurisdiction, this will be done; but for the present it will be limited to the provinces mentioned. Mr. C. A. Walsh of the Locomotive Department of the Superior Revenue Establishment of State Railways has been selected for the post, and his appointment will be duly notified.

5. Besides the special Inspector, the Civil Surgeons of districts, or private medical practitioners, if suitable persons can be found, will also be appointed Inspectors conjointly with District Officers. The medical men so appointed will also be the Certifying Surgeons under section 5 of the Act, as the Lieutenant-Governor believes that the amalgamation of the duties of Inspector and Certifying Surgeon will help to secure the more effective performance of the duties of inspection. In the case of children employed in a factory, when an Inspector, seeing them at work, has reason to believe them to be under the age limit prescribed by the Act, he can take evidence on the spot or otherwise. He would also be entitled to take exception to the certificate which a child holds as not applying to him, and to prohibit his employment until he procured another certificate; and, if he had been himself the certifying officer, he could probably say whether a particular child was of such an age or physique that the certificate produced would have been signed by him. A medical officer would be the best authority on all questions of sanitation in connection with factory labour, and his visits of inspection should be made at irregular hours. The duties of the medical officer will be limited generally to seeing that the provisions of the law as regards children are not infringed, and to suggesting sanitary improvements to the Magistrate, who, by virtue of his office, will be an Inspector. In the 24-Parganas, where the time of the District Magistrate is already fully occupied, the senior Covenanted Assistant or Joint-Magistrate will be the ex-officio Inspector.

6. Under section 5 of Act XV of 1881 as amended, a fee of 4 annas will be paid to the Civil Surgeons of districts, or such other persons practising medicine or surgery as the Local Government may from time to time declare to be Certifying Surgeons for any local areas, for each certificate granted by them. The same medical officers, who will be appointed under section 3 of the Act by name or by office to be Inspectors, will also be required to give the necessary certificates of age under section 5. These officers will be as follows:—

I. In the district of the 24-Parganas—
   (1) The Resident Medical Officer of the Campbell Medical Hospital, for so much of the town of Calcutta as lies to the south of Canning Street, and for Sealdah.
   (2) The Resident Medical Officer of the Mayo Hospital, Calcutta, for so much of the town of Calcutta as lies to the north of Canning Street.
   (3) The Civil Surgeon of Hooghly for thána Naihati, in the 24-Parganas.
   (4) The Station Staff Surgeon of Dum-Dum for that sub-division.
   (5) The Medical Officer in charge of the Northern Suburban Hospital for Baranagore in the 24-Parganas.
   (6) Mr. J. M. Comley, M.R.C.S., for the factories at Budge-Budge.
   (7) The Civil Surgeon of the 24-Parganas, for the rest of the district.

II. For all other districts, the Civil Surgeon of the district.

The officers indicated in this paragraph will notify to the managers of the factories with which they are respectively concerned the place where and the time when they will be prepared to examine candidates for employment and grant certificates of age.

7. A Committee composed of the officers and gentlemen named in the margin was appointed to assist Government in framing the rules and forms of registers under the Acts. The rules, &c., as framed by them were published in draft as required by the law, and criticisms were invited for a period of two months. A few criticisms have been received, and the rules finally approved by the Lieutenant-Governor, after consideration of the suggestions made, are now published for general information. No rules regarding the fencing of machinery and mill-gearing, and for regulating the superficial, cubic and ventilating space per operative, have been at present laid down. But the Lieutenant-Governor will be prepared to prescribe any rules which experience and the reports of the several Inspectors may hereafter show to be required.

8. The notification of the Government of India, No. 428, dated 25th March 1892, under section 18, clause (2) of the Indian Factories Act XV of 1881, as amended by Act XI of 1891, has been attached to the Rules under the Act for convenience of reference.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of the Resolution and of the Rules be forwarded for information to the—

(1) Commissioners of Divisions and for favour of communication to District Officers for their information and guidance ;
(2) Commissioner of Police, Calcutta ;

METALWARE EXHIBITION TO BE HELD IN LONDON IN JUNE, 1892.

The following is published for general information.

C. E. BUCKLAND,

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

REVENUE DEPT.—Miscellaneous,
The 3rd May, 1892.

Circular No. $\frac{15}{8}$, dated Simla, the 21st April 1892.

From—SIR E. C. BUCK, KT, Secretary to the Government of India, Revenue and Agricultural Department,

To—

IN continuation of the telegram from this Department dated 2nd instant, I am directed to state that intimation has been received that the official opening of the Imperial Institute will not take place this year. It has been decided, however, by the Executive Council of the Imperial Institute to organize an Exhibition of Indian metal-work during the summer, and to invite loans of art-ware specimens from manufacturers, dealers, and owners for the purpose. This Exhibition will be opened in June, 1892.

2. The accompanying form and instructions have been received from Sir Frederick Abel, Secretary to the Council of the Imperial Institute, and I am to request that, with the permission of

, they may be circulated to large merchants and dealers, and, if necessary, published in the local Gazette for the information and guidance of persons desirous of exhibiting. Arrangements should be made for the despatch of exhibits direct to the Secretary to the Imperial Institute, London, S. W., to whom the applications received may also be posted direct by the Local Government.

3. No charge will be made to merchants for space in the building. Large manufacturers and dealers will have to defray the cost incurred for the casing, &c., of their specimens, but in the case of artizans who contribute specimens for exhibition, the Institute will defray the necessary outlay. All other expenses will have to be borne by exhibitors.

4. Any exhibits which may have already been collected under the terms of the circular instructions noted in the margin may be forwarded to the Imperial Institute.

No. $\frac{4}{23}$, dated 27th June, 1891.

No. $\frac{21}{23}$, dated 26th September, 1891.

5. I am to request that the Government of India may be informed by telegraph before the 15th proximo of the total amount of case-room that will probably be required for exhibits from

IMPERIAL INSTITUTE.

Exhibition of Indian Metal-work, 1892.

THE Executive Council invite applications for space from Merchants and Manufacturers in India, and from bonâ fide Importers, for the exhibition of Indian metal-work, including applications of metals in textile fabrics.

Allotments will be made by the Executive Council in accordance with the space available. No charge will be made for space allotted.

Applications to be made through the Local Government or such officers as it may appoint for the purpose on this form not later than ——— ——— 1892.

TO THE SECRETARY TO THE IMPERIAL INSTITUTE, LONDON, S. W., THROUGH THE GOVERNMENT OF ——— ———.

Please allot to me (us) the following amount of space for the exhibition of articles described overleaf :—

Floor Space ——— ——— ———feet × ———feet.

Wall Space ——— ——— ——— feet × ——— feet.

DESCRIPTION OF ARTICLES.

In case of my application being granted (wholly or in part), I declare that I will strictly adhere to the regulations of the Executive Council, as printed on the next page which I will consider as binding.

REGULATIONS.

1. The Exhibition will be opened in or about the month of June 1892, and will remain open for a period of about five months.

2. Signs or descriptive labels, &c., must be submitted to, and approved by, the Executive Council before use.

3. All cases, tables, stands or other fittings must be provided at the cost of the Exhibitor.

4. The rooms in which the Exhibition will be held are 20 feet in height; designs to scale of all trophies, show cases, &c., must, previous to their erection, be approved by the Executive Council.

5. No means of securing or fixing cases or trophies can be permitted which will deface or in any way injure the walls of the rooms.

6. Exhibitors will be required to provide attendants for keeping their stands and exhibits properly cleaned and in good order, or must arrange to have this work done, at their expense, by the Executive Council. All stands should remain uncovered during the hours the exhibition is open to the public.

7. It is probable that the hours during which the Exhibition will remain open to the public will be from 11 A.M. to 10 P.M. on all days except Wednesdays and Fridays, when the hour of closing will be 5 P.M. These arrangements are, however, subject to alteration. The Exhibition will not be open on Sundays.

8. No sales will be allowed to take place in the building, but authorised attendants or agents of Exhibitors may take orders for the delivery of duplicates.

9. No exhibit may be removed until the close of the Exhibition without permission of the Executive Council.

10. No article exhibited may be photographed, drawn, copied, or reproduced in any manner whatsoever, without the special sanction of the Executive Council.

11. All packages containing goods intended for exhibition must be addressed to the Secretary, and bear the name of the exhibitor by whom they are sent.

12. All goods intended for exhibition should reach the Institute buildings on or before the 1st of June 1892. Exhibits must be ready for inspection at least two days previous to the opening.

13. All arrangements for the unpacking, arranging and removal of exhibits must be made, and expenses borne, by the Exhibitors, or by arrangements in accordance with 6.

14. The Executive Council reserves to itself the right of refusing to admit any exhibit.

15. The Executive Council reserves to itself the sole right of publishing and selling a Catalogue, and for this purpose requests that a descriptive list, duly classified, of the goods intended for exhibition may be forwarded to the Secretary by the respective Exhibitors not later than the 1st of June 1892.

16. The Executive Council, while taking every precaution for the protection of articles in the buildings, cannot hold itself responsible for their loss or damage from whatsoever cause arising.

17. Only objects of British East Indian manufacture will be admitted. This rule can only be relaxed by special permission of the Executive Council.

18. All communications to be addressed to the Secretary of the Imperial Institute London, S. W., and to have marked on the cover the words "Indian Metal-work Exhibition."

DACCA DIVN.
16	Dacca April 30, '92	2·72	Weather—cool and cloudy. Sowing of jute and paddy continues. Prospects of standing crops improved by the recent rain. Fodder available. No cattle-disease. Common rice selling at from 12 to 15 seers per rupee.
17	Faridpur ,, 30, '92	1·08	Weather—Thursday's (28th) storm cooled the air for a short time, but it is as hot as ever again now. The rain has done good, and the young crops are coming on, and many fields have been sown during the week. Rice sells at 14 seers per rupee at Sadar and 13 seers at Madaripur. No report from Goalundo. Condition of cattle good.
18	Backergunge ,, 30, '92	1·72	Weather—hot and cloudy. Rainfall general throughout the district. State and prospects of crops fair. Sowing of aus in progress. Ordinary rice sells at from 9 to 13 seers per rupee. Fodder sufficient; good drinking water scarce.
19	Mymensingh ,, 30, '92	3·46	Weather—fairly cool; cloudy with showers of rain. Prospects of standing crops good, but the heavy showers have done some injury to aus and jute sowings in the Netrokona subdivision. Common rice selling at from 13 to 15 seers per rupee. Condition of cattle good. Supply of fodder and water sufficient.
RAJSHAHI DIVN.
20	Dinajpur ,, 30, '92	Nil	Weather—hot. Cool in the morning. Sowing of bhadoi, jute, and sugarcane still continues. Price of rice at Sadar 12 seers per rupee, and at Thakurgaon stationary. Condition of cattle good. Supply of fodder and drinking water now sufficient.
	Thakurgaon ...	0·09
21	Rajshahi ,, 30, '92	0·27	Weather—very hot and seasonable. If showers fall now and then, as they have been doing lately, there will be good crops of aus, áman, jute and sugarcane; at the same time several inches of rain would not come amiss. For the present, at any rate, the crops are in a flourishing condition. Water and fodder generally sufficient, save in the Barind; condition of cattle is generally good except for a few cases of small-pox in Nator subdivision. Prices of rice range from 10½ seers to 15 seers per rupee.

35	Darbhanga .. 30, '92	0·29	Beginning of week very hot, but owing to storm with hail, weather much cooler at end of the week. Rain has benefited sugarcane, but more wanted for bhadoi cultivation and for indigo which is now above ground. Fodder sufficient, but water scarce in places. Price of coarse rice varies from 10 to 13 seers per rupee.
36	Muzaffarpur „ 30, '92	Nil	Weather—hot with variable winds, chiefly easterly, accompanied with dust-storms. The late rain (on 22nd) was of much benefit to the sowings of dhan, mung, cheena, &c., in the northern half of the Sitamarhi subdivision; elsewhere rain is still much wanted. Water in tanks and wells throughout the greater part of the district is becoming low. Prices are rising as the rain holds off, and numbers on relief works steadily increasing. Condition of cattle continues good.
	Hajipur ..	Nil
	Sitamarhi ..	1·16
37	Saran „ 30, '92	Nil	Weather unusually hot. Rain much wanted for indigo and cheena. Prices of common rice :—

38	Champaran „ 30, '92	Nil	Weather—hot. Paddy seedlings are growing where sown. Cheena and paddy are still being sown. Common rice selling at 11 to 12 seers per rupee in the Sadar subdivision. Fodder and water plentiful.
ORISSA.
ORISSA DIVN. 39	Cuttack „ 30, '92	Nil	Weather—hot and dry. Rain very badly wanted. Insufficiency of fodder-supply reported in parts. Price of common rice stationary: 11 to 17 seers per rupee.
40	Puri „ 28, '92	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Rain wanted. Dalua is being harvested. Miscellaneous crops good. Common rice sells at from 12 to 15 seers per rupee.
41	Balasore „ 30, '92	Nil	Weather—hot and dry. Cultivation is much retarded by the long-continued drought, and drinking water becoming scarce in places. Rice sells at 14 to 16 seers per rupee.
CHOTA NAGPUR.
South-West Frontier Agency.
CHOTA NAGPUR DIVN. 42	Hazáribágh April 30, '92	Nil	Weather—very hot. Mango expected to yield from 4 to 12 annas. Coarse rice selling at from 12 to 14 seers per rupee. Fodder and water getting scarce in some places.
	Giridi ...	Nil
43	Lohardaga „ 30, '92	Nil	Weather continues very hot. No crop on the ground. Common rice selling at 13 seers per rupee. Price of fodder rising.
44	Palámau „ 29, '92	Nil	Weather—very hot. Sugarcane doing well. Gathering of mahua finished. Price of common rice stationary. Supply of water and fodder scanty, especially in thána Hossanabad.
45	Singhbhum .. 30, '92	Nil	Weather—intensely hot. Mango crop doing well excepting at Dumuria outpost jurisdiction, where the probable outturn is put down at 2 annas. Price of rice stationary. No complaints in regard to fodder and water-supply.
46	Manbhum „ 30, '92	Nil	Weather—very hot. Rain urgently wanted. Fodder and water-supply greatly diminished. Rice sells at 12 to 17 seers per rupee.

Explanation.—..... indicate that no rain has fallen. If the return for any day has not been received, the corresponding space is left blank. If any of the re wanting, the corresponding spaces in the total rainfall columns are left blank. With reference to the column of rainy days, the definition of a rainy day is when 0·1 inch of rain has fallen.

CALCUTTA, the 3rd May 1892.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE WEEK ENDING 8 A.M., SATURDAY, THE 30TH OF APRIL 1892.

DURING the greater part of the previous week conditions had been slightly disturbed, and local storms with rain had been numerous in East and North Bengal. On the last day or two, however, the number of nor'-westers which had occurred had became much smaller, and weather was generally becoming fairly settled. The changes of meteorological conditions which occurred on the 24th were generally very small and of little importance, and weather therefore continued fine, but the readings recorded on the morning of the 25th instant showed that a very rapid fall of pressure had occurred, which had formed a well-defined though rather shallow barometric depression in Bihár with a centre near Bhágalpur, where pressure was about a quarter of an inch below the normal, and which feeble depression produced a slight cyclonic circulation of winds over a part of the province; while apparently, owing also to the existence of this depression, extremely strong moist winds set in over the head of the Bay, and spread over a large part of the interior of the province. Conditions continued to a great extent unaltered on the 26th, while on the 27th a very rapid increase of pressure took place, the rise being very large in the north of the pressure, and at Dinajpur it almost equalled a quarter of an inch. These disturbed conditions naturally gave rise to a few local storms with rain in East and North Bengal, but the falls were not very general. On the 28th pressure continued to rise generally over the province, but there were a good many stations reporting local falls of the barometer, again pointing to the existence of disturbed conditions; and on the 28th a considerable number of stations in the eastern and northern districts reported moderate rain accompanying local storms. On the 29th the pressure changes continued rather irregular, and local storms were reported in the central and south-eastern districts; but on the 30th a very rapid fall of pressure took place, particularly in North-East Bengal, where again pressure became nearly a fifth of an inch below the normal, while the general pressure over the province was a tenth of an inch in defect. Again, owing to the existence of these disturbed conditions, local storms with rain occurred in the southern, eastern and northern districts, and on this day a few stations in North Bihár even reported rain. It will thus be seen that for the greater part of the week conditions have been disturbed, principally in the eastern and northern districts, and thus local storms with rain have been rather numerous. The meteorology of the week has also been characterised by the unusually large barometric changes which have occurred, and by the tendency to the formation of low-pressure areas in the north and north-east of the province, and probably in consequence of this distribution of pressure by the existence of unusually strong southerly winds at the head of the Bay.

Pressure.—The mean pressure for the week has been largely below the normal, the defect at the majority of stations exceeding a tenth of an inch, and generally varying from 0·09″ to 0·12″. The defect is largest at Sibsagar, where it equals 0·134″ and in Assam generally it equals 0·11.″ It has also been rather large at the stations in Central and West Bengal and South Bihár, where at the beginning of the week a distinct barometric depression existed.

Temperature.—The variations of temperature have also been very considerable during the week, and the average mean temperature of the whole province has been no less than 3·4° in excess of the normal, while in South Bihár and Chota Nagpur the excess has been as large as 5°. In Assam, on the other hand, the excess has only equalled 0·8°.

Some very high maximum temperatures have been recorded during the week, and thus temperatures of from 110° to 113° have been registered at Cuttack, Balasore, Midnapore, Bankura, Raniganj, Dehri, Arrah, Gaya, and Chaibassa.

Rainfall.—The average fall of rain in East Bengal during the week has been 2·68 inches, or about 18 per cent. in excess of the usual fall for the period. North Bengal has averaged 0·80 inch and South-West Bengal 0·50 inch, or about half the normal fall in each case. North Bihár has received the small fall of 0·12 inch, but the other divisions have been practically rainless. These falls, from the nature of the rainfall, have been rather unequally distributed. In East Bengal the districts of Chittagong, Chittagong Hill Tracts, and Tippera have received abundant rain, and the remaining districts, and particularly Faridpur, less abundant rain. In North Bengal, Darjeeling, Pabna, and Malda have received decidedly heavy rain, Bogra and Dinajpur moderate rain, and the other districts smaller amounts. In South-West Bengal, Murshidabad, 24-Parganas, Howrah, Hooghly, and parts of Burdwan and Jessore districts have received good rain, and the other districts small amounts; and finally, in North Bihár the falls have been mainly confined to the Purnea and North Bhágalpur districts, though a few showers have also fallen in the Darbhanga district.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Saturday, the 30th of April 1892:—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, ıd from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h, and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the ermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the ew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet ove the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in e Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

Statement of principal commodities carried on the Eastern Bengal State Railway during the month of February 1892.

INCREASES.

	Tons.
Coal	6,730
Partly due to provision for brick-burning.
Rice	5,290
The chief increase is in despatches from Goalundo, Joypurhat, Nawabganj, and Sara Ghat. This is due to a rise in prices in the northern districts.
Magra Hat also contributed to the increase, due to the water in the canal being too low to admit of country boats carrying the traffic.
Seeds	3,044
Chiefly from Sirajganj, Kasba, and Araria. The demand in Calcutta was brisk.

DECREASES.

	Tons.
Jute, unscrewed	18,011
The decrease was general at jute-booking stations, due to short crop.
Jute, screwed	4,723
Haldibari, Daroani, Jalpaiguri, Kalir Bazar, and Mymensingh show the principal decreases, due to short crop.

Alterations in buoyage, &c.—Bombay harbour.

NOTICE to Mariners, No. 137 of 1892, issued by the British Admiralty, is republished :—

The following information, dated 1st March 1892, relative to alterations in buoyage, &c., in Bombay harbour, has been received from Lieutenant and Commander H. Preedy, H. M. S. Reabreast :—

1. The depth over Raleigh rock has been reported to be increased by blasting to 26 feet, and the buoy previously marking this danger has therefore been withdrawn.

2. A buoy named Third Troopship buoy has been moored with South beacon bearing W. ⅛ S., and Dolphin light-house N. by W. ¾ W., distant 3 cables.

3. Flagstaff shoal buoy has been moved about three-quarters of a cable eastward of its previous position, and now lies in about 28 feet water.

4. North patch buoy will be withdrawn on 1st May 1892, as the least depth for about 2 cables inside it is now 10 feet.

NOTE.—Quarantine anchorage in Bombay harbour is now defined as follows:—By an imaginary line drawn from Prongs light-house through Sunk rock light-house, and at the distance of 1¼ to 2 miles from the last named light-house, in depths of 32 to 36 feet, with Dolphin light-house bearing from N.W. to W.N.W.

The depths given are at low water spring tides.

NEW MEMBERS.

THE HON'BLE MESSRS. WOODROFFE and RISLEY and BABU GONESH CHUNDER CHUNDER took their seats in Council.

STATEMENT OF THE COURSE OF BUSINESS.

THE HON'BLE THE PRESIDENT said:—"Before we begin the proceedings of the day, I ask your permission to make a brief statement of the course of legislation which I propose to lay before the Council, and which I trust will be carried through in the Session which we have to-day begun. You are aware, no doubt, that we had two Bengal Bills which would, in the ordinary course, have been laid before this Council. One was a Bill to amend the Court of Wards' Act, and the other was a Bill to create and define the terms of service for a new body—the Bengal Military Police—in which the existing Military Reserves and the force known as the Chittagong Hills Frontier Police, now serving in the South Lushai district, are merged. Both of these Bills were, however, taken over by the Government of India, and have been passed into law by the Supreme Legislative Council, and consequently there was no legislative work ready to be laid before this Council during the cold weather.

"We, however, are not confined, like the Supreme Council, to the short period of the cold weather for carrying on our legislation, but we are able to conduct it all through the year. I trust in the present Session we shall be able to pass three Bills. Two of these are to be introduced and laid before the Council and, I believe, forwarded one stage to-day. These are the Bill to amend the Village Chaukidari Act of 1870 and the Bill to make better arrangements for the distribution of the charges for keeping up a Fire-brigade in Calcutta. The objects and reasons and the nature and provisions of these Bills will be laid before the Council by the hon'ble members in charge, and it is unnecessary for me to make any remarks upon them.

"There is a third Bill which I should have been glad, if it had been possible, to present to you to-day. I mean the Bill to amend the Bengal Municipal Act. We are not, however, sufficiently forward with our preparations to enable me to ask the Council to permit its introduction to-day. The Bill has been drafted in a tentative form, and has been circulated to all District Officers in Bengal with instructions to procure the opinions of the different Municipal Corporations in their districts upon the provisions of the Bill; and though that was done some months ago, and I hoped that by this time we should have had all the replies ready and tabulated and a précis made of them, so that, after making any necessary alterations in the first tentative draft, the Bill might have been brought forward and published to-day, the replies have not been received from a good many districts, and the case did not appear to be sufficiently forward to justify me in troubling the Council with it upon this occasion. I trust, however, that we shall meet again in July, and I may then be able to lay this Bill before you, and that we shall possibly either complete it during the Session of July and August, or possibly it may be necessary, in order to fully consult public opinion and to give the amplest consideration to all the changes which may be proposed and to all objections which may be taken, to postpone it till the cold weather. However, with regard to the other two Bills, which, I believe, contain much less contentious matter, I trust we shall be able in the Session of July and August to give them final consideration and to pass them into law.

"The programme of our legislation is therefore this, that these two Bills shall be introduced to-day and referred to Select Committees, and that the further consideration of them shall be taken up in July, so that they may in all probability be passed into law in July and August; and that the Municipal Act Amendment Bill shall be introduced in July, and such progress as may be found possible made with it so as to complete it in that Session, or else, if necessary, to postpone it for a month or two later, but at any rate to carry it through before the end of the calendar year."

VILLAGE CHAUKIDARI ACT, 1870, AMENDMENT BILL.

THE HON'BLE MR. COTTON moved for leave to introduce a Bill to further amend the Village Chaukidari Act, 1870.

He said:—"Mr. President, as I shall ask you to be good enough to suspend the Rules for the Conduct of Business to enable me to introduce this Bill in Council, I do not propose to address the Council on the subject of the Bill at the present stage. I now merely ask permission to introduce the Bill."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The HON'BLE MR. COTTON said:—"I now apply to your Honour to suspend the Rules of Business to enable me at this meeting to introduce the Bill to further amend the Village Chaukidari Act, 1870, and to move that it be read in Council. The object of my asking for this suspension of the Rules of Business is merely to be able to advance the Bill a definite stage to-day, in order that it may be published, and that public opinion may be obtained upon it before measures are taken for passing it into law."

The HON'BLE THE PRESIDENT having declared the Rules of Business to be suspended—

The HON'BLE MR. COTTON said:—"The Bill which I have now in my hands is a comparatively small measure. It effects further amendments in the Village Chaukidari Act of 1870, which hon'ble members will doubtless recollect has been on two or three occasions before this Council for amendment. An amendment of that Act was passed in 1871, and again after considerable discussion, in 1886.

"Although this Bill is in its way a very small measure, I shall, I fear, be obliged to occupy the time of the Council for a few minutes in explaining its principle, which is opposed in some important particulars to the principle of the existing law. The village watch of Bengal, as of all India, is one of the oldest institutions of the country connected with the village system itself, and the village watchman of ancient Hindu times is substantially the counterpart of the village watchman as he is recognised by existing legislation; that is to say, the village watchman is ordinarily a member of an hereditary thieving caste, and responsible for his behaviour to no one except to the village community by whom he is maintained. That was the constitution of the village watch in ancient Hindu times, and it is practically the constitution of the village watch at the present day. Under the Mogul administration there was some change effected. The character of the Mogul Government was eminently fiscal, and the village watchman, instead of being the village servant, became to a very large extent the servant of the zamindar, and that dual position remained for a very long time under British rule, and still remains in all parts of the country where Act VI of 1870 has not been enforced. The object of Act VI of 1870 was to place the village watch everywhere under the control of the village organization. The principle of the Bill, as stated by the hon'ble member who introduced it, was this:—'The village watchman is purely a village servant employed for the protection of the lives and the property of the villagers, and looking to the village community for the regular payment of the remuneration to which he is entitled.' It was laid down at that time in this way. It was said municipalise more, trust the people, trust the villagers with the control of their own village watch, and great improvement in Police administration will ensue. That doctrine was of course hotly discussed and disputed in this Council; but ultimately it prevailed, and the effect of the present chaukidari law is to place the village watch entirely under the control and under the influence of the village community. The Bill, I have now the honour to place before you, introduces a modification of this principle. It is my own view strongly, and it is the view of the present Government, that the Police is a branch of the administration which ought to be brought into closer relations with the Government; and I for one—and I trust the Council will join me in this—look forward to the time when the village watch will be so largely modified as to become the real efficient Police of the country, and when the existing constabulary will have virtually no other functions to discharge than those of escort and guard, and to some extent that of process-serving. The present Bill is a slight step in this direction—not a very decisive step perhaps—for it does not pretend to be more than a very gradual and small measure, but it is a step in the direction of centralizing Police administration, and of bringing the village watch much more than it now is under the immediate supervision of the District Magistrate who represents the Government in the mufassal. I apprehend, gentlemen, that this change of principle which we are introducing will, so soon as it is realised, be unfavourably received by a considerable section of public opinion in Bengal. The meaning of the Bill does not, however, seem to have been understood as yet by the general public, for I have before me the report of the Indian Association, who so far misconceive the object of the Bill as to say that they welcome it as a further expansion of the principle of Local Self-Government in these Provinces. The prayer of the Association is, that further powers may be given to the punchayet of the village. Now I must say, once for all, that this Government does not look on the administration of the Police as in any way connected with the development or extension of the principle of Local Self-Government; on the contrary, we believe that if there is any duty of the Government which it is inexpedient to municipalise, it is the control of the Police. The inhabitants of a village have no claim to a municipal administration in any respect, still less have they any claim to control the Police. For the discharge of such duties the highest possible qualifications must be secured, and when the low calibre of the men who constitute a village punchayet is considered, the advantage appears to be wholly on the side of a Police administration by the Central Government. I am not only expressing my own decided opinion in this matter, but I may remind the Council that the subject is amply discussed by no less an eminent authority than the late Mr. John Stuart Mill, whose book on representative Government might well be more widely read in this country amongst the friends and advocates of Local Self-Government. He lays down in that volume with great force and clearness that the Police is a department of the Government which cannot be entrusted to the representatives of a rural tract; and so in England, we have withdrawn the control of the village police from the villagers, and the old village watch has disappeared. In Bengal we do not go so far as to desire that the village watch of this country shall altogether disappear, and we wish to adhere to the only sound element of the chaukidari system, viz., that of retaining the local knowledge of men resident in the village in which they are to be employed; but we do desire to modify it materially, and the direction this modification takes is, by placing the village watch more under executive authority than it now is.

"At present the punchayet, which is in other words the representative of the village community, not only appoints the chaukidars, but has authority under the law to decide within specified limits how many chaukidars shall be employed and to fix their salaries. On these three main points the power and authority of the punchayet is curtailed by the present Bill. It is proposed to allow the punchayet to nominate, but the appointment of the village watch will rest in future with the District Magistrate. It is laid down also that the Magistrate and not the punchayet shall determine the number of chaukidars within specified limits. This is a proviso which experience has shown to be very necessary. The law authorises the punchayet now to fix the number of chaukidars, and in practice it has been found that they reduce the number, and the Magistrate has been obliged to interfere to maintain the minimum number of chaukidars prescribed by law. They have done so without any specific legal authority, but it is only in this way that the full number of chaukidars has been maintained. Under the present Bill, the Magistrate is vested with the power he has hitherto informally exercised. Similarly, it is proposed—and this is a point of at least equal importance—that the Magistrate shall fix the salary of the chaukidar. The salary is now fixed by the punchayet, and the tendency is to fix it at a rate so low as to be below the standard of efficiency. Per contra there is a provision in the present Bill which may be said to be of a more radical character than anything the present law contemplates. Under the present Act, the punchayet is appointed by the District Magistrate. The Bill, I have in my hand, proposes that under certain conditions the punchayet may be elected by the villagers, introducing thereby the elective principle into villages. Now, Mr. President, this is not a section of the Bill with which I personally have much sympathy. My own view is not in favour of introducing democratic institutions into India, and I do not think that the introduction of the elective principle into villages will be calculated to benefit the villagers in any way. However, it has been thought advisable to leave this section in the Bill for the present, and it is hoped that there may be a discussion in Council, and that public opinion may be elicited, so that the Government may know what the views of others are on the subject. The idea is one which was put forward by the late Police Commission, and the Government are not pledged to it in any way; but if it is found that public opinion, as expressed through this Council, is in favour of the provision, then the Government will have no objection to allow it to remain.

"For the rest, the changes proposed in the law are more or less of detail. Powers of arrest are given to chaukidars, thus assimilating their powers to those now exercised by the regular Police. An important section is introduced authorising the Magistrate, if the collections by the punchayet are very bad, or if he finds that the chaukidar is imperfectly paid, to appoint a Government Collector of the chaukidari tax by whom the chaukidari rate will be levied and paid to the chaukidar. This is a provision which exists in the present law only, so far that it is within the competency of the punchayet to apply to the Magistrate to appoint a tahsildar. But the Bill authorises the Magistrate under specified conditions to appoint a tahsildar of his own accord.

"And then, lastly, there is a section introduced under which fines imposed on chaukidars are credited to a District Chaukidari Reward Fund, the control of which rests with the Magistrate. At present fines, when realised, are credited to the Village Chaukidari Fund; that is to say, they pass to the punchayet. The Magistrate has no control over them, and the effect is that if the punchayet and the chaukidar work together and are friendly one with the other, no fine whatever can be inflicted on the chaukidar. It is thought desirable that the Magistrate of the district should have the power of inflicting some punishment on chaukidars other than dismissal. The fine will then be credited to a Reward Fund for distribution among deserving chaukidars, a provision which has always been much needed, and is calculated to improve the administration of the Village Police Force.

"The present legislation will not in any way touch Part II of the existing Act, which relates to chakran or service land. That is a very complicated and elaborate matter, which is reserved for further consideration and legislation. The present Bill is introduced simply with the objects, I have described, of strengthening the control of the executive authorities over the village police.

"I have now the honour to introduce the Bill and to move that it be read in Council."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Bill was read accordingly.

The Hon'ble Mr. Cotton said:—"I now move that the Bill be referred to a Select Committee. I may say that it is the intention of the Government to circulate the Bill widely, and to invite non-official as well as official opinion upon it. I propose to add the name of the Hon'ble Mr. Risley to those on the paper. He was a member of the Police Commission, and is in a position to afford valuable assistance in considering the measure. The Committee to whom I propose to refer the Bill will, therefore, consist of the Hon'ble Sir Henry Harrison, the Hon'ble Mr. Allen, the Hon'ble Mr. Risley, the Hon'ble Babu Gonesh Chunder Chunder and the Mover."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

LICENSED WAREHOUSE AND FIRE-BRIGADE BILL.

The Hon'ble Sir Henry Harrison moved for leave to introduce a Bill for the regulation of Warehouses and the maintenance of a Fire-brigade.

He said:—"As I am going to ask your Honour afterwards to suspend the Rules of Business, I need not make any remarks on the Bill at this stage."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble Sir Henry Harrison applied to the President to suspend the Rules of Business to enable him to introduce the Bill, and to move that it be read in Council and referred to a Select Committee.

The Hon'ble the President having declared the Rules suspended—

The Hon'ble Sir Henry Harrison said:—"I now beg to introduce the Bill, and to move that it be read in Council. The main object of this Bill is, in on word, to relieve the jute industry from bearing the entire cost of the Fire-brigade in Calcutta as it now does. The jute industry has reached this position rather by a process of drift than by any intention on the part of the Legislature, to saddle it with the whole of this charge. As a matter of fact, the Fire-brigade in Calcutta and the establishment of jute warehouses in Calcutta, were almost synchronous. Prior to 1872, there was no Fire-brigade worthy of the name; the Municipality maintained a few hand engines, and whatever they maintained, they paid for. In 1866, when the Municipal Act was amended, the danger arising from jute warehouses, especially from unpressed jute, was so great that certain sections were introduced to provide for the right of inspecting them. Soon after, in 1871, severe fires broke out in Calcutta, which were distinctly traceable and due to jute warehouses, and upon that the Chamber of Commerce, the Trades Association, the British Indian Association, and several other bodies petitioned the Government to take the matter into their serious consideration and protect the public, and the outcome of that was the first Act of 1872, which imposed fees on jute warehouses varying from Rs. 250 to Rs. 1,000, and at the same time provided for the maintenance of an efficient Fire-brigade, and steam fire-engines were ordered out in that year for the first time. Apparently it was not the intention of the Act that the fees should cover the entire cost of the Fire-brigade, because a tax was imposed on insurance offices at the rate of eight annas on every Rs. 10,000 insured, and it was also provided that the Municipalities of the town and the suburbs should make good any deficiency in the income. But, as a matter of fact, partly, I suppose, owing to the great multiplicity of jute warehouses, and partly owing to the fees having been fixed so high, the income very far exceeded the expenditure, as would be seen by the fact that between 1872 and 1881, the Government made grants from the Fire-brigade Fund of Rs. 40,000 to widen the street opposite the Municipal Office; of Rs. 16,552 as a contribution towards the Lock Hospital; of Rs. 10,000 for improvements in the suburbs, and, lastly, of Rs. 60,000 to help towards the widening of a portion of the Chitpur Road. Thus it came about that, although a small portion may have been due to the tax upon insurances which was not abandoned till 1879, practically the jute industry paid for the whole of the Fire-brigade, and so much more that large funds accrued at the disposal of the Government which were appropriated for beneficial purposes for the town and suburbs. Accordingly in 1879 another Act was passed—one amending Act had already been passed in 1875 which does not bear much upon the present question—in order to reduce the fees. The tax on insurances being no longer required was abandoned, and it was arranged that the Government should fix the rates in accordance with the recommendation of the Commissioners, and as a matter of fact, the rate was fixed at a sum not exceeding ten per cent. upon the annual valuation of jute warehouses; and a rule was also passed that the town should bear 7-10ths and the suburbs (not Howrah) 3-10ths of the entire cost of the Brigade. However, as the number of jute warehouses went on increasing, and as land was cheaper and sites more available in the suburbs, it very soon appeared that the town warehouses had to be taxed very much more than those in the suburbs to keep up these proportions. The suburbs met its 3-10ths share with the greatest possible ease, whereas the town had to keep up the rate at its maximum to meet its share. Accordingly in 1883 the Act No. IV, which it is now proposed to repeal by this Bill, was passed—first, to abandon the proportion of 7-10ths and 3-10ths, and to place jute warehouses in the town and the suburbs on the same footing, and instead of having separate Fire-brigades for Howrah and the town and suburbs, as had been done before, to have one Fire-brigade for the whole urban area, for the town and all its environs on both sides of the river, and to introduce the same rule in Howrah as regards fees upon jute warehouses. It was arranged that the inspection of jute warehouses should be vested in the Municipality, as also the collection of the fees, and for this purpose they were allowed to take 20 per cent. of the entire proceeds, and the remaining 80 per cent. were paid to the Commissioner of Police for the maintenance of the Fire-brigade; and as a matter of fact these fees, with the receipts from the petroleum fees and from other sources, had as nearly as possible just maintained the Fire-brigade. So that since 1883 it had come to this, that the jute industry no longer paid more than was necessary, but it still paid practically the whole cost of the Fire-brigade of the town and its environs. The Fire-brigade, which is useful, if not often for pucka houses, very much for bustees and huts, has been entirely supported from this one industry alone; for although 'cotton' is included, almost the whole of the receipts come from jute. The Chamber of Commerce represented that this was not fair; that though there was a provision that any deficit should be made good by the Municipality, yet, as a matter of fact, the rate of fees which was levied was sufficient to meet the entire cost of the Fire-brigade, and upon this representation of the Chamber, the Government were evidently satisfied as to the general justice of the protest, and they accordingly appointed a Committee upon which the Chamber, the Police, the Corporation of Calcutta, the Port Commissioners and some others were represented.

"I was one of the members of that Committee, and therefore I am able to speak from personal knowledge of its proceedings. It was found that all were unanimous that it was not just to expect that the whole cost of the Fire-brigade should be paid by one industry. But then two separate principles claimed recognition. One principle was, that though the jute industry ought not to bear the whole cost, it was sound principle that warehouses for hazardous goods, which, combined with huts and bustees, were the chief sources of fires, should pay more than the ordinary sum payable for substantial pucka houses where the risk of fires was very small. The other principle put before us was, as a matter of fact, that all such distinctions, however justifiable in principle, were difficult to carry out in equity and practice, and therefore should be abandoned. Both in Bombay and in England it has been recognised as the simplest and best course to have a uniform taxation on all classes of property. In Bombay, there is a tax of $\frac{3}{4}$ per cent. on the valuation for the Fire-brigade. In England, Fire-brigades were generally supported in the same way. But the Committee thought that, in the first place, such a principle was not nearly so applicable to India as to England, because in Calcutta there was scarcely any risk of fire at all from pucka houses in which fires were so seldom lighted in the main building; whereas, on the other hand, we have much more risk from warehouses in Calcutta. In the second place, the Committee thought that, although they might not have been willing to introduce it for the first time, a distinction between hazardous and non-hazardous goods which had been recognised for 20 years ought not to be needlessly abandoned. They thought that there was no reason to pass suddenly from one extreme to another, and consequently they adopted the middle course of continuing to place considerable extra taxation on hazardous goods, and at the same time to make the whole community contribute towards the cost of the Fire-brigade.

"On looking about also they saw there was another source of revenue which clearly ought to be utilised. In the town of Calcutta dangerous and offensive trades pay, as is reasonable, extra taxation in consequence of their character, such as depôts of wood, hay, straw, coal and rags which, barring the latter, cannot be said to be offensive but dangerous, and it seemed to them reasonable that their inflammability should be recognised as a source of income towards meeting the cost of the Fire-brigade. Consequently, the Committee thought that the proceeds of these licenses, which in the Municipality were taken over and above the ordinary trade license, ought to be added to the Fire-brigade Fund, and ought to form one source of its revenue.

"Then came the question of apportionment—a very difficult matter to deal with; because it is obvious that so many indirect considerations enter into what is a fair apportionment, that it is hardly possible to do more than adopt a general approximate apportionment. As regards this, the Committee were at first inclined to think that jute and cotton ought to pay 50 per cent., and depôts of wood, hay, straw, &c., 20 per cent. On further consideration and further correspondence with the Chamber, the proposals made were of this kind. In the first place, that the law was defective at stopping at unpressed and unscrewed jute. In the law, as it now stands, which the Bill which is now introduced will repeal, jute and cotton meant respectively jute and cotton not pressed or screwed for shipment. Now it so happened that one of the largest and worst fires recently occurred in a warehouse which had no unscrewed or unpressed jute; and it was asked why should these, which were obviously hazardous goods, though not in the same degree, be exempted altogether. In the same way it was pointed out that all gunnies were extremely dangerous, and so were rope manufactories; and, therefore, the Chamber contended that the area of hazardous goods ought to be increased. Eventually it was agreed that 20 per cent. was too much to take from depôts of wood, hay, straw, coal and rags, and it was reduced to 10 per cent., and, on the other hand, the percentage to be paid by hazardous goods of the nature of warehouses was extended to 60 per cent. That left 30 per cent. to be met, and the question was considered whether the tax should not be re-imposed upon insurance offices. But looking at the fact that the tax would be paid by the insurers who may be taxed over again, and on various other grounds, the Committee did not recommend that this should be adopted. The Bill, therefore, proceeds on these lines; 60 per cent. of the cost to be imposed on hazardous warehouses, but what is to be exactly included in this has been left somewhat undetermined in the Bill, because the representatives of the Chamber proposed to include a very large number of goods. The Council are probably aware that there is a separate Act for the regulation of petroleum, and that fees are already paid by it for the support of the Fire-brigade. Of course it is not pretended that godowns used for retail trade should be touched. There is a section of the Bill which relates to hazardous goods, but whether all these ought to be included in it or not is a matter upon which the Committee did not make any definite recommendation, because further discussion of them appeared to be infructuous except by the authority which would have the power to decide the point. They thought it best, therefore, to leave it to the Council to determine precisely what should be included. The Bill goes so far as to include, as liable to pay under the hazardous schedule, all kinds of jute, pressed and unpressed, and warehoused for storage, and all store-houses for oil other than petroleum or ropes or rope material or any other substance or thing for the time being subject to the operation of this Act. The system on which it is proposed to work the Act is this: the Commissioner of Police will prepare a budget to show the whole expenditure on the Fire-brigade, on the receipt side of which he shall show all the various receipts for licenses for fireworks, petroleum and other sources. This, of course, will show a deficit which will be met to the extent of 60 per cent. by a tax on warehouses under the Act, and of 40 per cent. on the Municipalities. The reason why 40 per cent. is to be taken from the Municipalities is this, that, under the present law, the Municipalities have the entire control of the license fees from dangerous goods, such as wood, hay, straw, coal and rags, and it was not thought desirable to fetter their discretion more than at present; it was therefore left to them to decide what fee to impose. At present they do get nearly ten per cent. of the cost of the Fire-brigade, but it is open to them, as far as the law allows, to increase or decrease these fees, and then make good the remainder. If they keep the fees as they are now actually collected, the amount which they will have to contribute from other funds will be about 30 per cent. These fees are left in their possession and control, and all the Government will expect from them will be a contribution of 40 per cent. The other 60 per cent. will be raised in a somewhat tentative manner by licenses on hazardous warehouses. Estimates will have to be framed of the assessed value of the properties, and a percentage fixed. If in the first year it proves too much, in the next year the Government will reduce it. Anyhow, it will be the duty of the Government to work this percentage so that it practically provides for the share which falls on these industries. One more change the law introduces, mainly in the interests of economy. It is to transfer the inspection of these warehouses from the Municipality to the Police. The Police have now the inspection of all petroleum godowns; they have facilities in their present establishment far greater than the Municipalities have, who have to maintain a special establishment for the purpose.

"The Police have an organization which already enables them to carry out inspections, and no doubt they will carry it out at a much cheaper cost than the 15 per cent. which is estimated to be the cost to the Municipality. The Municipality will continue to grant licenses at the rate at which the Government may lay down, and they will collect the fees, and after appropriating 5 per cent., will make over the rest to the Government. As regards the charge of the Fire-brigade, the question was raised whether any alteration should be made in its management; but the Committee, and the Government in accordance with their views, considered that the management of the Fire-brigade has been highly satisfactory. I speak with some personal knowledge, and I think it is very well managed. Though it was originally under the Corporation, it was found convenient as early as 1872 to make over the management to the Commissioner of Police. The Act of 1879 sanctioned this change, and that arrangement has remained in force over since. But as regards economy and efficiency, it is much better managed than in Bombay, where a $\frac{3}{4}$th per cent. rate is levied. There the Fire-brigade is in the hands of the Corporation, and the expenses are out of all proportion to the collection of the rates. The Police furnishes a very efficient body of firemen, who are only paid on the occurrence of fires, which is a far more economical arrangement; and it is a great advantage that the same men who have the management of the brigade should, in case of necessity, have Police powers also. Therefore the Act leaves the management and control of the Fire-brigade untouched. These are the general outlines of the Bill under consideration. I now beg leave to introduce it, and to move that it be read in Council."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Bill was read accordingly.

The Hon'ble Sir Henry Harrison also moved that the Bill be referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Hon'ble the Officiating Advocate-General, the Hon'ble Mr. Wallis, the Hon'ble Shahzada Mahommed Furrokh Shah and the Mover.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Council adjourned sine die.

Act XI of 1891, amending Act XV of 1881, and the following papers:—

(1) Letter No. 860, dated the 18th June 1891, from the Government of India regarding the arrangements necessary for the efficient working of the Factory law in Bengal.

(2) Letter No. 287T.—G., dated the 1st October 1891, from this Government to the Government of India, Home Department, regarding the appointment of a special Inspector of Factories for the Lower Provinces and the North-Western Provinces and Oudh.

(3) Letter, dated the 28th October 1891, from A. Smith, Esq., President of the Committee appointed to revise the Bengal Rules under the Indian Factories Act.

(4) Letter No. 1635, dated the 10th December 1891, from this Government to the Government of India, Home Department, submitting the revised draft rules framed by the Committee under section 18 of Act XV of 1891, as amended by Act XI of 1891.

(5) Letter No. 1731, dated the 30th December 1891, from the Government of India, Home Department, suggesting amendments in the draft rules.

(6) Letter No. $\frac{3\text{-Judicial}}{125}$, dated the 27th January 1892, and enclosure, from the Government of India, Home Department, regarding the remuneration to be given to gentlemen of the medical profession who may be appointed Certifying Surgeons and Inspectors of Factories.

(7) Letter No. 133, dated the 28th January 1892, from the Government of India, Home Department, communicating the Secretary of State's sanction to the appointment of a special Inspector of Factories for the Lower Provinces and the North-Western Provinces and Oudh.

(8) Letter No. 278B., dated the 30th January 1892, from the Quartermaster-General in India, recommending, on sanitary grounds, the appointment of Civil Surgeons to be Inspectors of Factories within cantonment limits.

(9) Letter No. 209, dated the 15th February 1892, and enclosure, and endorsement No. 294, dated the 27th January 1892, and enclosure, from the Government of India, Home Department, regarding the jurisdiction and emoluments of the special Inspector of Factories for the Lower Provinces and the North-Western Provinces and Oudh.

(10) Letter No. 151M.G., dated the 14th March 1892, and enclosure, from the Commissioner of the Presidency Division, suggesting amendments in the rules which were published in draft for public criticism.

(11) Memorandum No. 567R., dated the 29th March 1892, and enclosures, from the Public Works Department of this Government, placing the services of Mr. C. A. Walsh, of the Superior Revenue Establishment of State Railways, at the disposal of the General Department for employment as special Inspector of Factories in Bengal and the North-Western Provinces and Oudh.

It appears to the Lieutenant-Governor to be desirable, when publishing the revised rules under the Indian Factories Act, to take the opportunity to place on record the principal amendments made in the original Act XV of 1881 by Act XI of 1891, which came into force on the 1st January 1892.

2. The principal changes made by the new Act XI of 1891 are as follows:—

(1) The meaning of the term "factory" has been changed, so that it now includes premises (of certain descriptions) where 50 workmen, not 100 as formerly, are employed.

Section 3 of Act XI of 1891.

(2) The term "factory" may be extended to include other premises, for all or sundry purposes, if less than 50, but not less than 20 workmen are employed.

Section 18 of Act XI of 1891.

(3) The term "child" now includes any person under the age of 14 years, and not 12, as formerly. Now, no child under the age of 9 may be employed; formerly, no child under 7 could be employed.

Sections 5 and 9.

(4) Inspectors of factories can now be appointed either by name or by office, and, besides any other persons who may be so appointed, the District Magistrate remains Inspector of all factories in his district. Section 6.

(5) The payment of prescribed fees to certifying surgeons for examining children and granting certificates of age to them, has now been provided for by the law, instead of being left to executive order. Section 8.

(6) The fraudulent use of certificates of age has been made punishable with fine. Section 15(2).

(7) An interval during the day for food and rest is to be allowed to all operatives, and not to children only as before. Sunday holidays are, with some small exceptions, to be obligatory for all operatives. Section 10.

(a) There must be a stoppage of work for a full half hour between noon and 2 P.M., except in factories in which a system of employment in shifts or sets approved by the local Inspector is in force.

(b) Employés may work on Sundays to examine and repair machinery, but otherwise no person may be employed in a factory on a Sunday, unless he has had or will have a holiday on one of the three days preceding or succeeding the Sunday.

(c) The Governor-General in Council may exclude any class of factories from the operation of the rules as to holidays and stoppage of work, and the Local Government may allow Sunday labour in factories where certain kinds of necessary work are performed.

(8) Special provision has been made for the protection of women and children. No woman may be employed before 5 A.M. or after 8 P.M. No woman may be employed for more than 11 hours in any one day, and every woman is to be allowed rest in the proportion of 1½ hours to 11 hours' actual work. Factories of any class employing women in particular processes may be exempted from these provisions. No child may be employed before 5 A.M. or after 8 P.M. Section 10.

The maximum employment for a child has been reduced from 9 to 7 hours, and for every 6 hours' actual work a child must be allowed an interval of half an hour.

Notices are to be put up in English and the vernacular, showing the intervals of rest allowed for women and children.

(9) Rules can be made for the water-supply, proper ventilation, and sanitation of factories; also for the prevention of overcrowding in them. Section 16.

(10) Occupiers of factories can be required to furnish such returns, occasional or periodical, as may be necessary for the effectual carrying out of the Act. Section 16.

3. It has been announced that it is not the intention of the Governor-General in Council to exercise the powers enabling him to exempt persons and factories from the rules which require stoppage of work for food and rest and cessation from Sunday labour, and regulate the employment of women, except in cases in which the parties interested make, through the Local Government, a formal application for exemption and bring forward convincing reasons in justification of their proposals. The Local Government will then determine upon the representations of those interested in the industries concerned, and upon a review of the circumstances of each case, what industries are entitled to exemption under the powers which the Act enables it to exercise. It is the intention of the Government of India to allow Sunday labour only in rare and exceptional cases, in addition to the cases in which the Local Government can allow it in factories where certain kinds of necessary work are performed. The Local Government will decide whether the work performed satisfies the conditions of any one of the three heads specified, i.e., where the work performed (i) necessitates continuous production for technical reasons, or (ii) supplies the public with articles of prime necessity which must be made every day, or (iii) by its nature cannot be carried on, except at stated seasons, or at times dependent on the irregular action of natural forces, but, if it does, the exemption will be granted as a matter of course.

4. With a view to securing a strict observance of all the provisions of the Factory Act, it has been decided to appoint a special Inspector under section 3 of Act XV of 1881 for Bengal, and his services will also be utilized in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh. Should it be found feasible and expedient hereafter to extend his jurisdiction, this will be done; but for the present it will be limited to the provinces mentioned. Mr. C. A. Walsh of the Locomotive Department of the Superior Revenue Establishment of State Railways has been selected for the post, and his appointment will be duly notified.

5. Besides the special Inspector, the Civil Surgeons of districts, or private medical practitioners, if suitable persons can be found, will also be appointed Inspectors conjointly with District Officers. The medical men so appointed will also be the Certifying Surgeons under section 5 of the Act, as the Lieutenant-Governor believes that the amalgamation of the duties of Inspector and Certifying Surgeon will help to secure the more effective performance of the duties of inspection. In the case of children employed in a factory, when an Inspector, seeing them at work, has reason to believe them to be under the age limit prescribed by the Act, he can take evidence on the spot or otherwise. He would also be entitled to take exception to the certificate which a child holds as not applying to him, and to prohibit his employment until he procured another certificate; and, if he had been himself the certifying officer, he could probably say whether a particular child was of such an age or physique that the certificate produced would have been signed by him. A medical officer would be the best authority on all questions of sanitation in connection with factory labour, and his visits of inspection should be made at irregular hours. The duties of the medical officer will be limited generally to seeing that the provisions of the law as regards children are not infringed, and to suggesting sanitary improvements to the Magistrate, who, by virtue of his office, will be an Inspector. In the 24-Parganas, where the time of the District Magistrate is already fully occupied, the senior Covenanted Assistant or Joint-Magistrate will be the ex-officio Inspector.

6. Under section 5 of Act XV of 1881 as amended, a fee of 4 annas will be paid to the Civil Surgeons of districts, or such other persons practising medicine or surgery as the Local Government may from time to time declare to be Certifying Surgeons for any local areas, for each certificate granted by them. The same medical officers, who will be appointed under section 3 of the Act by name or by office to be Inspectors, will also be required to give the necessary certificates of age under section 5. These officers will be as follows:—

I. In the district of the 24-Parganas—
   (1) The Resident Medical Officer of the Campbell Medical Hospital, for so much of the town of Calcutta as lies to the south of Canning Street, and for Sealdah.
   (2) The Resident Medical Officer of the Mayo Hospital, Calcutta, for so much of the town of Calcutta as lies to the north of Canning Street.
   (3) The Civil Surgeon of Hooghly for thána Naihati, in the 24-Parganas.
   (4) The Station Staff Surgeon of Dum-Dum for that sub-division.
   (5) The Medical Officer in charge of the Northern Suburban Hospital for Baranagore in the 24-Parganas.
   (6) Mr. J. M. Comley, M.R.C.S., for the factories at Budge-Budge.
   (7) The Civil Surgeon of the 24-Parganas, for the rest of the district.

II. For all other districts, the Civil Surgeon of the district.

The officers indicated in this paragraph will notify to the managers of the factories with which they are respectively concerned the place where and the time when they will be prepared to examine candidates for employment and grant certificates of age.

7. A Committee composed of the officers and gentlemen named in the margin was appointed to assist Government in framing the rules and forms of registers under the Acts. The rules, &c., as framed by them were published in draft as required by the law, and criticisms were invited for a period of two months. A few criticisms have been received, and the rules finally approved by the Lieutenant-Governor, after consideration of the suggestions made, are now published for general information. No rules regarding the fencing of machinery and mill-gearing, and for regulating the superficial, cubic and ventilating space per operative, have been at present laid down. But the Lieutenant-Governor will be prepared to prescribe any rules which experience and the reports of the several Inspectors may hereafter show to be required.

8. The notification of the Government of India, No. 428, dated 25th March 1892, under section 18, clause (2) of the Indian Factories Act XV of 1881, as amended by Act XI of 1891, has been attached to the Rules under the Act for convenience of reference.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of the Resolution and of the Rules be forwarded for information to the—

(1) Commissioners of Divisions and for favour of communication to District Officers for their information and guidance ;
(2) Commissioner of Police, Calcutta ;
(3) Quartermaster-General in India, with reference to his letter No. 278, dated the 30th January 1892 ;
(4) Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals ;
(5) Appointment Department of this Office ;
(6) Financial Department of this Office ;
(7) Accountant-General, Bengal ;
(8) Mr. C. A. Walsh.

Ordered also that copy be submitted to the Government of India in the Home Department, for information.

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

REVENUE DEPT.—Miscellaneous,
The 3rd May, 1892.

Circular No. $\frac{15}{8}$, dated Simla, the 21st April 1892.

To—

IN continuation of the telegram from this Department dated 2nd instant, I am directed to state that intimation has been received that the official opening of the Imperial Institute will not take place this year. It has been decided, however, by the Executive Council of the Imperial Institute to organize an Exhibition of Indian metal-work during the summer, and to invite loans of art-ware specimens from manufacturers, dealers, and owners for the purpose. This Exhibition will be opened in June, 1892.

2. The accompanying form and instructions have been received from Sir Frederick Abel, Secretary to the Council of the Imperial Institute, and I am to request that, with the permission of

, they may be circulated to large merchants and dealers, and, if necessary, published in the local Gazette for the information and guidance of persons desirous of exhibiting. Arrangements should be made for the despatch of exhibits direct to the Secretary to the Imperial Institute, London, S. W., to whom the applications received may also be posted direct by the Local Government.

3. No charge will be made to merchants for space in the building. Large manufacturers and dealers will have to defray the cost incurred for the casing, &c., of their specimens, but in the case of artizans who contribute specimens for exhibition, the Institute will defray the necessary outlay. All other expenses will have to be borne by exhibitors.

4. Any exhibits which may have already been collected under the terms of the circular instructions noted in the margin may be forwarded to the Imperial Institute.

No. $\frac{4}{23}$, dated 27th June, 1891.

No. $\frac{21}{23}$, dated 26th September, 1891.

5. I am to request that the Government of India may be informed by telegraph before the 15th proximo of the total amount of case-room that will probably be required for exhibits from . .

IMPERIAL INSTITUTE.

Exhibition of Indian Metal-work, 1892.

THE Executive Council invite applications for space from Merchants and Manufacturers in India, and from bonâ fide Importers, for the exhibition of Indian metal-work, including applications of metals in textile fabrics.

Allotments will be made by the Executive Council in accordance with the space available. No charge will be made for space allotted.

Applications to be made through the Local Government or such officers as it may appoint for the purpose on this form not later than——— 1892.

TO THE SECRETARY TO THE IMPERIAL INSTITUTE, LONDON, S. W., THROUGH THE GOVERNMENT OF ——.

Please allot to me (us) the following amount of space for the exhibition of articles described overleaf :—

REGULATIONS.

1. The Exhibition will be opened in or about the month of June 1892, and will remain open for a period of about five months.

2. Signs or descriptive labels, &c., must be submitted to, and approved by, the Executive Council before use.

3. All cases, tables, stands or other fittings must be provided at the cost of the Exhibitor.

4. The rooms in which the Exhibition will be held are 20 feet in height; designs to scale of all trophies, show cases, &c., must, previous to their erection, be approved by the Executive Council.

5. No means of securing or fixing cases or trophies can be permitted which will deface or in any way injure the walls of the rooms.

6. Exhibitors will be required to provide attendants for keeping their stands and exhibits properly cleaned and in good order, or must arrange to have this work done, at their expense, by the Executive Council. All stands should remain uncovered during the hours the exhibition is open to the public.

7. It is probable that the hours during which the Exhibition will remain open to the public will be from 11 A.M. to 10 P.M. on all days except Wednesdays and Fridays, when the hour of closing will be 5 P.M. These arrangements are, however, subject to alteration. The Exhibition will not be open on Sundays.

8. No sales will be allowed to take place in the building, but authorised attendants or agents of Exhibitors may take orders for the delivery of duplicates.

9. No exhibit may be removed until the close of the Exhibition without permission of the Executive Council.

10. No article exhibited may be photographed, drawn, copied, or reproduced in any manner whatsoever, without the special sanction of the Executive Council.

11. All packages containing goods intended for exhibition must be addressed to the Secretary, and bear the name of the exhibitor by whom they are sent.

11	Murshidabad ,, 30, '92	0·97	Weather—hot and dry. Recent rain has greatly improved prospects of bhadoi crop. Cultivation is being pushed on. Fodder available for cattle. Coarse rice sells at 12 seers per rupee.
Chittagong Divn. 12	Chittagong ,, 30, '92	7·67	Weather—squally with heavy downpours on 28th and 29th. Ploughing going on. Prices stationary. Condition of cattle generally good. Supply of fodder sufficient.
13	Noakhali ,, 30, '92	1·92	Weather—seasonable. Prospects favourable. Aus paddy is being rapidly sown. Fodder and water available. No cattle-disease except in Chhagalnaya. Common rice selling at 13½ seers per rupee.
	Feuny ...	2·85
14	Tippera ,, 30, '92	2·77	Broken weather: sunshine alternating with wind and rain. Lands are being ploughed. Prospects improved by rain. Chillies are being harvested. Cattle-disease reported from subdivisions.
15	Chittagong Hill Tracts. ,, 29, '92	4·53	Weather—cloudy and sunny with occasional showers of rain. Sowing in jums continues. Gathering of tobacco nearly over. Lands are being ploughed for early rice. Cattle-disease still prevailing. Common rice is being sold at 10 seers per rupee.

No	District and date of return.	Rainfall at Sadar Station in inches.	Character of the weather and state and prospects of the crops.
BENGAL—concld.
16	Dacca April 30, '92	2·72	Weather—cool and cloudy. Sowing of jute and paddy continues. Prospects of standing crops improved by the recent rain. Fodder available. No cattle-disease. Common rice selling at from 12 to 15 seers per rupee.
17	Faridpur ,, 30, '92	1·08	Weather—Thursday's (28th) storm cooled the air for a short time, but it is as hot as ever again now. The rain has done good, and the young crops are coming on, and many fields have been sown during the week. Rice sells at 14 seers per rupee at Sadar and 13 seers at Madaripur. No report from Goalundo. Condition of cattle good.
18	Backergunge ,, 30, '92	1·72	Weather—hot and cloudy. Rainfall general throughout the district. State and prospects of crops fair. Sowing of aus in progress. Ordinary rice sells at from 9 to 13 seers per rupee. Fodder sufficient; good drinking water scarce.
19	Mymensingh ,, 30, '92	3·46	Weather—fairly cool; cloudy with showers of rain. Prospects of standing crops good, but the heavy showers have done some injury to aus and jute sowings in the Netrokona subdivision. Common rice selling at from 13 to 15 seers per rupee. Condition of cattle good. Supply of fodder and water sufficient.
20	Dinajpur ,, 30, '92 Thakurgaon	Nil 0·09	Weather—hot. Cool in the morning. Sowing of bhadoi, jute, and sugarcane still continues. Price of rice at Sadar 12 seers per rupee, and at Thakurgaon stationary. Condition of cattle good. Supply of fodder and drinking water now sufficient.
21	Rajshahi ,, 30, '92 Nator Nowgong	0·27 Ni. 0·70	Weather—very hot and seasonable. If showers fall now and then, as they have been doing lately, there will be good crops of aus, áman, jute and sugarcane; at the same time several inches of rain would not come amiss. For the present, at any rate, the crops are in a flourishing condition. Water and fodder generally sufficient, save in the Barind; condition of cattle is generally good except for a few cases of small-pox in Nator subdivision. Prices of rice range from 10½ seers to 15 seers per rupee.
22	Rangpur ,, 30, '92 Gaibanda Kurigaon Nilphamari	0·27 3·05 0·77 0·22	Weather—cool and cloudy. Aus and jute sowings complete; weeding in progress. Prospects favourable. Fodder and water sufficient. Average price of common rice 12 seers per rupee.
23	Bogra ,, 30, '92 Sherpur Naukhala	0·90 0·44 0·54	Weather—hot and fine in the early part of the week. Rainy and very cool from the 26th. Fine weather is wanted now that a sufficiency of rain has fallen. There is plenty of fodder and water, and the prospects of the crops are good. Common rice sells on an average at 13½ seers per rupee.
24	Pabna ,, 30, 92	0·21	Weather—hot and cool. There is a gathering of clouds almost every evening, but no fall of rain. Ploughing and sowing in full progress, but unless there is more rain, the seedlings are likely to be injured. Rice is selling at 13 seers per rupee. Fodder and water-supply sufficient except at Dulai.
25	Darjeeling ,, 30, 92	1·04	Weather—fair with occasional breaks. Rainfall in the Terai 0·60. Sowing of jute and bhadoi progressing. Wheat and barley are still being harvested. Aghani paddy is being sown. Fodder and water-supply improved by rain. Cattle-disease in some parts of the hills.
26	Jalpaiguri ,, 30, '92	0·50	Weather—slightly cooler. Rain has improved agricultural prospects. Sowing of bhadoi and jute progressing rapidly. Common rice sells at from 10 to 11 seers per rupee. No cattle-disease reported. Fodder and water-supply sufficient.
BIHAR.
27	Monghyr ,, 30, '92 Begusarai Jamui	Nil 1·43 Nil	Weather—hot, with west wind during the first part of the week; cooler with east wind during the latter part. Ploughing for bhadoi crop in progress. Sama, kheri, cheena, sugarcane, and indigo doing well. Cheena is being reaped. Water continues to get scarcer. Fodder sufficient.
28	Bhágalpur ,, 30, '92	Nil	Weather—hot with easterly wind. Cheena is being harvested. Rice and mung sown broadcast in low lands doing well. A little makai has been sown on the diáras. Ploughing active, but more rain wanted, especially in the south. Mahua has given a 12-anna outturn. Water low; but fodder is sufficient, and cattle are healthy.
29	Purnea ,, 30, '92 Kishanganj ... Araria ...	0·05 0·07 0·23	A few local showers. Weather cloudy and hot. Ploughing and sowing continue. A good deal of early paddy is up and doing well. Cheena crop to the west is excellent. No cattle-disease or want of fodder or water. Prices of common rice:— Sadar ... ... 11 to 12 Srs.; Kishanganj ... ... 11 Srs.; Araria ... ... 12 to 13 Srs. per rupee.
30	Malda ,, 30, '92 Gajol	2·57 0·16	Weather—hot and bright in the beginning of the week; latterly heavy showers. Condition of boro paddy continues satisfactory. It is now coming into maturity. Sowing of bhadoi rice progressing. Supply of fodder sufficient. No cattle-disease. Prices stationary.
31	Sonthal Parganas ,, 30, 92 Deoghur Godda Jamtara Pakur Rajmahal	0·17 Nil Nil Nil Nil 0·24	Weather—cloudy, with variable winds. Slight rain at Dumka and Rajmahal. Sugarcane doing well except where water has failed. Mahua poor. In Rajmahal the strain has been eased by the boro rice harvest. Rain urgently wanted all over west of district. Jamtara people are storing roots. Ploughing begun where possible, chiefly in Pakur. Rice 11 to 13 seers per rupee. Water and fodder-supply short in west.

No.	District and date of return	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather and state and prospects of the crops.
BIHÁR—concld.
PATNA DIVISION. 32	Patna — April 30, '92	Nil	Weather—hot. East wind prevailing. Winnowing of rabi crops going on. Cheena and sugarcane are being irrigated. Common rice is being sold at from 11 to 12 seers per rupee.
33	Gaya .. 30, '92	Nil	Weather—very hot with changeable winds. Sugarcane and cheena millet, the only crops on the ground, doing fairly well. Prices pretty stationary. Supply of fodder and water very scanty in most parts of the district.
	Jahánabad ...	Nil
	Nawáda ...	Nil
	Aurangabad ...	Nil
34	Shahabad .. 30, '92	Nil	The winds during the week have been variable, but latterly they have shifted to the west, causing a considerable increase in temperature. Millet, Indian-corn and sugarcane are now nearly the only crops on the ground; all are doing well. An immense export of wheat to Calcutta is taking place, which is affecting prices. Opium weighment in full swing.
	Buxar ...	Nil
	Bhabhua ...	Nil
	Sasarám ...	Nil
35	Darbhanga .. 30, '92	0·29	Beginning of week very hot, but owing to storm with hail, weather much cooler at end of the week. Rain has benefited sugarcane, but more wanted for bhadoi cultivation and for indigo which is now above ground. Fodder sufficient, but water scarce in places. Price of coarse rice varies from 10 to 13 seers per rupee.
36	Muzaffarpur „ 30, '92	Nil	Weather—hot with variable winds, chiefly easterly, accompanied with dust-storms. The late rain (on 22nd) was of much benefit to the sowings of dhan, mung, cheena, &c., in the northern half of the Sitamarhi subdivision; elsewhere rain is still much wanted. Water in tanks and wells throughout the greater part of the district is becoming low. Prices are rising as the rain holds off, and numbers on relief works steadily increasing. Condition of cattle continues good.
	Hajipur ..	Nil
	Sitamarhi ...	1·16
37	Saran „ 30, '92	Nil	Weather—unusually hot. Rain much wanted for indigo and cheena. Prices of common rice :— Chapra ... ... Srs. 11 Ch. 14; Siwán ... ... 12 4; Gopalganj ... ... 12 0 } per rupee.
38	Champaran „ 30, '92	Nil	Weather—hot. Paddy seedlings are growing where sown. Cheena and paddy are still being sown. Common rice selling at 11 to 12 seers per rupee in the Sadar subdivision. Fodder and water plentiful.
ORISSA.
ORISSA DIVN. 39	Cuttack „ 30, '92	Nil	Weather—hot and dry. Rain very badly wanted. Insufficiency of fodder-supply reported in parts. Price of common rice stationary: 11 to 17 seers per rupee.
40	Puri „ 28, '92	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Rain wanted. Dalua is being harvested. Miscellaneous crops good. Common rice sells at from 12 to 15 seers per rupee.
41	Balasore „ 30, '92	Nil	Weather—hot and dry. Cultivation is much retarded by the long-continued drought, and drinking water becoming scarce in places. Rice sells at 14 to 16 seers per rupee.
CHOTA NAGPUR.
South-West Frontier Agency.
CHOTA NAGPUR DIVN. 42	Hazáribágh April 30, '92	Nil	Weather—very hot. Mango expected to yield from 4 to 12 annas. Coarse rice selling at from 12 to 14 seers per rupee. Fodder and water getting scarce in some places.
	Giridi ...	Nil
43	Lohardaga „ 30, '92	Nil	Weather continues very hot. No crop on the ground. Common rice selling at 13 seers per rupee. Price of fodder rising.
44	Palámau „ 29, '92	Nil	Weather—very hot. Sugarcane doing well. Gathering of mahua finished. Price of common rice stationary. Supply of water and fodder scanty, especially in thána Hossanabad.
45	Singhbhum „ 30, '92	Nil	Weather—intensely hot. Mango crop doing well excepting at Dumuria outpost jurisdiction, where the probable outturn is put down at 2 annas. Price of rice stationary. No complaints in regard to fodder and water-supply.
46	Manbhum „ 30, '92	Nil	Weather—very hot. Rain urgently wanted. Fodder and water-supply greatly diminished. Rice sells at 12 to 17 seers per rupee.

Explanation.—.....indicate that no rain has fallen. If the return for any day has not been received, the corresponding space is left blank. If any of the returns, the corresponding spaces in the total rainfall columns are left blank. With reference to the column of rainy days, the definition of a rainy day is when 1 inch of rain has fallen.

CALCUTTA, the 3rd May 1892.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE WEEK ENDING 8 A.M., SATURDAY, THE 30TH OF APRIL 1892.

DURING the greater part of the previous week conditions had been slightly disturbed, and local storms with rain had been numerous in East and North Bengal. On the last day or two, however, the number of nor'-westers which had occurred had became much smaller, and weather was generally becoming fairly settled. The changes of meteorological conditions which occurred on the 24th were generally very small and of little importance, and weather therefore continued fine, but the readings recorded on the morning of the 25th instant showed that a very rapid fall of pressure had occurred, which had formed a well-defined though rather shallow barometric depression in Bihár with a centre near Bhágalpur, where pressure was about a quarter of an inch below the normal, and which feeble depression produced a slight cyclonic circulation of winds over a part of the province; while apparently, owing also to the existence of this depression, extremely strong moist winds set in over the head of the Bay, and spread over a large part of the interior of the province. Conditions continued to a great extent unaltered on the 26th, while on the 27th a very rapid increase of pressure took place, the rise being very large in the north of the pressure, and at Dinajpur it almost equalled a quarter of an inch. These disturbed conditions naturally gave rise to a few local storms with rain in East and North Bengal, but the falls were not very general. On the 28th pressure continued to rise generally over the province, but there were a good many stations reporting local falls of the barometer, again pointing to the existence of disturbed conditions; and on the 28th a considerable number of stations in the eastern and northern districts reported moderate rain accompanying local storms. On the 29th the pressure changes continued rather irregular, and local storms were reported in the central and south-eastern districts; but on the 30th a very rapid fall of pressure took place, particularly in North-East Bengal, where again pressure became nearly a fifth of an inch below the normal, while the general pressure over the province was a tenth of an inch in defect. Again, owing to the existence of these disturbed conditions, local storms with rain occurred in the southern, eastern and northern districts, and on this day a few stations in North Bihár even reported rain. It will thus be seen that for the greater part of the week conditions have been disturbed, principally in the eastern and northern districts, and thus local storms with rain have been rather numerous. The meteorology of the week has also been characterised by the unusually large barometric changes which have occurred, and by the tendency to the formation of low-pressure areas in the north and north-east of the province, and probably in consequence of this distribution of pressure by the existence of unusually strong southerly winds at the head of the Bay.

Pressure.—The mean pressure for the week has been largely below the normal, the defect at the majority of stations exceeding a tenth of an inch, and generally varying from 0·09″ to 0·12″. The defect is largest at Sibsagar, where it equals 0·134″ and in Assam generally it equals 0·11″ It has also been rather large at the stations in Central and West Bengal and South Bihár, where at the beginning of the week a distinct barometric depression existed.

Temperature.—The variations of temperature have also been very considerable during the week, and the average mean temperature of the whole province has been no less than 3·4° in excess of the normal, while in South Bihár and Chota Nagpur the excess has been as large as 5°. In Assam, on the other hand, the excess has only equalled 0·8°.

Some very high maximum temperatures have been recorded during the week, and thus temperatures of from 110° to 113° have been registered at Cuttack, Balasore, Midnapore, Bankura, Raniganj, Dehri, Arrah, Gaya, and Chaibassa.

Rainfall.—The average fall of rain in East Bengal during the week has been 2·68 inches, or about 18 per cent in excess of the usual fall for the period. North Bengal has averaged 0·80 inch and South-West Bengal 0·50 inch, or about half the normal fall in each case. North Bihár has received the small fall of 0·12 inch, but the other divisions have been practically rainless. These falls, from the nature of the rainfall, have been rather unequally distributed. In East Bengal the districts of Chittagong, Chittagong Hill Tracts, and Tippera have received abundant rain, and the remaining districts, and particularly Faridpur, less abundant rain. In North Bengal, Darjeeling, Pabna, and Malda have received decidedly heavy rain. Bogra and Dinajpur moderate rain, and the other districts smaller amounts. In South-West Bengal, Murshidabad, 24-Parganas, Howrah, Hooghly, and parts of Burdwan and Jessore districts have received good rain, and the other districts small amounts; and finally, in North Bihár the falls have been mainly confined to the Purnea and North Bhágalpur districts, though a few showers have also fallen in the Darbhanga district.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Saturday, the 30th of April 1892:—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, ıd from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h, and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the ermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the ew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet ove the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in e Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

Statement of principal commodities carried on the Eastern Bengal State Railway during the month of February 1892.

INCREASES.

	Tons.		Tons.
Coal	6,730	Magra Hât also contributed to the increase, due to the water in the canal being too low to admit of country boats carrying the traffic.
Partly due to provision for brick-burning.
Rice	5,290	Seeds	3,044

DECREASES.

	Tons.		Tons.
Jute, unscrewed	18,011	Jute, screwed	4,723
The decrease was general at jute-booking stations, due to short crop.		Haldibari, Daroani, Jalpaiguri, Kalir Bazar, and Mymensingh show the principal decreases, due to short crop.

ORDERS BY THE LIEUT.-GOVERNOR OF BENGAL.

NOTIFICATION.

The 7th May 1892.—The Lieutenant-Governor announces with profound regret the death by cholera at Chittagong, on the 5th May 1892, of Sir Henry Leland Harrison, Knight, Senior Member of the Board of Revenue and Member of the Bengal Legislative Council.

After a distinguished University career, Sir Henry Harrison joined the Indian Civil Service in 1860. He early attracted the attention of Government and was appointed Junior Secretary in 1867. For nearly six years he was Magistrate and Collector of the important district of Midnapore, and acquired the reputation of being one of the best district officers in Bengal. He then served as Secretary to the Board of Revenue, and for a short time as Secretary to Government. In April 1881 he was appointed Chairman of the Corporation and Commissioner of Police, Calcutta. For nine years he discharged the duties of this difficult office in a manner which won for him the approval of Government and the esteem and respect of the public. His name will always be associated with a period of greatly improved Municipal administration, and his public services to Calcutta constitute a large part of the history of the Metropolis during the past decade. In April 1890 he was appointed a Member of the Board of Revenue. The news of his sudden death, while visiting the district of Chittagong in the discharge of his duties as a Member of the Board, will be received with universal sorrow. This calamitous event has deprived the Lieutenant-Governor of one of his most trusted advisers, the Civil Service of one of its most distinguished ornaments, and the province and people of Bengal of one of their truest friends.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT,—(FORESTS).

NOTIFICATION. No. 1733For.

The 10th May, 1892.—Whereas by the notification specified below a portion of the Sundarbans, situated in the 24-Parganas and Khulna districts, was declared to be reserved forest under section 34 of the Indian Forest Act (VII of 1878), and whereas the Lieutenant-Governor is not satisfied as to the manner in which enquiries regarding rights in the said forest have been recorded, he is pleased to appoint Mr. P. Ross, Commissioner in the Sundarbans, to be the Forest Settlement Officer in respect of the forest lying within the districts of 24-Parganas and Khulna, who will, under the provisions of Chapter II of that Act, determine the boundaries to be finally laid down, and enquire into and determine the existence, nature, and extent of any rights alleged to exist in favour of any person in, or over, any land comprised within the boundaries specified below, or in, or over, any forest produce to be found therein in cases where claims to such rights are preferred by any individual or community under section 6 of the said Act, and will also himself ascertain as far as possible, and enquire into the existence of any rights mentioned in section 4 or 5 of the said Act within the said boundaries, which are not claimed under section 6, so far as the same may be ascertainable from the records of Government and the evidence of any persons likely to be acquainted with the same; and will otherwise perform the duties of a Forest Settlement Officer under that Chapter.

The Lieutenant-Governor is further pleased, under section 16 of the Indian Forest Act, to appoint the Commissioner of the Presidency Division to hear appeals from the decisions of the Forest Settlement Officer as above appointed.

(1)—SUNDARBANS FOREST.

(This forest includes the land described in the notification dated 23rd January, 1879, under section 34, as the Sundarbans forests, exclusive of the area mentioned in the notification under section 26, dated 14th April, 1883.)

Description of boundaries.

North.—From the Kalindi nadi eastward along the northern boundary of the ungranted portion of lot No. 164, called Koekhali, to the Jabuna river; then down the Jabuna river; then along the eastern boundary of the Kalenchi Abad; then the Moor Gang; then the Aburi and Alloa khals; then up the Iohamati river; then along the northern boundary of ungranted lot No. 169; then the Chuar Gang; then the Golputtu river to the Arpungassya river; then the Sakbaria nadi; then the Mysalir and Hoda khals to the Sipsa river; then southwards along the Sipsa river to the point where it is joined by the Sutur Khali river; then northwards along the said Sutur Khali until it joins the Bhaddar river; then southwards along the Bhaddar river to the point where it is met by the khal or creek called Loutakhali in the maps, but locally known as Khajurbaria khal, which said khal forms the northern boundary of lot No. 226, called Kurumjal; then along the south and west banks of the said Loutakhali creek or Khajurbaria khal to its junction with the Pussur river; then a short distance south along the Pussur river and across it to the Nora Chila khal, which forms the northern boundary of lot No. 240; then along the said Nora Chila khal to its junction with the gang or river called Chila Chandpai; then across the Chila Chandpau and along the south bank of the Khurma nadi or river as far east as its point of junction with the Bhola river, which flows on the west of the well-known lots Nos. 2, 3, 4, 5, 6 and 7 Khaulea Barisál.

2. Applications for removal shall be made in the usual bill of entry form supported by the bill of lading or delivery order. The bill of entry will be made out "for removal into the Excise godown," and the Officer in charge of the Excise godown will give the Customs Officer a receipt in full for the number of casks or packages received.

3. As soon as possible after the spirit has been received in the Excise godown, it will be tested and gauged by an officer appointed by the Superintendent of Excise Revenue, and the result will be communicated to the officer holding the bond in Madras or elsewhere.

4. Excise duty shall be levied by the Superintendent of Excise Revenue on all such spirit, subject to a wastage allowance similar to that laid down in section 116 of the Sea Customs Act.

5. Passes for the removal of the spirit from the Excise godown will be issued by the Superintendent of Excise Revenue in accordance with section 18 of Act VII (B.C.) of 1878.

6. All charges incurred in the landing and removal of the spirit must be paid by the importer, owner or Agent to the Collector of Customs, failing which the amount will be levied by him under section 119 of the sea Customs Act, and no portion of the spirit shall be removed from the Excise godown until a no-demand certificate has been received by the Superintendent of Excise Revenue from the Collector of Customs.

7. All charges on account of rent, cooperage, storing, removing, &c., incurred after such spirit has been received into the Excise godown must be paid by the importer, owner or agent, as the case may be, to the Superintendent of Excise Revenue before the spirit is removed from the Excise godown, at such rates as may from time to time be fixed by the Board of Revenue.

8. After the fourth day, rent shall be charged on the spirit stored in the Excise godown at the rate of 3 annas per day per pipe or puncheon; 3 annas per day for every 100 imperial gallons when imported in drums, bottles or other vessels; 1½ anna per day per hogshead; and one anna per day per quarter cask. In cases where the importers, owners or agents do not make their own arrangements for cooperage, storage, and removal of the spirit, the charges shall be for cooperage, 8 annas per cask, and for storage and removal if imported in casks, one anna per cask, and if imported in drums, cases or other vessels, half an anna per package.

T. INGLIS,
Officiating Secretary.

Board of Revenue, L.P., Calcutta, the 4th May 1892.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL,—MARINE DEPARTMENT.

[Second Publication.]

NOTIFICATION.

The 3rd May 1892.

No. 33*Marine.*—Under the powers conferred upon him by section 29 of the Inland Steam-Vessels Act, 1884, as amended by subsequent enactments, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased, with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, to make the following rules, in supersession of those published in the Appendix to the Calcutta Gazette of the 5th February 1890, to regulate the granting of certificates of competency to Masters of Inland Steam-Vessels:—

REGULATIONS RELATING TO THE EXAMINATION OF MASTERS OF INLAND STEAM-VESSELS.

Certificates granted to persons who pass examinations.

1. Certificates of Competency will be granted to those persons who pass the requisite examinations, and otherwise comply with the requisite conditions. For this purpose arrangements have been made for holding examinations periodically at the Port of Calcutta.

Examinations continued till all the candidates are examined.

2. The examinations will be held by the Port Officer and one or more other examiner, to be appointed by the Government from time to time. They will commence early in the forenoon, and will be continued from day to day until all the candidates whose names appear upon the Port Officer's list on the day of examination are examined.

3. Candidates for examination must make their application upon the appropriate form (Exn. 2*b*), which must be filled up at the Port Office. The Exn. 2*b* properly filled in, together with the candidates' testimonials and discharges, must be lodged with the Port Officer not later than the day before the day of examination.

Testimonials of character, conduct, and ability required.

4. Testimonials of character, and of sobriety, experience, ability, and good conduct on board ship for at least the twelve months of service immediately preceding the date of application to be examined, will be required of all applicants, and without producing them no person will be examined. As such testimonials and discharges may have to be verified before the candidate can be examined, it is desirable that they should be handed in, together with the Form Exn. 2*b*, as early as possible.

Testimonials of Foreigners.

5. The testimonials of servitude of Foreigners and of British seamen serving in foreign vessels, which cannot be verified by the Port Officer, must be confirmed either by the Consul of the country to which the ship in which the candidate served belonged, or by some other recognized official authority of that country; or by the testimony of some credible person on the spot having personal knowledge of the facts required to be established. The production, however, of such proofs will not of necessity be deemed sufficient. Each case must be decided on its own merits; and if the sufficiency of the proofs given appears to be at all doubtful, the point must be referred to the Government.

Certificates as to age.

6. Should any doubt exist as to the age of a candidate, he will be required to produce a certificate of birth or baptism.

Foreigners to know English.

7. Foreigners must prove to the satisfaction of the Examiners that they can speak and write the English language sufficiently well to perform the duties required of them on board a British vessel. In the case of natives of India who may not be able to speak English, their certificates shall be endorsed to the effect that they are valid only for vessels manned and officered entirely by Asiatics.

Colour Tests.

8. The Government have made the following arrangements for the examination of persons as to their ability to distinguish colours:—

9. Examinations in colour are open to any person serving or about to serve in the Mercantile Marine.

10. Any persons including the holders of Certificates of Competency, or persons about to apply for Certificates of Competency, if desirous of being examined in Colours only, must make application to the Port Officer on Form Exn. 2^a, and pay a fee of one rupee.

11. He must on the appointed day attend for examination at the Examiner's Office and if he passes he will receive a certificate to that effect.

12. If he fails, it will be open to him to be examined again in Colours as often as he pleases on payment of the fee of one rupee at each fresh attempt.

13. The application of a candidate who is presenting himself for examination for a Master's Certificate must be made on Form Exn. 2*b*. Such examination will commence with the colour test; and if the candidate does not, at the time of making application, hold a Certificate of Competency of any grade, and should fail to distinguish correctly any one of the colours used in the test, he will not be allowed to proceed with the examination.

14. The fee he has paid for examination for a Certificate of Competency will include the fee for the Colour test, and, with the exception of one rupee, will in such event be returned to him.

15. A candidate for examination for a Certificate of Competency who, at the time of making application, does not possess a certificate, and who fails to pass the Colour test, may not be re-examined until after the lapse of three months from the date of his first failure. If he fails a second time, he will be allowed a third trial at the expiration of another three months from the date of his second failure. A fresh fee must be paid at each succeeding examination.

16. It is therefore obviously to the advantage of Candidates for Certificates of Competency to apply in the first instance to be examined in Colours only on Form Exn. 2_a.

17. A candidate who holds a Certificate of Competency, and who, on presenting himself for examination for a certificate of a higher grade, is unable to pass the Colour test, will notwithstanding be permitted to proceed with the examination for the certificate of the higher grade.

18. Should he pass this examination, the following statement will be written on the face of the higher certificate which may be granted to him, viz.—"This Officer has failed to pass the examination in Colours."

19. Should he ultimately fail to pass the examination, a like statement, relating to his being colour blind, will be made by the Port Officer on his existing certificate before it is returned to him.

20. Holders of certificates which bear the statement of their having failed to pass in Colours, and who may desire to have the statement removed from their certificates, must obtain the special permission of the Government.

Qualifications for Certificates of Competency as First Class Masters.

21. Examination in Colours.—All candidates for certificates of competency must first be examined in Colours.

22. A candidate for a certificate as first class master of inland steam-vessels must be not less than twenty-four years of age, and must have served as second class master in charge of a steam-vessel for not less than three years, or he must be not less than twenty-two years of age, hold a certificate of competency as second mate granted under Act I of 1859 (for the amendment of the law relating to Merchant Seamen), or the Merchant Shipping Acts, 1854 to 1883, or a certificate to which the provisions of any such Act have been made applicable under the Merchant Shipping (Colonial) Act, 1869, and have served as mate of an inland steam-vessel or master of a river flat for not less than one year; or he must be not less than twenty-four years of age, and must have served either not less than three years at sea and three years as mate of a river-steamer or master of a river flat, or not less than six years as mate of a river steamer or master of a river flat.

23. Each candidate will be examined apart, and vivâ voce, in each and all of the following subjects:—

(1)—The rules of the road.
(2)—The management of river steamers under all contingencies.
(3)—The tide table.
(4)—Storm signals.
(5)—The provisions of Act VI of 1884, and the rules framed under sections 21, 29, 50 and 51 of the Act.

Qualifications for Certificates of Competency as Second Class Masters.

24. Examination in Colours.—All candidates for Certificates of Competency must first be examined in Colours.

25. A candidate for a certificate as second class master of an inland steam-vessel must not be less than twenty-one years of age and must produce satisfactory certificates of sobriety and intelligence, and that he has served three years as Mate of a small steam-vessel or as chief helmsman of a steam-vessel of over 80 horse-power, and shall be examined vivâ voce as to his knowledge in the following subjects:—

(1)—The rules of the road.
(2)—The management of small river steamers.
(3)—Storm signals.

Failure.

26. If a candidate fails, he will not be re-examined until after a lapse of three months from the date of such failure.

Re-examination in case of failure.

Certificate of lower grade.

27. If a candidate has failed in his examination, but the subjects in which he has failed are not included in the subjects required for a certificate of a lower grade, he may, if he desires it, receive a certificate of such lower grade.

28. No part, however, of the fee he has paid will be returned to him, and on presenting himself, when entitled so to do, for re-examination for the higher grade of certificate, he will be required to pay again the full fee.

Fees.

29. Candidates for examination, in making their application on Form Exn. 2*b*, will be required to pay the examination fee before any step is taken, whether by enquiring into their services or testing their qualifications, &c. Should it be found that their service is not sufficient to entitle them to be examined, or should their testimonials be unsatisfactory, or should they from any other cause not be examined, no part of the fee will be returned to them, but when they have filfilled the requisite service, or are able to produce satisfactory testimonials, as the case may be, they will be allowed to again present themselves for examination for a certificate of the same grade without paying any further fee.

30. The fee for examination must be paid to the Port Officer. In any case in which a candidate offers money to any other officer, and in any place but in the Port Office, the candidate so offering money will be regarded as having committed an act of misconduct, and will be rejected and not allowed to be again examined for twelve months.

Fees to be paid by applicants for examination.

31. If a candidate fails in his examination, no part of the fee will be returned to him.

32. If the candidate satisfy the examiners as to his knowledge of the prescribed subjects, and generally as to his competency to command an inland river steamer, they shall certify the same to the Government, which will then grant a certificate to the candidate.

33. The fees are as follows:—

	Rs.
First Class Master	16
Second Class Master	6

General.

34. Certificates of competency of first and second class masters shall be made and issued in the forms hereunto annexed.

35. Every certificate of competency shall be made in duplicate, and one copy shall be delivered to the person entitled to the certificate, and the other shall be kept and recorded by the Port Officer of Calcutta.

By the Honourable the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL—MARINE DEPARTMENT.

Second Publication.]

NOTIFICATION.

The 3rd May 1892.

No. 34*Marine.*—Under the powers conferred upon him by section 29 of the Inland Steam-Vessels Act, 1884, as amended by subsequent enactments, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased, with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, to make the following rules, in supersession of those published in the Appendix to the Calcutta Gazette of the 5th February 1890, to regulate the granting of certificates of competency to Engineers and First class Engine-drivers of Inland Steam-Vessels :—

REGULATIONS RELATING TO THE EXAMINATION OF ENGINEERS AND FIRST CLASS ENGINE-DRIVERS OF INLAND STEAM-VESSELS.

Certificates of competency granted to persons who pass requisite examinations.

1. Certificates of competency will be granted to those persons who pass the requisite examinations and otherwise comply with the requisite conditions. For this purpose examiners have been appointed and arrangements have been made for holding the examinations periodically at the port of Calcutta.

Examinations continued till all the candidates are examined.

2. The examinations will commence early in the forenoon, and will be continued from day to day until all the candidates whose names appear upon the Port Officer's list on the day of examination are examined.

Application how to be made.

3. Candidates for examination must make their application upon Form Exn. 3*b*, which must be filled up at the Port Office. The Exn. 3*b*, properly filled in, together with the candidate's testimonials, must be lodged with the Port Officer not later than the day before the day of examination.

Testimonials required.

4. Testimonials of character and of sobriety, experience, ability, and good conduct, for at least the 12 months immediately preceding the date of application to be examined, will be required of all applicants, and without producing them no person will be examined. If the service has been on shore, the testimonial must be signed by an employer; if at sea, by either the master, managing owner, chief or superintending engineer.

5. As such testimonials and discharges may have to be verified before the candidates can be examined, it is desirable that they should be handed in, together with the Form Exn. 3*b*, as early as possible.

Testimonials of Foreigners.

6. The testimonials of servitude of Foreigners and of British seamen serving in foreign vessels, which cannot be verified by the Port Officer, must be confirmed either by the Consul of the country to which the ship in which the candidate served belonged, or by some other recognised official authority of that country, or by the testimony of some credible person on the spot, having personal knowledge of the facts required to be established. The production, however, of such proofs will not of necessity be deemed sufficient. Each case must be decided on its own merits; and if the sufficiency of the proofs given appears to be at all doubtful, the point must be referred to the Government.

Certificate as to age.

7. Should any doubt exist as to the age of a candidate, he will be required to produce a certificate of birth or baptism.

Foreigners to know English.

8. Foreigners must prove to the satisfaction of the Examiners that they can speak and write the English language sufficiently well to perform the duties required of them on board a British vessel.

Verification of services, &c., by Articles.

9. Services which cannot be verified by proper entries in the articles of the ships in which the candidates have served cannot be counted.

Qualifications for certificates of competency as Engineers.

Qualification of candidate for Inland Engineer's Certificate.

10. A candidate must be not less than twenty-two years of age :—

(a) He must have served an apprenticeship to an engineer of three years in England or five years in India, and must prove that during the period of his apprenticeship he has been employed on the making and repairing of engines. Or, if he has not served an apprenticeship, he must prove that for not less than three years in England or five years in India he has been employed as a journeyman or masterhand in some factory or workshop on the making or repairing of engines. In either case he must also have served two years thereafter in the engine-room of a steamer of over 80 horse-power, or as a certificated engine-driver in a steamer of less than 80 horse-power.

Or, failing the above service, he must have served as a certificated engine-driver in charge of a steamer for not less than four years.

(b) He must be able to give a description of boilers and the methods of staying them, together with the use and management of the different valves, cocks, pipes, and connections.

(c) He must understand how to correct defects from accident, decay or other causes, and the means of repairing such defects.

(d) He must understand the use of the barometer, thermometer, and salinometer, and the principles on which they are constructed.

(e) He must state the causes, effects, and usual remedies for incrustation and corrosion.

(f) He must be able to state how a temporary or permanent repair could be effected in case of derangement of a part of the machinery, or total breakdown.

(g) He must write a legible hand, and understand the first five rules of arithmetic and decimals, and their application to questions about consumption of stores, and full capacities of tanks and bunkers, the duty of pumps, and the direct strains in engines and boilers.

(h) He must be able to pass a creditable examination as to the various constructions of paddle and screw engines in general use; as to the details of the different working parts, external and internal, and the use of each part.

Qualifications for certificates of competency as first class Engine-drivers.

11. Candidates for examination must make their application upon the appropriate Form (Exn. 3*b*.), which must be filled up at the Port Office.

12. A candidate for a certificate of competency as first class engine-driver must have attained the age of twenty-two years.

13. He must have served an apprenticeship of at least four years if in India, or three years in the United Kingdom, and have served as assistant engineer for one year on a steamer of not less than 80 horse-power.

Or he must have been three years principal serang or tindal in the engine-room of a steamer, or have been for three years in charge of the engine of a factory or mill under a European manager or engineer, as well as one year principal serang or tindal or assistant engineer in the engine-room of a steamer under a certificated engineer.

14. He must have the testimonial shown in Appendix B filled up by the engineer with whom he has last served, or his other testimonials must contain all the particulars therein required.

15. He must pass a viva voce examination before the Board of Examiners as to the working of an engine and the use of its different parts.

16. He must be able, if required, to show his practical qualifications by one week's trial in a steamer after fulfilling the other tests to which he will be subjected.

General Rules as to Examinations.

Candidates not to take books, &c., into examination room.

17. All books necessary for the use of candidates under examination will be provided by the Government, and applicants will not be permitted to take into the examination room any book, paper, document, or memoranda of any description whatever; and, subject to the provisions referred to hereafter, they will also not be allowed to work out their problems on a slate or on waste paper.

18. Candidates will be allowed in the time allotted to cancel any part of their work, and, when required, additional papers will be supplied by the Examiners. These additional sheets must be attached to, and form part of, the examination papers.

Punishment for breaking rules.

19. In the event of any candidate being discovered copying from another, or affording any assistance or giving any information to another, or communicating in any way with another during the time of examination, he will be regarded as having failed in his examination, and will be turned back for three months, in the same manner as if he had failed in the practical part of the examination; and no part of the fees he may have paid for examination will be returned to him.

Leaving examination room.

20. If a candidate leaves the room before answering any question which has been given to him, he cannot afterwards be permitted to answer it, but the examiners may substitute other data or another question.

Questions from Form Exn. 15*a*.

21. All applicants presenting themselves for examination for certificates of competency as engineers will be required to give written answers to eight out of a list of ten questions selected from Form Exn. 15*a*, "Elementary Questions for the first examinations of Engineers for certificates of competency." These questions are intended to furnish a record to some extent of the candidate's knowledge at the time of his examination, and also to induce the candidates to pay more attention to their handwriting and spelling.

22. The Form Exn. 15*b*., on which these answers will be written, contains also some questions as to the experience of the applicant, to be answered by him in writing.

23. Examiners may add to their viva voce questions on the practical management of steam-engines and boilers any of those contained in Exn. 15*a*.

24. If at the expiration of the time allowed the candidate has worked out correctly the whole of the questions set to him, and given satisfactory answers in the viva voce examination, he will be declared to have passed.

25. If at the expiration of the time allowed he has not worked out the whole of the questions set to him, but if the result of the viva voce examination, taken in connection with the answers to such of the questions as he has worked out, is sufficient to satisfy the Examiner that the applicant is competent to take charge of engines, he will be declared to have passed.

26. In other cases he will be declared to have failed.

(Exn. 15.)

27. A report of the examination, and the examination papers, will be forwarded to the Government on the Form Exn. 15.

Notification of having passed will be given to successful candidates (Exn. 16).

28. If the candidate passes, he will receive the Form Exn. 16 upon which the Government will issue the certificate to the candidate, whose testimonials, &c., will be returned at the same time. It is therefore important that the port of destination of the certificate should be the same on both the Form Exn. 16 and the Form Exn. 2. If circumstances should make any alteration necessary, the examiners should see that it is made in both forms, otherwise delay in the issue of the certificate may be caused.

Fees.

Fees to be paid by applicants for examination.

29. Candidates for examination, in making their application on Form Exn. 3*b*, will be required to pay the examination fees before any step is taken, whether by inquiring into their services or testing their qualifications, &c. No part of the fee will under any circumstances be returned to them; but should it be found that their service is not sufficient to entitle them to be examined, or that their testimonials are unsatisfactory, they will be allowed to present themselves for examination without paying any further fee, when they have fulfilled the requisite service, or are able to produce satisfactory testimonials, as the case may be.

30. The fee for examination must be paid to the Port Officer. In any case in which a candidate offers money to any other officer, and in any place but in the Port Office, the candidate so offering money will be regarded as having committed an act of misconduct, and will be rejected and not allowed to be examined for twelve months.

31. If a candidate fails in his examinations, no part of the fee he has paid will be returned to him.

32. The fees are as follow:—

	Rs.
Engineers	12
First class engine-drivers	10

Failure.

33. If the applicant fails in the vivâ voce or practical part of the examination, he may not present himself for re-examination until he can produce proofs of three months' further service afloat. If he fails in arithmetic or drawing only, he may come up again at any time. Engine-drivers may be examined de novo after six months, if the past examination showed that they might reasonably be expected to qualify.

General.

34. Certificates of competency of engineers and first class engine-drivers shall be made out and issued in the forms hereunto annexed.

35. Every certificate of competency shall be made in duplicate, and one copy shall be delivered to the person entitled to the certificate, and the other shall be kept and recorded by the Port Officer of Calcutta.

APPENDIX B.

TESTIMONIAL.

I hereby certify that has served with me in the engine-room of as principal serang or tindal for a period of , during which time he has discharged his duties to my entire satisfaction.

I consider that he fully understands the working of an engine, and has sufficient tact, presence of mind, and energy to look after and manage the working of the engines of a river steamer having engines of thirty nominal horse-power or upwards, but of less than 80 nominal horse-power.

SUMMARY OF THE RAINFALL AND METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE MONTH OF APRIL 1892.

At the commencement of the month fine weather of ordinary hot season character prevailed in all districts, though the pressure distribution was a little anomalous, inasmuch as there was a very considerable excess of pressure in the north-east of the province, while the excess diminished rapidly in amount towards the west. Hence easterly and south-easterly winds prevailed generally, and the air was unusually moist. Owing apparently to an increase in the strength of the westerly winds blowing in Central and Upper India, and which began to force back the moist easterly winds blowing in Bengal, conditions began to change from the 4th, from which date local storms with rain commenced in Assam and North Bengal, and which afterwards spread towards the south-west, and fairly general but very irregular rainfall was received in all districts, except parts of Behar and Chota Nagpur and Orissa, during the first week of the month. At the end of this period pressure had fallen to almost its normal amount, while winds had become of the normal westerly character at the western stations and south-westerly in the south-west of the province, while the easterly element in North Bengal and North Bihár had become weak. A few local storms with rain again occurred in the north and centre of the province about the 12th, but the meteorological changes which took place up to this time were generally small. A steady relative increase in pressure at the eastern stations then took place, baric gradients from east to west became steeper, and what was almost a barometric depression was formed in the extreme west of the province, and winds therefore became more easterly than they had been. At this time a series of local storms with rain set in over the greater part of South-West Bengal, the whole of North Bengal, the Purnea, North Bhágalpur, and Darbhanga districts of North Bihár, the Monghyr and South Bhágalpur districts of South Bihár, the Sonthal Parganas, and a considerable part of Chota Nagpur. On the 19th the area of defective pressure in the west of the province extended, and in parts of Bihár and South-West Bengal pressure became from an eighth to a tenth of an inch below the normal, and this defective pressure continued to become more strongly marked up till the 22nd, when there was a defect of about a quarter of an inch in Bihár and North Bengal. Hence baric gradients for the whole of this time were unusually steep in Bengal and at the head of the Bay, and strong winds bringing up much moisture blew over the province from the Bay, and therefore during the whole of this period local storms with rain were numerous in East and North Bengal, while a considerable number of showers also occurred in South-West Bengal, and Orissa. From the 23rd, however, pressure began to increase rapidly, and by the 24th the feeble depression had disappeared. Again on the 25th a rapid fall of pressure gave a well-defined though shallow barometric depression over Bihár, which filled up on the 27th and 28th, while again on the 30th a very rapid fall of pressure took place, particularly in the north-east of the province, where a defect of about a fifth of an inch below the normal was recorded. Hence during the existence of these shallow low-pressure areas strong moist southerly winds were drawn in from the Bay, and a good many local storms with rain occurred, principally in East and North Bengal, up till quite the close of the month.

The principal features in the meteorology of April therefore have been the well-marked tendency to the formation of low-pressure areas or feeble barometric depressions over Bengal, and particularly over the north of the province, which has been accompanied by unusually large oscillations of pressure. With this distribution of pressure the southerly winds blowing from the Bay over Bengal have been exceptionally strong,—far stronger indeed than the winds which are experienced in the south-west monsoon. These strong southerly winds have brought up large quantities of moisture to the province, and have hence facilitated the formation of very numerous local storms or nor'-westers with rain, and thus the rainfall for the month has been rather largely in excess of the normal in East and North Bengal, the excess equalling from more than sixty to about eighty per cent. The rainfall has also been about normal in amount in South-West Bengal and in North and South Bihár; but, on the other hand, it has been very considerably in defect in Orissa and Chota Nagpur.

Pressure.—The mean pressure for the whole month has been very distinctly in defect of the normal. This defect generally ranges from about 0·02″ to 0·03″ in the south of the province to about 0·05″ to 0·06″ at the northern stations, the mean defect at such stations as Sibsagar and Gaya being about 0·06″ and upwards. In Assam the general defect equals 0·035″, which is a little higher than the general defect for Bengal.

Temperature.—The variations of temperature during the month have been rather large. During the first week or ten days the mean temperature of the province was about 2·3° in excess of the normal. During the week ending the 16th of April the excess had fallen to 1·6°, while in the week ending the 23rd the general temperature of the whole province was practically normal, though defects were registered in East and North Bengal and North Bihár, and excess temperatures in Orissa and Chota Nagpur. Finally, during the last week of the month temperature rose very considerably, and became about 3·4° in excess of the normal. Thus the mean temperature of the province for the month has been no less than 1·8° in excess of the normal for the period, but the highest excess has been recorded in South Bihár and Chota Nagpur, where it is from three to three and-a-half degrees. In Assam the small excess of 0·8° only has been recorded.

The highest temperatures recorded in each of the divisions during the month have been—in Orissa 112·5° at Balasore and 112·4° at Cuttack; in South-West Bengal 112·4° at Midnapore; in East Bengal 98·6° at Dacca; in North Bengal 104·8° at Rampur Baolia and 104·1° at Malda; in North Bihár 110·7° at Chupra; in South Bihár 112·6° at Gaya; in Chota Nagpur 102·3° at Chaibassa, and in Assam 94·8° at Dhubri.

Rainfall.—The falls in East Bengal have averaged more than six and-a-half inches, or two and-a-half inches in excess of the normal, and in North Bengal nearly four and-a-half inches, or about two inches more than usual. South-West Bengal has averaged two inches, North Bihár about an inch, and South Bihár about four-tenths,—in all cases nearly normal amounts. Orissa, however, has only received an average fall of five-tenths, or about one-third of the usual fall, and Chota Nagpur only a tenth of an inch, or less than a quarter of the average amount for April.

Taking up these divisions rather more in detail, in East and North Bengal all the districts have received fairly abundant rainfall; in South-West Bengal Murshidabad, Burdwan, 24-Parganas, Howrah, Hooghly, Nadia, Jessore, and Khulna have received good rain, Midnapore, Birbhum, and West Burdwan moderate rain, and Bankura, South-West Midnapore, and South 24-Parganas light rain only. In North Behar rainfall has been mainly confined to the Purnea and North Bhágalpur districts, and in South Bihár to the South Bhágalpur, Monghyr, and Sonthal Parganas districts. In Chota Nagpur only Manbhum and Singhbhum have received light rain.

In Assam there has been very heavy rain during the month, for Silchar has received 24·90 inches, and Sibsagar 15·19 inches, while Dhubri only reports 3·49 inches.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the month of April 1892:—

* Mean of 6 days.

Explanation.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical average or means of the reading during the same period for the last [illegible]. The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed at percentage, saturated air being presented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The numbers are the numerical means or average of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the subdivisional station for the period in question during the [illegible] stations in the district sending in returns divided by the number of stations. A rainy day is one on which at least a fourth of an inch fell.

ıe week ending Saturday, the 7th of May 1892.

Explanation.—.....indicate that no rain has fallen. If the return for any day has not been received, the corresponding space is left blank. If any of the returns wanting, the corresponding spaces in the total rainfall columns are left blank. With reference to the column of rainy days, the definition of a rainy day is when at 0·1 inch of rain has fallen.

CALCUTTA, the 10*th May* 1892.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE WEEK ENDING 8 A.M., SATURDAY, THE 7TH OF MAY 1892.

At the close of the previous week conditions were a little disturbed in Bengal from the fact that a shallow low-pressure area existed over Bengal, the centre of the defective pressure being in North Bengal, where a defect of about a fifth of an inch was registered. With these disturbed conditions a series of local storms or nor'-westers with rain occurred on the evening of the 30th April, the rainfall from which was reported on the morning of the 1st of May, or the first day of the present week, and from this cause the stations in all districts of East Bengal, except parts of Tippera and Mymensingh, reported moderate rain on this day. Pressure, however, commenced to rise moderately to rapidly on the morning of the 1st; the increase was still more marked on the 2nd, when pressure became above the normal, the excess being small in the south-western districts, while in North Bengal it almost amounted to a tenth of an inch. On the 3rd the pressure changes were small and variable, and on the 4th there was a slow to moderate fall, and on the 5th a slight rise, and the general pressure over the province still remained fairly normal. On the 6th and 7th, however, pressure was generally falling slowly to moderately, and on the latter date pressure became below the normal over the whole province. Hence the disturbed conditions which existed at the commencement of the week rapidly passed away with the disappearance of the depression and the establishment of high pressure, and except in or near the hills in North Bengal, rainfall practically ceased from the 1st. Towards the close of the week, however, with the falling pressures conditions became less settled than they had been, and on the 7th, or the last day of the week, rain which had probably fallen during local storms was reported at almost all the stations in North Bengal and at a few in East Bengal. During the whole of the week the fluctuations of temperature have not been very large, and on the whole temperature has been generally rising. Winds have also been fairly normal in character, being southerly at the southern stations, south-easterly in East Bengal, and easterly along the line of the hills, while at a few of the western stations westerly and south-westerly winds have been reported. Hence these winds have brought up a good deal of moisture to the province, though the number of local storms during the present week has been much smaller than in the previous week, owing to the disturbed conditions being less pronounced. Hence only East and North Bengal have received moderate rain during the week, the amounts being decidedly smaller than the normal for the period, while Assam has also received moderate to heavy rain. The other divisions of Bengal have, however, been almost rainless for the week, as only a few isolated storms have occurred in various districts.

Pressure.—The mean pressure for the week has been decidedly in excess of the normal, the excess usually ranging from 0·03″ to 0·05″. The smallest excess pressures are, however, reported from North Bengal and North Bihár, where they only average about 0·01″ to 0·02″. In Assam also the excess pressures have been comparatively small, and at Dhubri and Silchar they equal about 0·02″, while at Sibsagar even a defective pressure is recorded, but the correctness of this is doubtful.

Temperature—Has been exceptionally high during the week, and the mean temperature for the whole province has been no less than 4·2 in excess of the normal. This excess has been fairly equally distributed except in South-West Bengal, where it equals 5·4°. In Assam there has been an excess temperature of only one degree.

Rainfall.—The average rainfall in North Bengal has equalled about one and-a-half inches, or a little less than the normal fall, while in East Bengal the falls have averaged about nine-tenths of an inch, or not much more than a third of the usual amount. The falls in all other divisions have been so small that rainfall has been practically absent in them.

These falls have also been rather irregularly distributed. In North Bengal the falls have been rather abundant in the districts of Jalpaiguri and Kuch Bihar, and to a less extent in Darjeeling and Rangpur; the other districts generally have received moderate rain except Malda, which has been practically rainless. In East Bengal, Chittagong, Chittagong Hill Tracts, and Tippera have received good rain and the other districts rather small amounts, except in the case of Backergunge which has been rainless.

In Assam during the week Dhubri has received 4·61 inches, Silchar 2·41 inches, and Sibsagar 2·11 inches of rain.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Saturday, the 7th of May 1892:—

The results of observations at the Alipore Observatory are not rigorously comparable with the registers of past years (at the Park Street Observatory). The barometer is about 3 feet higher at Alipore, and, other things being equal, reads therefore ·003 lower. The diurnal range of temperature is also greater at Alipore, and the mean temperature apparently about 0·2° lower; and, finally, the thermometer which furnished the record of temperature at the Surveyor-General's Office during 20 years and upwards is found to read 0·6 higher than the Kew standard thermometer, which is the standard of reference at the present Observatory.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h, and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

Alterations in buoyage, &c.—Bombay harbour.

NOTICE to Mariners, No. 137 of 1892, issued by the British Admiralty, is republished :—

The following information, dated 1st March 1892, relative to alterations in buoyage, &c., in Bombay harbour, has been received from Lieutenant and Commander H. Preedy, H. M. S. Redbreast :—

1. The depth over Raleigh rock has been reported to be increased by blasting to 26 feet, and the buoy previously marking this danger has therefore been withdrawn.

2. A buoy named Third Troopship buoy has been moored with South beacon bearing W. $\frac{1}{8}$ S., and Dolphin light-house N. by W. $\frac{3}{4}$ W., distant 3 cables.

3. Flagstaff shoal buoy has been moved about three-quarters of a cable eastward of its previous position, and now lies in about 23 feet water.

4. North patch buoy will be withdrawn on 1st May 1892, as the least depth for about 2 cables inside it is now 10 feet.

NOTE.—Quarantine anchorage in Bombay harbour is now defined as follows :—By an imaginary line drawn from Prongs light-house through Sunk rock light-house, and at the distance of $1\frac{1}{4}$ to 2 miles from the last named light-house, in depths of 32 to 36 feet, with Dolphin light-house bearing from N.W. to W.N.W.

The depths given are at low water spring tides.

NOTIFICATION—No. 1955For.

(Under Section 31 of the Indian Forest Act.)

The 10th May, 1892.—In supersession of all previous notifications under this section relating to the Protected Forests of the Government estate of Khurda in Orissa, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased, under section 31 of the Indian Forest Act, (Act VII of 1878), and with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, to make the following rules for the management of the said forests, namely:—

1. The Khurda Protected Forests shall be under the management of the officer in charge of the Puri Forest Division, acting under the orders of the Collector of Puri.

2. Green trees of the 16 species reserved under section 29 may not be felled, cut, lopped or in any way injured, without the written permission of the Collector of Puri in each case, and such permission will only be given in behalf of some public object. The material yielded by the operations can be disposed of as the Collector may decide, but all revenues realized from this source must be credited to the Forest Department.

3. All trees and timber not belonging to the classes reserved under section 29 have been set aside for the use of the raiyats and other residents of the estate, and may not be felled, cut, collected or removed, except as provided in these rules.

4. Trees of the following species may not be lopped, but may be felled and removed for purposes of house construction and repair, and for the manufacture and repair of household and agricultural implements and furniture:—

1. Karam (Adina cordifolia).
2. Gambhari (Gmelina arborea).
3. Mohanim (Ailanthus excelsa).
4. Chuariana (Ochrocarpus longifolia).
5. Bheru (Chloroxylon Surdonia).
6. Korong (Pongamia glabra).
7. Dhau (Anogeissus latifolia).
8. Kongora (Xylia dolabriformio).
9. Tinia (Albizzia).
10. Mohinl (Odina wodier).
11. Kasi (Briedelia retusa).
12. Poonang (Calophyllum inophyllum).
13. Bandan (Ougenia dalbergioides).
14. Asan (Terminalia tomentosa).
15. Bahera (Terminalia bellerica).

These trees are not to be cut for firewood, fencing material, or for any other purpose than that mentioned above, without the Collector's written sanction.

5. Subject to the conditions contained in Rule 4, trees not reserved under section 29, and dry trees and dry timber of all species, excepting sâl, piasâl and sissoo, and all other forest produce whatsoever, may be felled, cut, collected and removed by every bonâ fide resident of the Khurda Government estate, together with all members of the indigenous tribes known as Savars and Bouris, and all landless labourers to all which persons grazing also may be permitted, provided—

(i) that the produce shall be required for personal use, and shall not be sold or bartered except to persons privileged under these rules, who will then be bound in the same way;

(ii) that a payment calculated at the rate of six pies in the rupee of his rent, or such other amount as may be fixed from time to time by the Local Government, shall be realized (in addition to the rent) by the Collector of Puri from every rent-paying raivat in each village of the estate, and credited to the Forest Department as forest revenue on account of general use of the Protected Forest;

(iii) that where the user is a dhobi, potter, blacksmith, or other person following some industry which consumes an unusually large quantity of fuel, such user shall obtain from the Divisional Forest Officer an annual license to be paid for at the rate of one rupee, or such other rate or rates as may be fixed from time to time by the Local Government;

(iv) that professional graziers of goats and sheep may only graze such animals in localities to be set aside for the purpose by the Collector of Puri, and that all professional graziers shall pay the following grazing fees, or such other fees as may be fixed from time to time by the Local Government:—

Per buffalo (of any age)	...	Eight annas per annum, or for any period of less than a year.
Any other animal (of any age)	...	Four annas per annum, or for any period of less than a year.

6. No land in the Khurda Protected Forests may be cleared or broken up for "toila," i.e., temporary cultivation, except with the written permission of the Collector of Puri, and subject to the condition that trees of the species reserved under section 29 (including stems of any age) may not be felled, lopped, burnt, or in any way injured.

[Third Publication.]

NOTIFICATION.

The 3rd May 1892.

No. 33*Marine.*—Under the powers conferred upon him by section 29 of the Inland Steam-Vessels Act, 1884, as amended by subsequent enactments, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased, with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, to make the following rules, in supersession of those published in the Appendix to the Calcutta Gazette of the 5th February 1890, to regulate the granting of certificates of competency to Masters of Inland Steam-Vessels :—

REGULATIONS RELATING TO THE EXAMINATION OF MASTERS OF INLAND STEAM-VESSELS.

1. Certificates of Competency will be granted to those persons who pass the requisite examinations, and otherwise comply with the requisite conditions. For this purpose arrangements have been made for holding examinations periodically at the Port of Calcutta.

Certificates granted to persons who pass examinations.

2. The examinations will be held by the Port Officer and one or more other examiners to be appointed by the Government from time to time. They will commence early in the forenoon, and will be continued from day to day until all the candidates whose names appear upon the Port Officer's list on the day of examination are examined.

Examinations continued till all the candidates are examined.

3. Candidates for examination must make their application upon the appropriate form (Exn. 2*b*), which must be filled up at the Port Office. The Exn. 2*b* properly filled in, together with the candidates' testimonials and discharges, must be lodged with the Port Officer not later than the day before the day of examination.

4. Testimonials of character, and of sobriety, experience, ability, and good conduct on board ship for at least the twelve months of service immediately preceding the date of application to be examined, will be required of all applicants, and without producing them no person will be examined. As such testimonials and discharges may have to be verified before the candidate can be examined, it is desirable that they should be handed in, together with the Form Exn. 2*b*, as early as possible.

Testimonials of character, conduct, and ability required.

5. The testimonials of servitude of Foreigners and of British seamen serving in foreign vessels, which cannot be verified by the Port Officer, must be confirmed either by the Consul of the country to which the ship in which the candidate served belonged, or by some other recognized official authority of that country; or by the testimony of some credible person on the spot having personal knowledge of the facts required to be established. The production, however, of such proofs will not of necessity be deemed sufficient. Each case must be decided on its own merits; and if the sufficiency of the proofs given appears to be at all doubtful, the point must be referred to the Government.

Testimonials of Foreigners.

6. Should any doubt exist as to the age of a candidate, he will be required to produce a certificate of birth or baptism.

Certificates as to age.

7. Foreigners must prove to the satisfaction of the Examiners that they can speak and write the English language sufficiently well to perform the duties required of them on board a British vessel. In the case of natives of India who may not be able to speak English, their certificates shall be endorsed to the effect that they are valid only for vessels manned and officered entirely by Asiatics.

Foreigners to know English.

Colour Tests.

8. The Government have made the following arrangements for the examination of persons as to their ability to distinguish colours :—

9. Examinations in colour are open to any person serving or about to serve in the Mercantile Marine.

10. Any persons including the holders of Certificates of Competency, or persons about to apply for Certificates of Competency, if desirous of being examined in Colours only, must make application to the Port Officer on Form Exn. 2^a, and pay a fee of one rupee.

11. He must on the appointed day attend for examination at the Examiner's Office and if he passes he will receive a certificate to that effect.

12. If he fails, it will be open to him to be examined again in Colours as often as he pleases on payment of the fee of one rupee at each fresh attempt.

13. The application of a candidate who is presenting himself for examination for a Master's Certificate must be made on Form Exn. $2b$. Such examination will commence with the colour test; and if the candidate does not, at the time of making application, hold a Certificate of Competency of any grade, and should fail to distinguish correctly any one of the colours used in the test, he will not be allowed to proceed with the examination.

14. The fee he has paid for examination for a Certificate of Competency will include the fee for the Colour test, and, with the exception of one rupee, will in such event be returned to him.

15. A candidate for examination for a Certificate of Competency who, at the time of making application, does not possess a certificate, and who fails to pass the Colour test, may not be re-examined until after the lapse of three months from the date of his first failure. If he fails a second time, he will be allowed a third trial at the expiration of another three months from the date of his second failure. A fresh fee must be paid at each succeeding examination.

16. It is therefore obviously to the advantage of Candidates for Certificates of Competency to apply in the first instance to be examined in Colours only on Form Exn. 2_a.

17. A candidate who holds a Certificate of Competency, and who, on presenting himself for examination for a certificate of a higher grade, is unable to pass the Colour test, will notwithstanding be permitted to proceed with the examination for the certificate of the higher grade.

18. Should he pass this examination, the following statement will be written on the face of the higher certificate which may be granted to him, viz.—"This Officer has failed to pass the examination in Colours."

19. Should he ultimately fail to pass the examination, a like statement, relating to his being colour blind, will be made by the Port Officer on his existing certificate before it is returned to him.

20. Holders of certificates which bear the statement of their having failed to pass in Colours, and who may desire to have the statement removed from their certificates, must obtain the special permission of the Government.

Qualifications for Certificates of Competency as First Class Masters.

21. Examination in Colours.—All candidates for certificates of competency must first be examined in Colours.

22. A candidate for a certificate as first class master of inland steam-vessels must be not less than twenty-four years of age, and must have served as second class master in charge of a steam-vessel for not less than three years, or he must be not less than twenty-two years of age, hold a certificate of competency as second mate granted under Act I of 1859 (for the amendment of the law relating to Merchant Seamen), or the Merchant Shipping Acts, 1854 to 1883, or a certificate to which the provisions of any such Act have been made applicable under the Merchant Shipping (Colonial) Act, 1869, and have served as mate of an inland steam-vessel or master of a river flat for not less than one year; or he must be not less than twenty-four years of age, and must have served either not less than three years at sea and three years as mate of a river-steamer or master of a river flat, or not less than six years as mate of a river steamer or master of a river flat.

23. Each candidate will be examined apart, and viva voce, in each and all of the following subjects:—

(1)—The rules of the road.
(2)—The management of river steamers under all contingencies.
(3)—The tide table.
(4)—Storm signals.
(5)—The provisions of Act VI of 1884, and the rules framed under sections 21, 29, 50 and 51 of the Act.

Qualifications for Certificates of Competency as Second Class Masters.

24. Examination in Colours.—All candidates for Certificates of Competency must first be examined in Colours.

25. A candidate for a certificate as second class master of an inland steam-vessel must not be less than twenty-one years of age and must produce satisfactory certificates of sobriety and intelligence, and that he has served three years as Mate of a small steam-vessel or as chief helmsman of a steam-vessel of over 80 horse-power, and shall be examined viva voce as to his knowledge in the following subjects:—

(1)—The rules of the road.
(2)—The management of small river steamers.
(3)—Storm signals.

Failure.

26. If a candidate fails, he will not be re-examined until after a lapse of three months from the date of such failure.

Re-examination in case of failure.

Certificate of lower grade.

27. If a candidate has failed in his examination, but the subjects in which he has failed are not included in the subjects required for a certificate of a lower grade, he may, if he desires it, receive a certificate of such lower grade.

28. No part, however, of the fee he has paid will be returned to him, and on presenting himself, when entitled so to do, for re-examination for the higher grade of certificate, he will be required to pay again the full fee.

Fees.

29. Candidates for examination, in making their application on Form Exn. 2*b*, will be required to pay the examination fee before any step is taken, whether by enquiring into their services or testing their qualifications, &c. Should it be found that their service is not sufficient to entitle them to be examined, or should their testimonials be unsatisfactory, or should they from any other cause not be examined, no part of the fee will be returned to them, but when they have filfilled the requisite service, or are able to produce satisfactory testimonials, as the case may be, they will be allowed to again present themselves for examination for a certificate of the same grade without paying any further fee.

Fees to be paid by applicants for examination.

30. The fee for examination must be paid to the Port Officer. In any case in which a candidate offers money to any other officer, and in any place but in the Port Office, the candidate so offering money will be regarded as having committed an act of misconduct, and will be rejected and not allowed to be again examined for twelve months.

31. If a candidate fails in his examination, no part of the fee will be returned to him.

32. If the candidate satisfy the examiners as to his knowledge of the prescribed subjects, and generally as to his competency to command an inland river steamer, they shall certify the same to the Government, which will then grant a certificate to the candidate.

33. The fees are as follows:—

	Rs.

NOTIFICATION.

The 3rd May 1892.

No. 34*Marine.*—Under the powers conferred upon him by section 29 of the Inland Steam-Vessels Act, 1884, as amended by subsequent enactments, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased, with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, to make the following rules, in supersession of those published in the Appendix to the Calcutta Gazette of the 5th February 1890, to regulate the granting of certificates of competency to Engineers and First class Engine-drivers of Inland Steam-Vessels :—

REGULATIONS RELATING TO THE EXAMINATION OF ENGINEERS AND FIRST CLASS ENGINE-DRIVERS OF INLAND STEAM-VESSELS.

Certificates of competency granted to persons who pass requisite examinations.

1. Certificates of competency will be granted to those persons who pass the requisite examinations and otherwise comply with the requisite conditions. For this purpose examiners have been appointed and arrangements have been made for holding the examinations periodically at the port of Calcutta.

Examinations continued till all the candidates are examined.

2. The examinations will commence early in the forenoon, and will be continued from day to day until all the candidates whose names appear upon the Port Officer's list on the day of examination are examined.

Application how to be made.

3. Candidates for examination must make their application upon Form Exn. 3*b*, which must be filled up at the Port Office. The Exn. 3*b*, properly filled in, together with the candidate's testimonials, must be lodged with the Port Officer not later than the day before the day of examination.

Testimonials required.

4. Testimonials of character and of sobriety, experience, ability, and good conduct, for at least the 12 months immediately preceding the date of application to be examined, will be required of all applicants, and without producing them no person will be examined. If the service has been on shore, the testimonial must be signed by an employer; if at sea, by either the master, managing owner, chief or superintending engineer.

5. As such testimonials and discharges may have to be verified before the candidates can be examined, it is desirable that they should be handed in, together with the Form Exn. 3*b*, as early as possible.

Testimonials of Foreigners.

6. The testimonials of servitude of Foreigners and of British seamen serving in foreign vessels, which cannot be verified by the Port Officer, must be confirmed either by the Consul of the country to which the ship in which the candidate served belonged, or by some other recognised official authority of that country, or by the testimony of some credible person on the spot, having personal knowledge of the facts required to be established. The production, however, of such proofs will not of necessity be deemed sufficient. Each case must be decided on its own merits; and if the sufficiency of the proofs given appears to be at all doubtful, the point must be referred to the Government.

Certificate as to age.

7. Should any doubt exist as to the age of a candidate, he will be required to produce a certificate of birth or baptism.

Foreigners to know English.

8. Foreigners must prove to the satisfaction of the Examiners that they can speak and write the English language sufficiently well to perform the duties required of them on board a British vessel.

Verification of services, &c., by Articles.

9. Services which cannot be verified by proper entries in the articles of the ships in which the candidates have served cannot be counted.

Qualifications for certificates of competency as Engineers.

Qualification of candidate for Inland Engineer's Certificate.

10. A candidate must be not less than twenty-two years of age :—

(a) He must have served an apprenticeship to an engineer of three years in England or five years in India, and must prove that during the period of his apprenticeship he has been employed on the making and repairing of engines. Or, if he has not served an apprenticeship, he must prove that for not less than three years in England or five years in India he has been employed as a journeyman or masterhand in some factory or workshop on the making or repairing of engines. In either case he must also have served two years thereafter in the engine-room of a steamer of over 30 horse-power, or as a certificated engine-driver in a steamer of less than 30 horse-power.

Or, failing the above service, he must have served as a certificated engine-driver in charge of a steamer for not less than four years.

(b) He must be able to give a description of boilers and the methods of staying them, together with the use and management of the different valves, cocks, pipes, and connections.

(c) He must understand how to correct defects from accident, decay or other causes, and the means of repairing such defects.

(d) He must understand the use of the barometer, thermometer, and salinometer, and the principles on which they are constructed.

(e) He must state the causes, effects, and usual remedies for incrustation and corrosion.

(f) He must be able to state how a temporary or permanent repair could be effected in case of derangement of a part of the machinery, or total breakdown.

(g) He must write a legible hand, and understand the first five rules of arithmetic and decimals, and their application to questions about consumption of stores, and full capacities of tanks and bunkers, the duty of pumps, and the direct strains in engines and boilers.

(h) He must be able to pass a creditable examination as to the various constructions of paddle and screw engines in general use; as to the details of the different working parts, external and internal, and the use of each part.

Qualifications for certificates of competency as first class Engine-drivers.

11. Candidates for examination must make their application upon the appropriate Form (Exn. 3*b*.), which must be filled up at the Port Office.

12. A candidate for a certificate of competency as first class engine-driver must have attained the age of twenty-two years.

13. He must have served an apprenticeship of at least four years if in India, or three years in the United Kingdom, and have served as assistant engineer for one year on a steamer of not less than 80 horse-power.

Or he must have been three years principal serang or tindal in the engine-room of a steamer, or have been for three years in charge of the engine of a factory or mill under a European manager or engineer, as well as one year principal serang or tindal or assistant engineer in the engine-room of a steamer under a certificated engineer.

14. He must have the testimonial shown in Appendix B filled up by the engineer with whom he has last served, or his other testimonials must contain all the particulars therein required.

15. He must pass a viva voce examination before the Board of Examiners as to the working of an engine and the use of its different parts.

16. He must be able, if required, to show his practical qualifications by one week's trial in a steamer after fulfilling the other tests to which he will be subjected.

General Rules as to Examinations.

17. All books necessary for the use of candidates under examination will be provided by the Government, and applicants will not be permitted to take into the examination room any book, paper, document, or memoranda of any description whatever; and, subject to the provisions referred to hereafter, they will also not be allowed to work out their problems on a slate or on waste paper.

Candidates not to take books, &c., into examination room.

18. Candidates will be allowed in the time allotted to cancel any part of their work, and, when required, additional papers will be supplied by the Examiners. These additional sheets must be attached to, and form part of, the examination papers.

19. In the event of any candidate being discovered copying from another, or affording any assistance or giving any information to another, or communicating in any way with another during the time of examination, he will be regarded as having failed in his examination, and will be turned back for three months, in the same manner as if he had failed in the practical part of the examination; and no part of the fees he may have paid for examination will be returned to him.

Punishment for breaking rules.

20. If a candidate leaves the room before answering any question which has been given to him, he cannot afterwards be permitted to answer it, but the examiners may substitute other data or another question.

Leaving examination room.

21. All applicants presenting themselves for examination for certificates of competency as engineers will be required to give written answers to eight out of a list of ten questions selected from Form Exn. 15*a*, "Elementary Questions for the first examinations of Engineers for certificates of competency." These questions are intended to furnish a record to some extent of the candidate's knowledge at the time of his examination, and also to induce the candidates to pay more attention to their handwriting and spelling.

Questions from Form Exn. 15*a*.

22. The Form Exn. 15*b*., on which these answers will be written, contains also some questions as to the experience of the applicant, to be answered by him in writing.

23. Examiners may add to their viva voce questions on the practical management of steam-engines and boilers any of those contained in Exn. 15*a*.

24. If at the expiration of the time allowed the candidate has worked out correctly the whole of the questions set to him, and given satisfactory answers in the viva voce examination, he will be declared to have passed.

25. If at the expiration of the time allowed he has not worked out the whole of the questions set to him, but if the result of the viva voce examination, taken in connection with the answers to such of the questions as he has worked out, is sufficient to satisfy the Examiner that the applicant is competent to take charge of engines, he will be declared to have passed.

26. In other cases he will be declared to have failed.

(Exn. 15.)

27. A report of the examination, and the examination papers, will be forwarded to the Government on the Form Exn. 15.

Notification of having passed will be given to successful candidates (Exn. 16).

28. If the candidate passes, he will receive the Form Exn. 16 upon which the Government will issue the certificate to the candidate, whose testimonials, &c., will be returned at the same time. It is therefore important that the port of destination of the certificate should be the same on both the Form Exn. 16 and the Form Exn. 2. If circumstances should make any alteration necessary, the examiners should see that it is made in both forms, otherwise delay in the issue of the certificate may be caused.

Fees.

Fees to be paid by applicants for examination.

29. Candidates for examination, in making their application on Form Exn. 3*b*, will be required to pay the examination fees before any step is taken, whether by inquiring into their services or testing their qualifications, &c. No part of the fee will under any circumstances be returned to them; but should it be found that their service is not sufficient to entitle them to be examined, or that their testimonials are unsatisfactory, they will be allowed to present themselves for examination without paying any further fee, when they have fulfilled the requisite service, or are able to produce satisfactory testimonials, as the case may be.

30. The fee for examination must be paid to the Port Officer. In any case in which a candidate offers money to any other officer, and in any place but in the Port Office, the candidate so offering money will be regarded as having committed an act of misconduct, and will be rejected and not allowed to be examined for twelve months.

31. If a candidate fails in his examinations, no part of the fee he has paid will be returned to him.

32. The fees are as follow:—

	Rs.
Engineers	12
First class engine-drivers	10

Failure.

33. If the applicant fails in the viva voce or practical part of the examination, he may not present himself for re-examination until he can produce proofs of three months' further service afloat. If he fails in arithmetic or drawing only, he may come up again at any time. Engine-drivers may be examined de novo after six months, if the past examination showed that they might reasonably be expected to qualify.

General.

34. Certificates of competency of engineers and first class engine-drivers shall be made out and issued in the forms hereunto annexed.

35. Every certificate of competency shall be made in duplicate, and one copy shall be delivered to the person entitled to the certificate, and the other shall be kept and recorded by the Port Officer of Calcutta.

APPENDIX B.

TESTIMONIAL.

I hereby certify that has served with me in the engine-room of as principal serang or tindal for a period of , during which time he has discharged his duties to my entire satisfaction.

I consider that he fully understands the working of an engine, and has sufficient tact, presence of mind, and energy to look after and manage the working of the engines of a river steamer having engines of thirty nominal horse-power or upwards, but of less than 80 nominal horse-power.

Backergunge Collectorate, the 7th May 1892.

C. FISHER, for Collector.

NOTICE is hereby given that the undermentioned plots of land, no longer required by Government, situated along the Patna and Gaya Railway, in the district of Gaya, will be put up to sale at 9 A. M. on the dates and at the railway stations noted below :—

The purchasers of the several plots of land will be subject to the following conditions :—

1st.—The purchasers will have no power to make any excavations on the land nearer than fifteen feet from the railway fencing, or plough the land closer than three feet from its foundation.

2nd.—If the amount of purchase-money does not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount must be paid down at once.

3rd.—If the amount of purchase-money exceeds Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount must be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the fifteenth day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale shall be cancelled, the sum deposited being forfeited to Government, and the lot again put up for sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser, after issue of advertisement as in the case of original sale.

4th.—The plots of land will be sold revenue-free to the highest bidders.

5th.—The purchaser shall be put in possession on receipt by the Collector of the orders of the Board confirming the sales.

Will be put up to sale on 20th June 1892, at Jahánabad Railway Station.

NOTICE is hereby given that proprietary right of Government, as specified in the conditions of sale below, to the undermentioned estate situate in the district of Dacca, will be put up to sale at the Dacca Collectorate on the 22nd June 1892, corresponding with 9th Ashar 1299 B.S.

The purchaser will be subject to the following conditions of sale:—

CONDITIONS OF SALE.

1st.—The estate to be sold to the highest bidder above the upset price, which will be fixed by the Collector at the time of sale. The purchaser of this estate will be considered as the proprieter of the estate, and the entire proprietary right of Government in such estate will be transferred to him, subject to the revenue fixed in perpetuity.

2nd.—The sale to be subject to existing leases and to the rights conferred by the settlement proceedings and by the laws in force, and purchasers to be bound to respect the rights of resident cultivators who have signed the schedule of assessment prepared by the Revenue authorities.

3rd.—If the amount of purchase-money do not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount to be paid down at once.

4th.—If the amount of purchase-money exceed Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount bid to be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the fifteenth day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale is to be cancelled (the sum deposited being forfeited to Government), and the estate to be again put up to sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser, after issue of advertisement, as in the case of original sale—

SCHEDULE H.

KIDDERPORE GRAVING DOCK.

Revised Scale of Charges.

Dimensions—

Length on blocks ...	...	520 feet.
Width at entrance ...	...	67 ,,
Least depth on blocks	...	23 ,,

The Dock is intended principally for the painting and cleaning of vessels and the execution of very slight repairs. Its use for heavy repairs will only be given in special circumstances.

The terms are as follows, and will include removal of vessels from Tidal Basin into Graving Dock and back, docking, pumping, shoring and undocking; also the use of stages and stage-ropes for cleaning and painting :—

	Rs.
For the first 24 hours with a minimum of Rs. 400	...	0	6	6 per gross ton.
For every subsequent 24 hours up to a total of 8 days from entering	...	200	0	0 per day.
From 9th to 20th day	...	300	0	0 ,,

After 20 days the Commissioners reserve to themselves the right to increase the daily charge up to any sum not exceeding Rs. 500.

A vessel engaging the Dock, and not using it, will be charged Rs. 300.

The Commissioners will not undertake the work of cleaning, painting or repairing vessels. Owners, Agents or Masters will have to make their own arrangements for the execution of the work.

No commission or other fees will be levied on stores brought either by land or water into the Dock for cleaning, painting or repairing.

No dock dues will be charged on vessels passing through the Tidal Basin to or from the Graving Dock.

No. 976½ Marine.

The Local Government hereby signifies its approval of the above scale.

OUTTURN OF RABI AND SPECIAL CROPS IN BENGAL FOR THE YEAR 1891-92.

THE following are published for general information.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

REVENUE DEPARTMENT, AGRICULTURE;
Calcutta, the 14th May, 1892.

C. E. BUCKLAND,
Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

Outturn of rabi and special crops in Bengal for the year 1891-92.

Rabi crops.—The climatic conditions most favourable to the cultivation of rabi crops in Bengal and Bihár are when monsoon rains cease early in October, but are followed by comparatively fine weather, with a few light showers during the remainder of that month and the first fortnight of November. In December and January there should be showers to enable the crops to attain their full development. At the time of harvesting during the latter half of February and March, the weather should be dry. Continuous cloudy weather at this time causes damage, and is attended with injury from insects of various kinds and from fungoid pests.

In the rabi season, 1891-92, the conditions were unfavourable throughout the greater portion of Bengal and Bihár. Deficient rainfall at the sowing season, towards the end of October and the beginning of November, contracted the area sown in the districts of Patna, Gaya, Darbhanga, Malda, Sonthal Parganas, and Palámau. On the other hand, owing to the scantiness of the monsoon rains of 1891, and the consequent partial failure of winter rice, there was an extension of the area sown under rabi in Rajshahi, Bogra, Pabna, Faridpur, and Purnea. The deficiency of rain in the latter half of October and the first half of November injuriously affected the outturn also in all parts of South-West, East and North Bengal, North and South Bihár, Chota Nagpur, and Orissa, with the exception of the districts of Mymensingh, Rajshahi, Bogra, and Singbhum, the Sadar subdivision of Balasore, and the subdivisions of Magura, Brahmanbaria, Chandpur, and Banki, in which rain fell in the latter half of October and in the beginning of November. Excessive rain at the time of, and immediately after, sowing reduced the outturn in Singbhum, and in Bhadrak in the district of Balasore. A general drought throughout the rabi season further aggravated the injury. A cyclone in the month of November did much harm to the rabi crops in the Sadar and Kendrapara subdivisions of Cuttack, and in Puri; and hailstorms, when the crops were approaching maturity, did considerable damage in the Sadar subdivision of Faridpur. Locusts injured rabi plants in the Chittagong Hill Tracts. Deposits of silt, however, left by the floods of last year had a beneficial effect on some of the crops in the subdivisions of Goalundo, Brahmanbaria, Chandpur, Banki, and Jajpur.

Taking the Lower Provinces as a whole, the outturn of the rabi crops may be estimated at 9 annas.

Special crops.—During the season which has just expired, deficiency of rainfall throughout the monsoon months from June to October affected the outturn of sugarcane more or less, in all parts of the Lower Provinces, except Chota Nagpur and Orissa. Heavy rain in August, and a cyclone in November, injured the crop in the districts of Cuttack and Puri.

Tobacco—This crop was damaged by excessive rain and cyclonic winds in the month of November in Cuttack and Puri, and by a total cessation of rain towards the end of the season in February and March in Manbhum. An average crop is reported from the subdivisions of Basirhat, Bangaon, Brahmanbaria, Banki, Jajpur, Kolhan, and from the Sadar subdivision of the districts of Jessore, Chittagong, and Saran.

Poppy.—The outturn of poppy was seriously affected by the very dry weather at the beginning of the season in October in the Sadar and Siwán subdivisions of the district of Saran. This crop was damaged by cloudy and rainy weather at the end of February in the subdivision of Jahánabad, in the district of Gaya, and by high westerly winds in Patna. Hailstorms and high winds also did some harm in Shahabad. A full average crop is reported for the district of Monghyr, and for Hajipur, in the district of Muzaffarpur, but the average outturn throughout the poppy-growing districts is estimated at 11 annas only.

Mulberry.—A full average crop of mulberry is reported from the district of Bogra and from Kandi, in the district of Murshidabad. The average outturn for all mulberry-growing districts is estimated at 11 annas.

The outturn is represented in fractions of a rupee, sixteen annas being taken to represent an average crop.

M. FINUCANE,

Director of the Department of Land Records and Agriculture in Bengal.

The 2nd May, 1892.

BURDWAN DIVISION.
Sadar	1,242	993	31	Peas ... Kalai ... Khesari ... Musoor ... Barley ... Moong ... Oats ... Mustard ... Wheat ...	8 annas	10 annas	The outturn of the current year's crop is poor owing to the failure of rain from October 1891. The rabi crops of the previous year were poor also, owing to want of adequate rain and to the damage caused by locusts.	The total area of the district as given in the latest Bengal Administration Report, is 2,089 square miles. The conditions of rainfall of Kalna and Katwa were similar. The difference in their outturn is not intelligible.

Satkhira ...	1,273	449	28	Mustard ... Peas ...	8 annas	4 annas	The outturn of rabi crops has been affected more or less over large areas for want of timely rain. The outturn of last year was not satisfactory for want of timely rain, and excessive rain when it was not needed.	The rainfall in October was below the normal, but the deficiency was made up by the rain which fell in the first fortnight of November. The outturn would have been very good had not want of rain in December and January checked the proper development of the standing crops.

Rainfall has been fair in the Sadar sub-division, being only ·40 below the normal.	The total area of the district, as given in the latest Bengal Administration Report, is 3,793 square miles. Deficiency of rain at the time of sowing, and the total absence of rain in December and January, must have materially affected the outturn.

The outturn is given according to the report, and I think it must in most cases be overstated. The cropped area does not agree with that given in returns of agricultural statistics. But I do not know how the figures in these were obtained, nor can I explain differences at present."	Discrepancies in areas has been noticed in the Remark column of the Returns of Agricultural Statistics, and the Collector has been requested to revise his figures. Pending receipt of the revised figures the figures now sent by the Collector have been accepted for this forecast.

The long drought between the middle of November 1891 and middle of February 1892 prevented the growth of mustard, and of a few other crops, but the rest started well in favourable circumstances early in the season, and did very fairly. The heavy rain and the silt left by the high floods increased the outturn in 1891 of the crops for which the land had to be ploughed since the third week of October 1890; but those (e.g., maskalai) which were then on the ground suffered from the floods, and others were retarded by the difficulty of tillage preparation. Some damage was done at the beginning of November 1890 by locusts in the north-west of the district.

This arrested the development the crops, which had started well with the showers that in the first week of November. The area estimated to under rabi crops seems too large.

The rainfall this year has also been sufficient, and the crops have not been damaged by insects.	The total area of the district, as given in the latest Bengal Administration Report, is 6,352 square miles. The outturn for Kishorganj seems to have been overestimated, as, like Tangail, the rainfall throughout the season was much below the normal. The area under mustard seems to be over-estimated. This figure would more correctly represent the outturn for Chandpur than that now given, as the crop must have been affected by the heavy rain which fell during the time of sowing and weeding.

ADMINISTRATIVE SETTLEMENT REPORT OF THE DIRECTOR OF LAND RECORDS AND AGRICULTURE, BENGAL, FOR THE YEAR ENDING 30TH SEPTEMBER 1891.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT—LAND REVENUE.

Darjeeling, the 15th May 1892.

READ—

The Annual Report of the Director of the Department of Land Records and Agriculture, Bengal, for the year ending 30th September 1891.

In September 1891 the Lieutenant-Governor issued orders that in future the Director should furnish two settlement reports in the course of the year, viz., (I) financial, for the period from the 1st April to the 31st March, consisting of a brief, mainly statistical and financial, account of the progress of settlement work, and (II) administrative, for the period from the 1st October to 30th September, containing a full account of the progress of survey and settlement work in the Province. It was laid down that the latter report should ordinarily be due to the Board on the 15th November, and to the Local Government on the 15th December. As the Director was absent on privilege leave until early in November, punctual submission of the first report was not expected, but he was desired to prepare it as soon as possible after his return. Instructions were given in the Government Resolution of the 28th September 1891, on Mr. Finucane's annual report for the financial year 1890-91, with a view to the preparation of the report in the manner required by Government. The present report, which is the first Administrative Settlement Report furnished under the new system, is a great improvement on the reports previously laid before Government. It bears, however, so late a date as the 18th March 1892, and was not forwarded by the Board until the 14th April. The Lieutenant-Governor is aware that Mr. Finucane has been constantly on tour since his return from leave, and it appears that he has been unable to obtain the material required by him from the Deputy Surveyor-General and several of the Settlement Officers. It is anything but satisfactory that the survey reports for Jalpaiguri, the Burdwan Raj khas mahals, Chittagong and Sarail, were not received by Mr. Finucane until the 11th to 30th of January although they referred to the survey year which ends on 30th September, and that no report was furnished for Orissa. His Honour trusts that, with the appointment of Colonel J. E. Sandeman as Director of Bengal Surveys, all such irregularities will cease. No explanation has been offered for the delay in the local settlement reports. Sir Charles Elliott is willing to make due allowance for the change of system, and he agrees with Mr. Finucane in hoping that, timely notice having been given of what is required, the difficulties lately encountered will disappear, and that the next annual report will be submitted on the prescribed date.

2. Mr. Finucane has followed an intelligent order in dealing consecutively with (1) Government estates and temporarily-settled tracts, which are necessarily the most important settlement operations from a revenue point of view, (2) Wards' estates, and (3) private estates. In accordance with the orders on his last annual report, the Director has placed his account of the Orissa, Chittagong and Jalpaiguri settlements in the forefront of his report. Apart from the special position to be assigned to the Orissa, Chittagong and Jalpaiguri operations, Government also desired that an intelligent geographical order should be adopted both as regards the civil divisions and the districts and estates in those divisions. These instructions appear to have escaped notice, for the order observed has been as follows :—

(1) Government estates.		(2) Wards' estates.		(3) Private estates.
Division.	District.	Division.	Estate.	Division.	District.
Dacca ..	Backergunge.	Burdwan ...	Burdwan Raj Khas Mahals.	Burdwan ...	Midnapore.
Chittagong	Tippera.			Ditto ...	Birbhum.
Ditto ...	Noakhali.	Bhágalpur .	Srinagar-Banaili.	Rajshahi ...	Dubalhati (Rajshahi).
Dacca ...	Dacca.	Dacca ...	Dakhin Shahbázpur.	Chittagong	Tippera.
Burdwan ...	Midnapore.			Bhágalpur	Sonthal Parganas.
Presidency	Nadia.	Chittagong	Sarail (Tippera).
		Orissa ...	Kujong and Kanika.

It is evident that geographical order has not been carefully or consistently maintained, and the Lieutenant-Governor trusts that it will not be necessary to again repeat his orders on this point. The appendices have been properly totalled as desired by Government.

3. Orissa.—The Survey Department, as already mentioned, has furnished no report of its work in Orissa. But it appears that 361 square miles were cadastrally surveyed by the end of September 1890, and 687 square miles between that date and the end of September 1891, total 1,048 square miles. The total expenditure on the survey is stated to have been Rs. 2,19,031, or just Rs. 209 a square mile. This is a considerable increase on the rate, Rs. 165 per square mile, previously reported. It is mentioned that Mr. Patterson, the survey officer, unfortunately overlooked the survey rule which requires parchas or jamabandi slips to be given to the raiyats at the time of survey; also the errors and inaccuracies of the khasras prepared by the Survey Department delayed the work of attestation, and even now the records of all the villages measured by Mr. Patterson before last rains have not all been sent in. With regard to these and other matters which have come to his notice, the Lieutenant-Governor thinks it right to put on record his opinion that Mr. Patterson was entirely unfit for the position in which he was placed by the Survey Department, and that a hopeless block would have ensued had that officer not left Orissa, and had Colonel Sandeman not come in to set matters straight. Mr. H. R. Reily was in charge of the settlement since he joined on 16th February 1891 to the end of the year under report. He was assisted by Mr. Walsh, a Civilian of experience, Mr. Ambica Charan Sen, Mr. Tahiruddin Ahmed, and Mr. Baroda Charan Mitra, Statutory Civilians, Babus Hurish Chandra Roy and Chaku Lal Sarkar, besides others who from ill-health or other causes did not remain long in the Department. There were six circles and nine Assistant Settlement Officers in charge of them at different times, who were, it is said, in the field on an average 63 days each. This information would have been more valuable if the time during which they were on duty had also been mentioned. In future the Director should state for each officer the number of days (a) on duty, (b) on leave, c) on tour. The six circles have lately, i.e., in March 1892, been re-arranged under eight officers. The demarcation work has been transferred to the Survey Department. Up to 30th September the status of 29,190 tenants was determined and their rents recorded, and 138,042 plots were attested over an area of 83,752 acres. Jamabandi slips are now being distributed by the Survey Department, and it is hoped that in future each officer will be able to attest daily many more than 600 plots, which is the standard of work laid down, and to some extent attained, in Chittagong. No rents were settled and no land revenue assessed. Out of the 464 patwáris in Orissa, 277 were trained in survey, but their work is found to be more expensive than that of amíns. Arrangements have been made also for the utilization of the kánungos as required. The expenditure on settlement during the portion of the year ending 30th September 1891, during which the work was in progress, was Rs. 45,598.

The survey and settlement of Banki, in Cuttack, were completed before March 1891, at an average cost of 7 annas and 10 pies per acre. The estimate for a non-professional survey and for settlement was Rs. 1,64,411 for the 76,800 acres of the estate: the actual cost of a professional survey has been Rs. 25,097 and of the settlement Rs. 12,598, total Rs. 37,695, the increase of revenue obtained being Rs. 7,974. The final report of the proceedings has not yet been received. The Lieutenant-Governor has already characterised this delay as very unsatisfactory; a full explanation will be required from the Settlement Officer.

4. Chittagong.—Mr. Slack was in charge of the operations till the 11th of July, and Mr. C. G. H. Allen for the rest of the year under report. They were assisted by Mr. Atul Krishna Rai (for one month only), Babu Durga Charan Ghose, Babu Romesh Chunder Das, as Assistant Settlement Officers. The demarcation of the Sadar sub-division was completed with the exception of the hilly portions, the work done comprising 465 villages. The cadastral survey of 380 square miles had been accomplished by September 1890, and during the season under report 348 square miles were done, besides 112 square miles of topographical work. After September 1891 534 square miles of cadastral and 252 of new topographical survey remained, besides some important traverse work. Arrangements have been made to accelerate the rate of progress. Since the 1st January 1891 the work of preparing the records required for attestation in the Sadar sub-division has been made over to the Settlement Department. The records of 212 villages with an area of 205 square miles were handed over for settlement work. The Khanapuri of 477,682 plots was completed, and the entries regarding 306,463 plots were revised. In the Sadar sub-division the status of 33,679 tenants was determined and their existing rents were recorded. No fair-rent decisions were passed, and no land revenue was assessed. A scheme has been sanctioned for strengthening and utilising the khas tahsil establishment for the maintenance of the records.

In Old Thána Ramu the survey had been completed by September 1890. The settlement work was mainly conducted by Babu Jogendra Kumar Bose, who completed the attestation, dealing with the lands of 15,389 tenants, disposed of 558 original suits and 1,062 objections, and passed eight fair-rent decisions. Fair-rent decisions have been passed in 43 of the 50 villages in Ramu. Soil class maps are now in preparation and statements of the revenue assessable on the average soil class rates are being drawn up. The settlement expenditure amounted, during the year, to Rs. 58,892 in the Sadar and Rs. 15,389 in Ramu, the cost of the survey being Rs. 1,32,540 in the Sadar sub-division. A reasonable standard of work expected from each amín and Assistant Settlement Officer has been drawn up in Chittagong, but from the monthly progress reports received, His Honour has reason to fear that the standard required is not attained.

5. Jalpaiguri.—By the end of the year under report 765 square miles had been cadastrally surveyed, being practically the whole of the area under settlement. Besides this 174 miles of forest and 61 of waste lands had been surveyed, leaving 290 of forest and 340 of waste lands for the survey work of the current year. The records of 3,430 jotes were made over to the Settlement Officer. An area of 162,063 acres in 3,507 jotes in the Mainaguri tahsil was assessed during the year, giving an increase of Rs. 36,210 revenue, but the revised assessment has not been finally passed by the Commissioner. Mr. Sunder was in charge throughout the year, and was on tour for 217 days. He records the constant struggles of his subordinates with fever; he has at different times had five assistants, but the climate of the Duars has necessitated several changes among them. The three men last appointed have been employed in pargana Moraghat in collecting information preparatory to the settlement of the rates on jotes in the Falakata tahsil. It is unsatisfactory to find that some of the later records of the Survey Department were so carelessly prepared that they had to be returned for revision. The increase of revenue, amounting to Rs. 60,000, expected in the Mainaguri tahsil, is chiefly due to the extension of cultivation on nearly every jote, to the recovery of the amount which was remitted seven years ago under the reduction scheme then advocated and apparently sanctioned under misapprehension, and to the application of the rates approved for this settlement. Considerable delay has been caused by the necessity of requiring the people to record the mutations of ownership and to pay the fees due on this account. The cost of the survey during the year is separately stated to have been Rs. 1,03,658 or Rs. 1,10,784. Such discrepancies should be cleared up before this annual report is laid before Government. The expenditure on settlement was Rs. 30,459.

6. The work done in the settlement operations in progress, other than the important proceedings mentioned in the preceding paragraphs, has been sufficiently summarized in the Director's report, to which reference may be made. As the details have been reviewed for the financial year 1890-91, it is not necessary, especially at this late date, to review them again. A very few observations only are now required. In future the Administrative Settlement Report for the year ending 30th September will be the main report of the year, and the principal comments of Government will be reserved for the Resolution on it. The Srinagar-Banaili settlement, which has been completed, will shortly come under separate review. The Lieutenant-Governor understands that the dispute as to the standard of measurement in pargana Akberabad in the Malda district has been settled ex parte. In Backergunge there were 27 Government estates under settlement under the Tenancy Act, and up to the close of the year under report the proceedings had cost Rs. 30,015. The Director does not mention the enhanced revenue to be set against this expenditure, but from the statements furnished by the Collector of Backergunge it appears that an increase of revenue to the amount of Rs. 5,639 has already been obtained from seven of the villages, i.e., estates, and that a total increase of Rs. 25,114 is expected from the 27 estates. An explanation has been given of the discrepancies noticed in paragraph 11 of the Government Resolution of the 28th September 1891 in the number of estates under settlement. It is a matter for satisfaction that the compromise accepted by the Manager and the raiyats in Sujamutha has been worked out and brought into effect. The Lieutenant-Governor concurs with the Director that the number of days spent on tour by the Settlement Officer, Dwijendra Lall Roy, viz. 65, in spite of the orders repeatedly given to him to go into every village and dispose of objections on the spot, was utterly inadequate. The Manager of the Burdwan Raj will be informed of the want of co-operation on the part of the Raj officials which has entailed delay and extra expense.

7. The total area of Government estates and temporarily-settled tracts under survey and settlement during the year was 9,090 square miles, of which 2,381 miles had been surveyed prior to, and 1,397 miles were surveyed during, the year under report, total 3,778 square miles; the total expenditure on survey and settlement from the beginning of the operations to the end of the year being Rs. 13,04,875, and the increase of revenue actually obtained being Rs. 1,10,078, or 8·44 per cent. on the outlay. This amount does not represent anything like the increase that will be obtained when the settlement operations are completed in Chittagong, Orissa, and Jalpaiguri, which are expected to yield an increase of revenue, amounting to about eight lakhs of rupees in addition to what has been actually obtained. The total area of wards' estates under settlement is 2,226 square miles, of which 1,945 square miles had been surveyed prior to, and 50 square miles were surveyed during, the year under report, total 1,995 square miles; the increase of rental actually obtained amounted to 6·96 per cent. on the outlay. The total area of private permanently-settled estates under survey and settlement was 815 square miles (inclusive of the Sonthal Parganas estates), the increase of rental obtained being 42·49 per cent. on the outlay.

From a revenue point of view, these results may be considered to be satisfactory. There has nowhere been any serious opposition to the proceedings, nor has any serious dissatisfaction with the results been expressed, on the part of either the landlords or tenants concerned.

8. Sir Charles Elliott agrees with the Board that much labour has been bestowed on the preparation of the Director's report, and that valuable financial results will be obtained from the operations under notice. He has had occasion more than once to state the importance which he attaches to surveys and settlements on administrative and statistical grounds, and his views are corroborated by everything that comes before him, especially in a Province dominated, as Bengal is, by the permanent settlement. The work done by Mr. Finucane in supervising the Settlement Department again merits the acknowledgments of Government.

ORDER—Ordered that the Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

Ordered, also, that a copy of the Resolution be submitted to the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department for information, and that a copy be forwarded to the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces, for information and guidance.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

C. E. BUCKLAND,
Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

Explanation.—.....indicate that no rain has fallen. If the return for any day has not been received, the corresponding space is left blank. If any of the returns a wanting, the corresponding spaces in the total rainfall columns are left blank. With reference to the column of rainy days, the definition of a rainy day is when at le 0·1 inch of rain has fallen.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h, and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE WEEK ENDING 8 A.M., SATURDAY, THE 14TH OF MAY 1892.

THE meteorological conditions in Bengal at the close of the previous week were distinctly disturbed, and local storms with rain were occurring in Assam and in East and North and part of Central Bengal. The meteorological changes which took place from the 7th to the 8th instant, or the first day of the present week, rather increased the disturbance, for pressure fell moderately to rapidly over the whole province, the fall being largest at the western stations, and a very shallow low-pressure area may be said to have existed over part of Bihár and Western Bengal on this day. On the morning of the 8th, therefore, the majority of stations, except those in Bihár and Chota Nagpur and parts of Orissa, reported moderate to heavy rain which had fallen during local storms. Conditions remained practically unaltered on the 9th and 10th, and pressure continued unusually low over the whole province; but on the 11th and 12th the changes of pressure became small, though it continued to fall over the whole province, and it became generally from a sixth to an eighth of an inch below the normal of the day. A reaction then set in, and pressure rose rapidly on the 13th, the rise in the north of the province being very large, and at Purnea equalling 0·153″. The changes in different districts were, however, of very unequal amount, showing that the atmosphere was still in a very disturbed state. A further small rise took place over a considerable part of the province on the 14th, and though pressure still remained slightly to moderately below the normal, yet the general conditions became gradually more settled than they had been. Hence from the beginning of the week up to about the 13th local storms with rain were rather numerous in all districts except in Orissa, Bihar, and Chota Nagpur, and on the evening of the 13th, in particular, some very heavy local storms took place which gave heavy rain over parts of South Bengal; but from the 14th, or the last day of the week, the number of local storms became considerably smaller than they had been previously.

Another noticeable feature in the meteorology of the week has been the setting in of decidedly strong winds in the extreme south of the Bay at the Ceylon stations, and it was evident that from about the 10th instant, an advance of strong south-westerly monsoon winds was taking place over this area.

Pressure.—The mean pressure for the week has been rather largely in defect of the normal. Defects of about a tenth of an inch and upwards have been registered at Motihari, Dehri, Buxar, Gaya, Bankipore, Bankura, Raniganj, and Berhampore, but generally the defects have been rather smaller than this, and range from 0·06″ to 0·08″. The mean defect for the whole province will, however, average about 0·09″.

Temperature.—Has again been rather largely in excess of the normal over a considerable part of the province. The excess has equalled the unusually large amount of 9·2° at the Chota Nagpur stations; in South Bihár it has equalled nearly five and-a-half degrees, and in Orissa and North-West Bengal it has been between 4° and 5°. On the other hand, owing to the rather plentiful rainfall in East and North Bengal, the mean temperatures there have been below the normal by small amounts. For the whole of Bengal the mean temperature for the week has been 3·2° in excess of the normal. In Assam, on the other hand, there has been a defect of 2·1.°

Rainfall.—An average amount of more than four inches of rain has fallen in East Bengal, which is about two and-a-half inches in excess of the normal. North Bengal has received nearly three inches of rain, or about an inch and-a-half more than the normal. South-West Bengal has received an inch and-a-third, or nearly half an inch in excess, while in North Bihár the fall is about four-tenths of an inch, or slightly below the normal fall. Over the remainder of the province rainfall has been practically absent.

These falls have, however, been unequally distributed, and notwithstanding the large excess generally shown in East and North Bengal, the districts of Noakhali, Rajshahi, and Maida have received comparatively small amounts of rain, and while South-West Bengal generally has had good rain, Bankura and parts of Birbhum have had practically no rain. In North Bihár also the districts which have received practically little or no rain are Muzaffarpur, Darbhanga, Champaran, and Saran.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Saturday, the 14th of May 1892:—

INDIAN OCEAN—SEYCHELLES BANK.

Shallow water on the western edge.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 157 of 1892) that a recent examination of the western edge of the Seychelles bank conducted by Lieutenant and Commander Smyth, H.M. surveying vessel Stork, shows that a nearly continuous rim, of more or less shallow water, extends from Bird island to beyond the western point of the bank.

As it is evident that dangerously shoal spots may exist in many parts of this rim, besides those already known, ships should avoid crossing it north of the fifth parallel of south latitude. Southward of this parallel there is, according to the scanty information existing apparently a break in the rim.

Alterations in buoyage, &c.—Bombay harbour.

NOTICE to Mariners, No. 137 of 1892, issued by the British Admiralty, is republished :—

The following information, dated 1st March 1892, relative to alterations in buoyage, &c., in Bombay harbour, has been received from Lieutenant and Commander H. Preedy, H. M. S. Redbreast :—

1. The depth over Raleigh rock has been reported to be increased by blasting to 26 feet, and the buoy previously marking this danger has therefore been withdrawn.

2. A buoy named Third Troopship buoy has been moored with South beacon bearing W. ⅛ S., and Dolphin light-house N. by W. ¾ W., distant 3 cables.

3. Flagstaff shoal buoy has been moved about three-quarters of a cable eastward of its previous position, and now lies in about 23 feet water.

4. North patch buoy will be withdrawn on 1st May 1892, as the least depth for about 2 cables inside it is now 10 feet.

NOTE.—Quarantine anchorage in Bombay harbour is now defined as follows :—By an imaginary line drawn from Prongs light-house through Sunk rock light-house, and at the distance of 1¼ to 2 miles from the last named light-house, in depths of 32 to 36 feet, with Dolphin light-house bearing from N.W. to W.N.W.

The depths given are at low water spring tides.
